FORT STORY CO TAKING NEW POST

Col. Smith, Fort Story Commander, Leaves For New Assignment

Col. Arthur W. Smith, commanding officer of Fort Story since March 13, 1950, has received orders transferring him to the New York Port of Embarkation, where he will take up duties as Inspector General. Colonel Smith left Fort Story October 1, and following a two-week leave, will report to assume new duties.

On Wednesday, September 24, his entire command joined in a ceremonial parade to bid farewell to their commander. The 321st Army Band from Fort Eustis was on hand, and following the review of the troops, played "Auld Lang Syne" and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" in honor of the occasion.

On hand to extend their good wishes were Mayor Patrick F. Murray of Virginia Beach and City Manager Philip Ancell, Rev. Nicholas J. Habets, from Virginia Beach's Star of the Sea Catholic Church, was also present.

The colonel, a native of Lynn, Mass., and the father of two boys and two girls, is married to the former Louise Martin. One son is presently confined to an air force hospital in Oklahoma, recuperating from major surgery. Colonel Smith plans to visit him during his leave.

Colonel Smith has been on active duty since 1941, when he was called from the Reserve. He was, at that time, a member of the Massachusetts National Guard, and the proprietor of an electrical contracting firm. A veteran of overseas service in two wars, he saw service during the Mexican Border Dispute, and World Wars I and II. In World War I, he was a member of the 26th Infantry Division in France. Between 1942 and 1947, he saw overseas duty in Iceland, England and Germany. He holds several decorations, including the Bronze Star Medal, the Mexican Border Campaign Medal, the World War I and II Victory Medals, the American Defense Medal, the American Theater Medal, and the German Occupation Medal.

During Colonel Smith's two and one-half years stay at Fort Story, the training and recreational facilities of the post have been expanded and improved until today Fort Story, in proportion to its size, is as complete an installation as many much larger camps. Relations with neighboring Virginia Beach have been steadily improved and cemented until today Fort Story and Virginia Beach are almost as one large city.

Brig. Gen. Harold R. Duffie, commanding general of Fort Eustis, of which Fort Story is a sub-installation, will announce a permanent replacement at a later date.

Stanton Blasts Socialistic Trend

On the eve of the opening of the annual convention of the National Parking Association, B. M. Stanton, of Virginia Beach, president of the national body, blasted the socialist tendency of local government to enter the off-street parking field in cities throughout the United States.

The annual meeting of the association opened in Cincinnati Wednesday, and Stanton gave a prevue to the program it intends to follow prior to his departure from Virginia Beach.

Stanton, in his statement on the convention program, stated the industry he represents is threatened severely by proponents of city-operated off-street parking facilities.

"Federal government philosophers and influences have now reached down to the local city level of government competition with private enterprise," he declared.

Mrs. Digges To Head New P-TA Group

A lively meeting was held Monday night, September 22, in the cafeteria of the new Virginia Beach High School, when parents and teachers met for the purpose of organizing a Parent Teacher Association in the new facility.

Despite distractions from certain sources, a well-grounded organization was perfected under the chairmanship of Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, retiring president of the W. T. Cooke P-T A, who served temporarily in the chair.

Mrs. Holmes introduced James A. Johnston, principal of the school, and Mr. Johnson introduced the 24 faculty members. He announced the enrollment of 250 students in the high school, with 385 in the lower grades, which comprise three classes in each grade from the fifth through the eighth. There are two classes each of the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades. No seniors, or 12th grade students, will be in attendance until the fall of 1953, and June, 1954, will witness the first graduation exercises.

Elected by unanimous vote to fill the first term offices in the new association were Mrs. Reid Digges, president; Andrew T. Moore, vice-president; Mrs. Hugh Winters, recording secretary; Allen Tyler, treasurer; Mrs. H. F. Fentress, corresponding secretary, and the Rev. Robert P. Davis, parliamentarian.

The group has set a goal of 100% membership and plans to have room parties as each grade reaches its full membership. First to announce realization of the 100% membership was Mrs. Janet Patterson's seventh grade. To date there is a total of approximately 400 paid members.

Next scheduled meeting for the P-T A group is announced for Monday, October 20, at 8 p. m., at which time committee chairmen will be announced and plans formulated for the year's work. All parents of students in the school are urged and invited to attend.

Sgt. Struncius Attending Police Institute

Chief Reeves E. Johnson has announced that he received a telegram informing him that the application for Sgt. F. W. Struncius to attend the fall term of the Southern Police Institute at the University of Louisville, Ky., has been accepted by the Institute's Board of Selectors.

Sergeant Struncius left here Friday, September 26, and started training Monday, September 29, with 24 other officers of law enforcement representing the following 13 states: Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Wisconsin. One other officer from Virginia will attend the Institute. He is Capt. W. H. Mays of the Danville Police Department.

The Southern Police Institute was established to meet a growing need for higher training for police officers. The first term opened January 3, 1951, under David A. McCandless as its director and Roland LeSoule as assistant director. In the year and a half since the opening of the Institute, five terms have been held and 113 officers from 18 states have graduated and received certificates.

Training in the Southern Police Institute combines instruction with practical work. A total of 420 hours of instruction are given in the courses, some of which are Socio - Legal Problems of the Southern Region, Human Behavior, Police Organization and Administration, Criminal Law, Evidence and Procedure, Scientific Aids to Investigations, Police Combat Methods and Safety Techniques, Traffic, Juvenile Delinquency, and many others relating to law enforcement.

The instructions are given by outstanding lecturers from Northwestern University School of Law, Illinois State Division of Correction, Director of Michigan Crime Detection Laboratory, Traffic Institute of Northwestern University, Yale University School of Law, Chicago Crime Commission, New York Institute of Criminology, and many others.

Since 1949 Chief Johnson states that he has found the need of sending his officers to schools other than those his department had been holding each year, with the assistance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for more extensive and advanced training in all fields of law enforcement.

Rev. Cecil Franks Conducts Revival At London Bridge

The Rev. Cecil H. Franks

The Rev. Cecil H. Franks will be the guest preacher at the revival services to be held at the London Bridge Baptist Church beginning Monday, October 6, and continuing through Sunday, October 12. Services will be held each evening beginning at eight o'clock. Theme for the meeting will be: "Christ is the Answer."

The Rev. Mr. Franks is pastor of the Lee Boulevard Baptist Church, at Falls Church. He is a native of Tennessee and a graduate of Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Texas.

One of the features of the revival series will be a "children's period" at the beginning of each service. It was announced also that a nursery for small children will be available for the convenience of parents at each service.

The Rev. G. Edward Hughes, pastor of the London Bridge Baptist Church cordially extends an invitation to the public to attend all these special services.

BIBLE CLASS PLANS BAKE GOODS SALE

The Dawson Bible Class of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church will have a bake sale Saturday, October 4, beginning at 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. W. A. Litchfield, Atlantic avenue and 29th St.

The three attractive ladies above will model clothes in the fashion prevue being sponsored by the Woman's Circle of the Star of the Sea Catholic Church on October 15. The show will be held in the parish house. The models are, left to right, Mrs. Dawson Taylor, Mrs. Montieth Howard and Mrs. Hugh Owens. (Photo by Boice)

Little Theatre Selects Cast for Farce Comedy

The casting committee of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre has agreed upon a group of local actors to bring "Brighten the Corner," a farce - comedy by John Cecil Holm, to the boards as the initial offering of the 1952-53 season. The play, to be presented on October 28 and 29, will feature the following players:

Jeri Carson .... Bernice Johnson
Neil Carson .... Bobby Addenbrook
Dell Marshall .... Anne Henry
Jeffrey Q. Talbot ... Ray Sparenberg
Townsend Marshall ... Bill Lockhard
Delivery Girl .... Louise Weichel
Officer Robertson .... Ernest Posey
Mrs. McElhenney .... Martha Hofheimer

The production department under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Henry met at the Little Theatre workshop last night in order to become acquainted with new volunteers for backstage work. Mrs. Henry wishes to stress the fact that anyone interested in this phase of theatrical activity will be welcome at any time. Some of the committees under production are costume, make-up, lighting, sound effects, props, and stage carpentry.

Real Auction at Tobacco Festival

An authentic tobacco auction will be included in the events of the Fourth Annual Tobacco Festival, in Richmond, October 16-18. The auction, an innovation in Festival history, will take place during the pre-game show at City Stadium, Saturday, October 18.

Festival officials have written the sponsors of the Princesses coming to the Festival, asking them to send in 100 pounds of tobacco. Participating tobacco companies will send in buyers.

In line with civic sponsorship of the Festival, as begun last year, city tobacco men are pitching in to contribute their time and facilities. The tobacco will be stored at the John Blair tobacco storage warehouse. W. L. Hazell, of the Shockoe warehouse, is undertaking the bookkeeping and clerical end of the auction.

Every effort is being made to keep the auction authentic. Government graders will be on hand to inspect the baskets of tobacco and tag them according to type. The auctioneer and owners of the tobacco will be lined on one side of the baskets, with the buyers facing them. A public address system will be set up so that the proceedings can be heard in all parts of the stadium.

PMA Committeemen Explain Practices

The Production and Marketing Administration has 25 community committeemen in the field this week explaining the 1953 agricultural conservation program to Princess Anne County farmers and discussing with them the conservation practices for the coming year.

Each of these committeemen has been assigned a certain number of farms to be visited between now and December 1, the date by which the ACP sign-up campaign is to be completed, R. W. Lane, chairman of the PMA county committee states. Mr. Lane issued the following list of PMA committeemen who will work on the job and the community in which each will operate:

Kempsville community: W. W. Oliver, Jr., N. Clark Fleming, B. L. Ferrell, Richard Krahenbill and J. G. Petree.

Lynnhaven community: J. W. Potter, J. H. Trant, J. A. Broughton, A. J. Croonenberghs and Carl M. Rau.

Seaboard community: Joe Hershberger, Jr., Russell A. Brown, Cameron Munden, B. A. Manning and A. P. Broughton.

Pungo community: Russell Dudley, Wilbert Spence, F. E. Bonney, Marion G. Bright and Irvin Vaughan.

Blackwater community: John A. Baum, Ralph Frost, Frank Borovich, E. W. McClain and M. L. Dozier.

These community committeemen were chosen by farmers in the annual PMA elections held August 29. They recently attended a training school to prepare them for the job now being undertaken, with the assistance of professional workers in the county.

CITY AND CofC END TIFF; PLAN FOR BRIGHT FUTURE

More than 100 members of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night in the Community House and discussed plans to revise the organization's constitution and by-laws and heard future promotional plans of the organization.

At the very outset of the meeting presided over by John H. Bell, president, a joint statement signed by Mayor P. F. Murray and Bell was read which revealed that financial matters between the Chamber and the City had been resolved. The statement read as follows:

"The differences between the undersigned in Chamber of Commerce matters have been resolved." No further explanation was given.

Following the meeting it was explained that agreement was reached on Monday at an executive board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at which city officials were present.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night was marked by a spirit of cooperation and optimism for the future of Virginia Beach.

Several matters pertinent to the operation of the Chamber of Commerce came under discussion. Leo Hoarty, managing director, explained the need for a change in the Chamber's fiscal year and operating year. It was voted to re-write the constitution and by-laws and submit the new regulations to the membership at a later date.

Hoarty also told the group that several goodwill tours will visit Virginia Beach next month and urged the members to join the greeting parties to help boost Virginia Beach.

President Bell announced that the membership of the Chamber now stands at 290 and that the membership committee would continue to recruit new members.

Settling of the differences between the City and the Chamber and the announcement Tuesday night created an air of cooperation long lacking in Chamber of Commerce meetings.

The controversy between the Mayor and the Chamber originally grew out of Bell's having been "one of 14 signers" of a petition filed in Princess Anne County Circuit Court in August seeking to oust Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and Princess Anne County Sheriff C. Roger Malbon.

An unofficial source revealed that the major portion of the Chamber's advertising bills had already been paid by the city from the funds appropriated for advertising in the city's budget. The funds previously withheld by the City from the Chamber totaled $16,500.

Plans Made for Rescue Squad Open House

Sunday, October 19, has been tentatively selected by the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad as the date for Open House. On that day during the afternoon the public will be invited to visit the squad's quarters on Arctic avenue and look over the facilities and equipment which enabled the group to make 350 rescue calls since May 1.

Squad members will be on hand to demonstrate the equipment and answer questions concerning operation of the unit.

Mayor Proclaims Aid Handicapped Week at Beach

Proclamation

WHEREAS, by a joint resolution, the Congress of the United States approved and desigated the first week in October of each year as National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week; and

WHEREAS, for the eighth consecutive year, public support for and interest in the employment of otherwise qualified but physically handicapped workers is being urged; and

WHEREAS, thousands of these workers have already demonstrated that handicaps are not an insurmountable barrier to efficient and productive labor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, P. F. Murray, Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach, do set aside and proclaim the week of October 5th to 11th, 1952, inclusive, as and urge all men of business and industry to make a conscientious effort to employ disabled veterans and other handicapped citizens wherever their abilities will suffice to do the job equally well as a non-handicapped worker.

EMPLOY THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED WEEK

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 23rd day of September, 1952, and have caused the seal of the City of Virginia Beach to be affixed hereto.

(Signed)

P. F. MURRAY,
Mayor.

In conjunction with the proclamation, Mayor Murray said: "I urge all employers to consider physically handicapped workers for (Continued on page 3)

OPS Authorizes Coal Price Hike

Retail coal dealers have been authorized to increase their ceilings on coal and other solid fuels by 25 to 35 cents per ton, the Office of Price Stabilization has announced. The increases were granted after a survey showed coal retailers' earnings were below the minimum set in the OPS industry earnings standard.

The standard was adopted by OPS to carry out the requirements of the Defense Production Act that ceilings be generally fair and equitable. It provides that an industry may apply for relief if its earnings fall below 85 per cent of its earnings, based on net worth, during the best three years in the 1946-1949 period.

The new ceilings are prescribed in Amendment 7 to Supplementary Regulation 2 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (GCPR), effective October 1, 1952.

The amendment authorizes retailers to increase their ceilings by the following amounts:

Anthracite, 35 cents per net ton.
Bituminous, 25 cents per net ton.
Other solid fuels, 30 cents per net ton.

Solid fuels include lignite, coke, briquets and packaged fuel made from coke, or coal, and [illegible] coal used for foundry facings.

The earnings survey [illegible] dealers who primarily sell [illegible] cite and are located [illegible] Atlantic seaboard [illegible] reduction in earnings [illegible] whose sales are [illegible] bituminous coal.

Oceana Church Having Concert

The Scott Memorial Methodist Church of Oceana will sponsor a concert Monday night, October 6, at eight o'clock at the church. The people will consist of renditions by local church groups and outstanding soloists and will offer much in the way of variety. While the program is not as yet complete, it is announced that Prichard Cook, director of a choir in Norfolk, will have his well-known group present and they will present the following numbers: "Could Ye Not Watch With Me," from Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion," with Clifton Carter as soloist; "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," by Ippolitof, to be sung a capello, and "Exultate," by Gounod, with Prichard Cook as soloist.

Other numbers to be featured will be "Hark, Hark, My Soul," by Hugo Shelley, to be sung by the Eastern Shore Episcopal Church choir under the direction of J. E. Beattie; and a number by the Presbyterian Church choir, with Mrs. Charles Hitchings, accompanist; several piano numbers by William Miller, director of the Virginia Beach Methodist choir and teacher of music at the new Beach high school; "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod, sung by Mrs. Earle Van Buskirk, of the Galilee Episcopal Church; vocal selections by Miss Clavon McGrath and Harold Baker, of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church, with Mrs. Kennard Ford as accompanist; "The Stranger of Galilee," a solo sung by Miss Joan Sterling, who will join with Miss Louise Clayton, of Portsmouth in a duet, "Face to Face."

Further musical numbers will include two accordion solos by Miss Gayle Zydron, of Norfolk, and "The Lord's Prayer," by B. T. Baker, a member of the Scott Memorial choir.

Boyd Harrier, of the WTAR staff, will be master of ceremonies.

The committee in charge of the concert comprises Mrs. R. H. Owen, chairman; Mrs. S. B. Myers, Mrs. Irvin Upson and Clarence Day. C. F. Kuhn is organist for the adult choir, and Mrs. Upson is pianist for the Youth Fellowship group. The choir is directed by Mrs. L. M. Wilcox.

The Rev. William E. Rainey, pastor of Scott Memorial Church, extends a most cordial invitation to all who like good music to attend. The offering will be used to further the musical program of the church.

Deaths

Joseph Edward Land

Joseph Edward Land, 56, son of the late Charles Thomas and Sarah Frances Moore Land, died at his residence, Beach Grove, Princess Anne County, Sunday at 1:30 p. m. He was a lifelong resident of Princess Anne County and was a member of Beach Grove Methodist Church.

He is survived by a brother, William H. Land, of Back Bay; three sisters, Mrs. Mary J. West and Miss Lucy L. Land, of Princess Anne, and Mrs. Eva Land Lane, of Norfolk.

The body was taken from the Hollomon-Brown Funeral Home to Beach Grove Methodist Church for services Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial was in Willowwood Cemetery.

L. N. Rogers

L. N. Rogers, 62, of Richmond died Tuesday night after a long illness. He was a native of Huntington, W. Va. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. J. Roy Alprin, Virginia Beach, and Mrs. William Trice, Richmond.

The body was taken to the Bilsky Funeral Home, 300 E. Marshall street, Richmond, where funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. Burial will be in the Forest Lawn Memorial Cemetery in Richmond.

Council of Church Women Meet

The annual meeting of the Princess Anne County Council of Church Women was held at Hopewood Methodist Church, Bayside, September 26 at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Alfred L. Nicholson, president, presiding.

Mrs. R. W. Shelton welcomed the council to Hopewood, the host church of the meeting. Mrs. H. M. Woodward led the devotions.

The Princess Anne County Council of Church Women was formed in February of this year. Its purpose is "To unite church women in allegiance to their Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, through a program looking to their integration in the total life and work of the church and to the building of a world Christian community. To provide an opportunity for Christian worship, fellowship and service across denominational lines."

Princess Anne County is fortunate in having in her midst Mrs. Joseph Deal, president of the Virginia Council of Church Women, and Mrs. H. M. Woodward who is one of the four area directors.

The next meeting of the Council will be held at Galilee Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach, November 7, World Community Day. A special program is being arranged in observance of World Community Day.

Part-Time Farming Increasing In Virginia

Part-time farming may be the answer for you if you have or want a town or city job but still like "life in the country."

F. D. Chastain, Jr., of VPI, says the trend toward part-time farming is on the upswing. Part-time farmers, however, do not include those who live in the country but produce little if any farm products for sale. Neither do they include those who depend on the farm for a living but actually produce only for farm use.

Chastain lists three advantages of work after the regular "city" job is part-time farming: An additional income source, reduced cost of living over.

The main drawback is the extra by using products in the home, and the natural advantages of living in the country.

J. E. B. STUART

This great Confederate General was born at Taylorsville, in Patrick County, February 6, 1833. The town, in 1864, changed its name to Stuart in honor of him. General Stuart having interposed his cavalry between the army of General Philip Sheridan and Richmond, was wounded during a second attack by the Federals. He was shot by a dismounted cavalryman and taken to Richmond, where he died on the following day.

Chesapeake Beach Fire Dept. To Benefit From Chicken-Ham Dinner

By Addie Meekle

The Volunteer Fire Department of Chesapeake Beach will be the beneficiaries of the proceeds of the fried chicken and Smithfield ham supper to be served at the Chesapeake Beach Community House tomorrow (Friday) evening by Mrs. W. J. Slade and a corps of helpers.

An inside tip to this reporter says that either the luscious ham or home fried chicken may be had with potato salad, green beans, pickles, olives, hot rolls and apple pie, all for a dollar. Children served at half price. Oh where are our bobby sox?

If you can't get there, or are just too darned lazy to get out, you may call Mrs. S. R. Robishaw at Norfolk 63-0063 before five in the afternoon and the meal will be delivered to your door.

Serving begins at 6:30 o'clock, Mrs. Slade reports. She is public affairs department chairman of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach.

SEASHORE STATE PARK TO CLOSE THIS WEEK

Seashore State Park will close after this Sunday for the winter, according to J. C. Lindsey, superintendent.

Lindsey revealed that the past summer was the most successful in the park's history, with some 25,000 automobiles visiting the grounds. He stated that June and July were the most popular months.

This past June the police department identification officer, Sgt. R. K. Halstead, completed a course and graduated from the FBI National Academy.

Sergeant Struncius is assigned in charge of the day street patrol and has worked his second tour of employment with the Virginia Beach Department since 1947. He has had special training in fingerprinting at Norfolk Police School, yearly schools conducted by Chief Johnson and the Federau Bureau of Investigation within the department. He is one of the nine officers completing training at the Virginia Central Police School and this past season he was sent to the school held for police sergeant training at the Norfolk Police Department.

Sergeant Struncius married a local girl, Helen Flanagan, while he was serving in the United States Army during the past war. After being honorably discharged from the Armed Service he made his home here at Virginia Beach.

Building Program Planned by C&P

Expenditures of $3,601,000 for improvement and expansion of telephone facilities to meet growing communications needs in the areas served by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia have been authorised by the board of directors of the company, bringing the total authorised for new telephone construction in Virginia thus far this year to $23,945,000. The major portion of the total approved at the board meeting, $3,075,000, will be allocated to projects involving expenditures for construction and replacement at Virginia locations.

The largest single appropriation was $277,000 for installation of additional dial equipment in Falls Church central office. $42,000 was allocated for installation of five additional toll switchboard positions in the Grace street office, Richmond. [illegible] was approved for additional equipment in the Blacksburg central office and the Chestnut center in Arlington. Expansion of equipment to provide additional service for personnel at military establishments was approved at a cost of $94,745.

THE DEEP CHANNEL

The story is told of the old days when the navigable channels of the Mississippi were not as well marked as today, and a man stepped up to the captain of a river steamer and asked for a job of piloting the ship.

"Need a pilot, all right," said the gruff captain. "Suppose you know where all the snags are."

"Nope," replied the applicant. "Don't know the location of a single snag."

"Then how in tarnation," queried the ship's master, "do you expect to pilot this ship?"

"Well, sir," the applicant is said to have replied, "I don't know where the snags are, but I do know the clear channels, and I expect that's where you want me to navigate."

It seems to us that this little story has a moral for every city and community . . . particularly for Virginia Beach.

We know that our community has its "snags," or drawbacks—what community does not? But the thing for us to do as a community, for the smooth sailing of our civic ship, is to steer clear of those snags and navigate in the clear, deep channel.

There has been a great "to-do" by members of a certain faction to draw attention to the "snags," and—by implication, at least—give the impression that our resort community is naught but a tangle of snags, and not a desirable place to either visit or in which to domesticate. That picture is sadly out of focus, as any of the thousands who visit here each year, and the other thousands who are proud to call Virginia Beach "home," are amply able to testify.

The Scriptures put it this way: "Whatsoever things are holy, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are of good repute . . . think on these things."

We do not for an instant believe that this passage from the sacred text would imply that we should forget all that is bad, and ugly, and wrong. Those things we should strive to correct. But, we should not concentrate on them to the extent of forgetting the good, the beautiful and the right.

"Count your blessings," the song says. Yes, count them. Count them as a community. Your visitor does. So does the new resident who has voluntarily selected Virginia Beach or some spot in its vicinity for his home. He sees the great preponderance of the good—and pitches in and helps to make that good better . . . for the advancement of his community and himself and his family.

We refuse to believe that a resort community which sees one of its amusement parks tearing out a large part of its facilities because petty games of chance are not tolerated, is the "den of iniquity" some would paint it. We refuse to believe that such a "cesspool of sin" would continue to draw to its bosom the good, responsible citizenry which constantly enriches our communal life by taking up permanent residence with us.

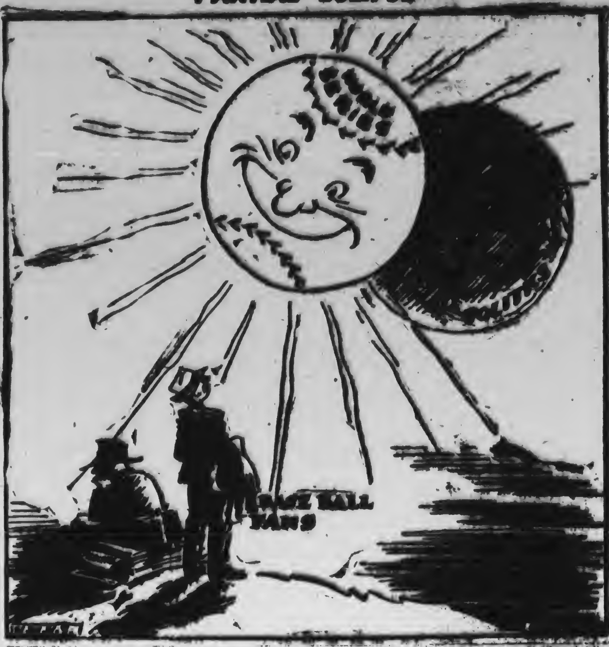

What draws the visitor and the new resident? First and foremost, of course, is our fine sand beach, now, because of excellent and far-sighted planning, being made the equal or superior of any on the Eastern Seaboard. Our matchless weather is another. But there are other things, more distinctly "man-made." There are our fine churches . . . the new Jewish synagogue, the fine Catholic church, even now planning expansion, the new Baptist house of worship, the rapidly expanding Methodist building program, the excellent facilities existing for the adherents of the Presbyterian, the Episcopal and other faiths. There are our schools, both in the county and in the city proper—exemplified by our fine new high school, which came after long and diligent planning by the good citizens and officials of our municipality. There are the excellent golf courses and country clubs and the like. There are the up-and-doing civic organizations—the Rotarians, the Lions, the Civitans. There are the Women's Clubs, Junior and Senior, ever on the alert to help community growth and progress. There is the Business and Prosessional Women's Club, working for both individual and civic good. There are the veterans' organizations, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their Auxiliaries, aiding and boosting each in its own way. There are the Garden Clubs, working diligently to make our city and county not only a better, but more beautiful, place to live. And . . .

There are our city and county officials, honest, hard-working, far-sighted men, planning constantly for the betterment of every citizen—new and old, and for the visitor as well. Many things they have planned over the years have seen fruition recently. The high school, the incorporation as a city, the restoration and extension of the sand beach, and countless less spectacular things, such as street improvements. Other plans are in the process of being realized, and realized they will be, each in its own time, as funds and facilities permit. Not unmindful of the "snags" which common sense tells them exist, but thinking ever of the clear channel, these men —despite harrassments and smears—are, with the help of the forward-looking and sane-thinking vast majority of our residents, piloting Virginia Beach to an ever expanding future, envisaging the constantly expanding horizons of community growth and betterment. It would ease their task immeasurably if the detractors would pause in their campaign of malignment and contemplate those things which are "holy, and pure, and of good repute."

Don't fly off the handle when someone calls you a fool. Stop and think . . . Maybe he's right!

Of all the labor-saving devices ever conceived to aid womanhood, the one she appreciates most is a wealthy husband.

PARTIAL ECLIPSE

THE RULES YOU KNOW

The experts are constantly on guard to save us from ourselves . . . from our bad habits, our lapses of memory, our little carelessnesses which can cause disaster.

The heedless go their merry way—sometimes luckily escaping the penalty for their folly . . . but the wise are grateful for the caution, and take steps accordingly to insure the safety of themselves, their families, their property.

A timely caution is Fire Prevention Week, October 5-11, which has its own unique and thought-provoking cautions.

Regardless of the proclamations, the parades, and the eye-appealing posters—all good to direct your attention to the hazards of fire—common sense is the final answer to fire prevention. The average householder knows the rules. Next week is set aside merely to recall that common sense to his mind, and cause him to act upon it. The old phrase "it never happened to me" can be the last words before a conflagration upsetting your way of life, destroying many things you hold dear, causing great financial loss, and perhaps seriously injuring or bringing death to a loved one.

As we have stated, the common-sense rules of fire prevention you know . . . PUT THEM INTO PRACTICE!

Safety Program In City Schools

Children in elementary and junior classrooms here will be admonished this month about the dangers of entering streets from between parked cars in the monthly safety campaign for which the Tidewater Automobile Association supplies their teachers with safety educational materials.

Motorists were warned today by John B. Dey, vice-president of the T. A. A., to be extremely watchful for children, especially on streets where there are any parked cars, because sometimes in their preoccupation with play, children dash into the street between parked cars into the path of an oncoming vehicle.

"It is the motorist's responsibility to adjust his speed in order to stop under any and all conditions," Mr. Dey said. "A kit of AAA safety educational materials, based on the slogan Keep From Between Parked Cars, is being sent to Virginia school teachers here for use in instructing students in this basic safety rule. The poster which will be used is one of ten first-prize winners in the Eighth National Safety Poster Contest, conducted by the American Automobile Association and affiliated clubs, and was drawn by Allen Ranick, Connelley High School, Pittsburgh, Pa."

Announce Birth

A baby boy, weighing 7 pounds, 3 1-2 ounces, was born at the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., on August 29 to Mrs. Joan Spears, wife of Samuel R. Spears, ship's serviceman third class, USN.

Spears, who is stationed at Receiving Station, Norfolk, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spears of Alto, Texas. Mrs. Spears is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Perry of Oceana, Va.

The baby, named Michael Alfred, is the third child for the Spears, who reside at 1117 Washington street, Portsmouth.

MORE SHEEP SEEN AS NEEDED IN VIRGINIA

The wool from one sheep makes one suit and an extra pair of pants, VPI experts say, and add that if Virginians had to depend on the wool from Old Dominion sheep, 12 persons would be competing for that one sheep's wool. G. A. Allen, Jr., of the VPI staff, says sheep raising fits into the picture of diversified farming in Virginia, and urges more flocks on farms of the state. He says that where a farmer cannot pasture another cow, he can pasture six sheep, which eat 80 per cent of the natural weeds at some stage of their growth, whereas cattle eat only 10 per cent of those weeds. He urges both sheep and cattle on each farm.

Ocean Park Club Sending Delegates To Williamsburg

Members of the Ocean Park Woman's Club leave October 8 to attend the thirtieth annual meeting of the Sixth District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Williamsburg. The meeting will be held in the Methodist Church. Those attending are Mrs. Robert Spoolman, Mrs. W. J. Winn, Mrs. F. W. DeWolf, Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. G. C. Degge, Mrs. Robert Holleman, Mrs. M. H. Ellinger, Mrs. J. S. Neidlinger delegate; Mrs. David B. Hill, president.

The Sixth District selected as their theme "Community Service" for the coming year. In keeping with this, the Ocean Park Woman's Club has added additional facilities to the playground. The playground now has four large swings, three small swings, four see-saws and one large slide. The older equipment has been repaired and painted and put in first class condition.

The playground is used constantly by the children in the Park and passersby as well as tourists. Those who put in new equipment were Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Everett, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wood, Jr., and Charlie Reid.

Grant and Rogers Rolic thru Film

There is no type of comedy Cary Grant cannot do, and in "Monkey Business" he again proves his talent for getting laughs. Teamed with Ginger Rogers, his performance gives the picture just the right kind of lift and puts it squarely in the top money-making bracket.

Exhibitors and audiences alike should be thoroughly delighted with "Monkey Business," starting Wednesday at the Beach Theatre. It is just as zany and funny as the name implies. It doesn't make a shred of sense, but its laugh potential is so high, no one is going to start looking for logic in it.

Much of the credit must go to veteran director Howard Hawks, who sees to it that the broad comedy isn't overdone. Under his light touch, ordinary scenes are transformed into delightful situations that will set off gales of laughter among the audience which half knows what to expect and yet is kept in suspense most of the time.

The dialogue is crisp and fashioned with high skill, which isn't surprising considering that the script was written by Ben Hecht, Charles Lederer and I. A. L. Diamond. Sol C. Siegel produced.

The supporting players, Marilyn Monroe, Charles Coburn and Hugh Marlowe, all do full justice to their roles.

Zoning Ordinance—Thalia Village and Sunny Brook

An ordinance to regulate and restrict in the interest of public health, safety, morals, comfort, prosperity, and general welfare the location of buildings and other structures and premises within that area of Princess Anne County, Virginia, an area adjacent to Thalia Creek and the Virginia Beach Boulevard, more closely described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of Seventh Street and the Norfolk-Southern Right of way, as now established, Plat of Sunny Brook, and extending in a northerly direction along the Eastern right of way of Seventh Street to Douglas Street, thence Easterly along the Southern right of way of Douglas Street, as now established, to the center of Thalia Creek, thence along the center of said Creek, as now established to its confluence with the Southern right of way of Virginia Beach Boulevard, as now established, thence along the southern right of way of said Boulevard to the Western right of way of Ash Avenue, Plat of Thalia Village, as now established, thence along the Western right of way of Ash Avenue in a southerly direction to a point three hundred feet south of the southern right of way of Kempsville Road as now established, thence in a westerly direction three hundred feet distant and parallel to said Kempsville Road to the center line of Thalia Creek as now established, thence northwardly along said center line to the Norfolk-Southern right of way, thence westwardly along said right of way to the point of beginning.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that within the above described zone all construction shall be in conformance with an ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, on July 28th, 1952, and certain amendments thereto adopted September 22nd, 1952. Said ordinance being known as the Interim Zoning Ordinance.

The minimum construction cost of any single-family residence shall be $8,000.00. Minimum cost for a duplex shall be $12,000.00. Minimum for an apartment shall be $4,000.00 a family unit. The figures named shall apply to the actual construction cost of the dwelling unit, excluding cost of lot, grounds or garage.

No business of any kind is to be maintained in this area except that of a resident doctor.

No garage apartments shall be built or maintained except in connection with a residence.

No hogs, goats, cows or horses shall be maintained.

This ordinance does not apply to any conditions in existence at the time of its passage. Buildings or uses which do not conform to this law may continue in the purpose for which they were intended. Whenever they are changed to conform, they may not again be devoted to any prohibited use.

Should any section of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid by the Court, such decision shall not affect its validity as a whole or any part except that provision which was declared invalid.

Any person who so wished may appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals, as provided by law. The said Board may, in appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the application of the terms of this ordinance in accordance with its general purpose and intent.

This ordinance shall be enforced by the building inspector, his agents, employees, and any violation thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than fifty dollars $50.00) or by confinement in jail for a period of not exceeding thirty (30) days either or both. Each day of continuous violation shall be considered a separate offense.

BAPTIST EVENING SERVICE POPULAR

Interest continues to grow in the program provided for each member of the family at First Baptist Church on Sunday evenings. Refreshments are served at 6 p. m. Training Unions meet then, thereafter for each member of the family. A music period is planned for intermediates and young people at 7 p. m., in preparation for a youth choir to sing for the evening service.

Chaplain Ivan Hart of Fort Story will speak at the evening service, 7:30 p. m., Sunday, October 5. Chaplain Hart is just back from Korea and has a word on Christian Missions worth hearing.

Baptismal services will conclude the services Sunday evening.

OCEANA TACKLES ST. PAUL FRIDAY

The Cavaliers of Oceana will meet the St. Paul Saints Friday, October 3, under lights at Oceana Stadium. St. Paul has an outstanding back in Paul De La Cruz. The Saints have a well-rounded eleven.

Oceana came out of the Franklin game in good shape and will probably be at full strength for Friday's game.

The Cavaliers looked much improved in their 25-13 victory over the Franklin Broncos.

Sparked by Chris Kametchi's three touchdowns, the Cavaliers came from behind to score their convincing victory. Donald Marchall, Terry McCall and Dickey Powell stood out along with Kametchis in the Oceana backfield. Frank Allen, Eugene Farrar, Dickey Barcroft and Walter Gresham played commendable games in the line for the Cavaliers.

cess Anne County, Norfolk County line.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the above described area be zoned as a residential area, and that no buildings, structures or premises shall be used except for horticulture specified, nor shall they be arranged or designed to be used in any part, except for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) A residence designed for occupancy of a single family, with garage or garage apartment permitted only in connection with each residence.

(b) Duplex apartments.

(c) Apartment houses.

(d) The taking of boarders or the leasing of rooms by a resident family.

(e) The office of a resident professional business.

(f) Churches or other places of worship.

(g) Schools or parks.

(h) Private garage on same lot in or with residence and as accessory thereto. However, no business to be conducted in said garage and no garage shall provide space for more than four motor vehicles.

(i) Real estate signs advertising the sale or rental of only the premises on which they are maintained.

(j) Accessory uses customarily incident to the above permitted uses and located only on the same lot or plot with them, including small professional signs. Except, as permitted above, accessory uses shall not include any use customarily required in connection with the business or industry, nor any driveway or walk giving access thereto, nor any display of goods visible from the street of goods such as are made and sold, nor any billboard nor advertising sign, except signs for rental or sale of real estate.

(k) All of the above uses and such construction that may be necessary for their origin shall be in conformance with an ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, on July 28th, 1952, and certain amendments thereto adopted September 22nd, 1952. Said ordinance being known as the Interim Zoning Ordinance.

Any building, structure or use existing in the above described area at the time of the enactment of this ordinance, may be continued even though such building, structure or use does not conform with the provisions of this ordinance. Such existing conforming use may hereafter extend through any parts of a building which were manifestly arranged or designed for such use at the time of the enactment of this ordinance. No building, structure or premises in the above zoned area on which a non-conforming use is superceded by a use permitted shall again be devoted to any prohibited use.

Should any section or provision of this ordinance be decreed by the Court to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect its validity as a whole or any part thereof other than the part so decreed to be unconstitutional or invalid.

Any person aggrieved or affected by any section or decision of the building inspector, may appeal, as a matter of right to the Zoning Board of Appeals as provided by law. The said Board of Zoning Appeals may in appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the application of the terms of this ordinance with its general purpose and interest and in accordance with general specific rules herein contained.

This ordinance shall be enforced by the building inspector, his agent, employees, and any violation thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), nor more than Fifty Dollars ($50.00), or by confinement in jail for a period of not exceeding thirty (30) days, either or both. Each day of continuous violation shall be considered a separate offense.

Fire Losses in 05 Mounting; Homes Seen Greatest Sufferers

Fire losses in the United States, measured in dollars, are at an all-time high and going higher!

This was reported this week by the National Board of Fire Underwriters as the nation, spurred by President Truman's proclamation of Fire Prevention Week beginning October 5, took stock of its $730 million loss in property and 11,000 lives.

According to John R. Cooney, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, much of this loss in lives and property resulted from fire in the home. He cited the estimate of 856,705 fires in U. S. cities last year. The major causes of these fires, he added, were the careless use of matches and smoking and misuse of electricity. Such carelessness, he declared, accounts for close to 40 per cent of the nation's reported fire losses.

Observed Nationally

Fire Prevention Week, which is observed nationally from October 5-11 by proclamation of the President of the United States, directs public attention to the nation's tremendous loss in life and property that results each year from fire, and emphasizes the safety measures whereby these losses can be substantially reduced.

Mr. Cooney pointed out that President Truman has urged every man, woman and child to contribute to the nationwide effort to safeguard America's strength by accepting a "personal responsibility" in the campaign.

"The President," he said, "has warned that our nation can ill afford the needless waste of nearly $1 billion in irreplaceable materials, facilities and resources."

In emphasizing the importance of this warning, Mr. Cooney said: "We in the fire insurance business are gravely concerned over this mounting loss in property, the untold suffering and loss of life that fire is causing our nation."

Mr. Cooney expressed concern over the property loss sustained by America's manufacturing industry. He said that of the 300,000 manufacturing firms 20,000 or approximately 6 per cent were struck by fire last year and suffered heavy loss in valuable equipment and production. In some instances fire brought about complete business failure because of uninsured and under-insured losses.

He pointed out that replacement costs and production costs are not included in the $730 million fire loss for 1951. "Were they to be included, replacement costs alone would have doubled that figure," he said.

This year 10,000 communities of the nation will take part in Fire Prevention Week activities. In the movement are municipal officials, fire departments, civic and educational groups, schools, churches, the fire protection and public service organizations of the fire insurance industry, and other voluntary agencies, working through local fire safety committees that assume responsibility of the week-play a vital part. In the last 10 years close to 500 have been nominated by their communities for NBFU's annual old Mirdni Awards for outstanding public service in fire prevention.

The first U. S. World's Fair was held in New York City in 1853 and 1854.

VOLUME XXVII. NUMBER 43. VIRGINIA BEACH, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1952 SECTION TWO — FOUR PAGES

Methodists Will Lay Cornerstone Of New Building

Cornerstone laying ceremonies will be held for the new sanctuary of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, October 5, at 2:30 o'clock.

The pastor, the Rev. Graham S. Carlton, will be assisted in the service by the Rev. Edgar A. Potts, D. D., superintendent of the Norfolk District of the Virginia annual conference. The address will be delivered by Bishop Paul Neff Garber, bishop of the Richmond area of the Southeastern jurisdiction of the Methodist Church.

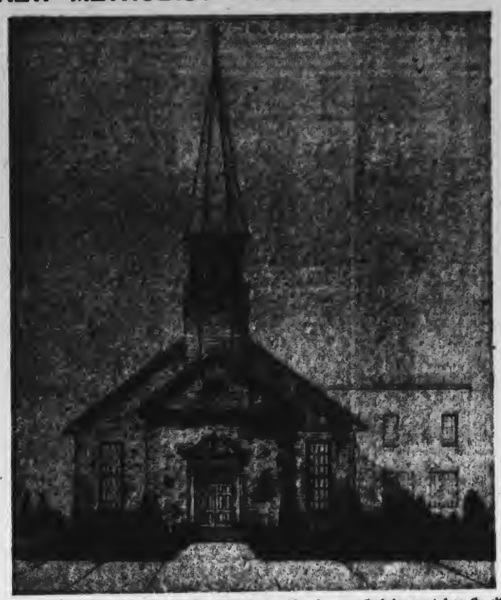

Special music will be rendered by the church choir under direction of William Miller, and a male quartet from Epworth's Westminster of Norfolk.

It is planned to have the program outdoors. Should the weather not permit this, it will be held on the second floor of the educational building to the point of setting the stone in place.

The new house of worship will be air-conditioned and will have a seating capacity of approximately 550, representing a cost of $80,000. Completion of the project is anticipated within six months.

A most cordial invitation is extended the public to attend Sunday's special services.

NEW METHODIST HOUSE OF WORSHIP

Architect's drawing of the new Virginia Beach Methodist Church, presently being erected on the site of the former place of worship, on 18th Street near Atlantic Avenue. Cornerstone laying ceremonies will be observed this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

STORE VEGETABLES FOR USE ON TABLE IN DECEMBER

Storing vegetables before cold weather will insure fresh vegetables on the table all through this month and until the first of the year, at least.

Vegetable gardening specialists at VPI say crops that can be stored successfully include various root crops, cabbage, onions, potatoes and yams, and pumpkins.

Locking Through Canal Curtailed By Scarce Water

Because of drought conditions during the past few months, the capacity of Lake Drummond to supply water for navigation on the Dismal Swamp Canal, including the operation of the locks at Deep Creek, Va., and South Mills, N. C., has been seriously curtailed. At present, the waters of Lake Drummond have dropped to a level which does not permit any supply for the operation of the canal. Pending substantial rainfall to replenish the lake supply, only the water in the canal is available for lock operation.

In view of these adverse conditions, it is necessary to impose the following temporary restrictions on navigation in the canal. These restrictions will be in force until further notice, or until such time as sufficient rainfall shall have restored a normal water supply in Lake Drummond.

Beginning at 6 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, Sunday, September 28, the times for locking through at Deep Creek and South Mills will be observed daily at two-hour intervals: 6 a. m., 8 a. m., 10 a. m., 12 noon, 2 p. m., 4 p. m., 6 p. m., and 10 p. m. From 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. the locks have not been operated since March 31, 1950, due to curtailment measures still in force.

Because of the existing low canal level, only boats of six feet draft or less will be permitted to move on the canal. Boats exceeding this draft must use the main inland waterway route via Great Bridge, Va.

Highway Politics Violation of Law

With the political season getting warmer by the hour, the State Highway Department this week cautioned against the posting of political placards along the state's highways.

It is against highway regulations to place signs of any description, political or otherwise, within the state's right-of-way, and all field forces have been instructed to take them down on sight.

Also, it is a misdemeanor to post or erect signs on fences, trees or other objects on private property without a permit, according to Virginia's outdoor advertising law.

H. J. Neale, landscape engineer, in charge of administering the outdoor advertising act, said that several complaints have been received of political posters being erected along the highways and that a careful watch is being kept by fieldmen for such signs.

County Line Markers Being Placed Locally

County name traffic signs will be erected at the county line on all secondary roads coming into Princess Anne County, as part of a state-wide plan to designate the county boundaries on all farm-to-market roads.

In announcing the plan to erect the new signs, the State Highway Department stressed that the markers have no legal status, but are only informative. Frequently, they explained, the line may be in the middle of a stream, while the markers will be placed at bridge ends to simply tell the traveler that he is entering another county.

While their principal function will be to inform the traveler of his location on the highway, the signs will probably serve other purposes. H. J. Neale, landscape engineer for the State Highway Department, pointed out that different hunting, fishing and other laws exist in various counties and the signs will be a guide to the territory.

The new signs will proclaim in large black letters that the traveler is entering Princess Anne County.

WHISTLE COMES IN HANDY

A referee's whistle can be a real help to a busy housewife. Use it to call the children from play, or your husband to answer the phone. You may want to work out a signal for each member of the family.

An acre of forest releases more moisture into the air than an acre of water.

Hunting Season In Old Dominion Is Forecast To Be Best in Recent Years

Deer hunting in Virginia's two great national forests, comprising approximately 1,500,000 acres of public shooting, will be particularly inviting this year. The animals have increased in such great numbers that seasons have been lengthened in all counties west of the Blue Ridge mountains. Hunting is done with rifles, but not with dogs, greatly simplifying arrangements for the out-of-state visitor.

In the same area, ruffled grouse are at the peak of a cycle of abundance and the grouse hunter also has the advantage that he may choose his hunting ground where it looks best to him and simply go ahead and hunt —with no need for guides. Wild turkeys are abundant in many areas, and there is excellent bear hunting in the same regions.

Reports from all parts of the state indicate that there is more game of various species than for the past 15 years. Deer in the eastern counties have increased amazingly, but the hunting is not as simple for the stranger as it is in the mountains, with so much public land available. Due to an excellent nesting season, quail are abundant but, unfortunately, the birds are mainly on privately owned property. The same is true of rabbits and squirrels.

Dove hunting has become a highly popular sport and is easy to arrange, while the march hunting for sora and for clapper rails, forms of hunting peculiar in a sense to Virginia, are engaged in with great enthusiasm.

Advices from the Canadian breeding grounds are that unusual numbers of waterfowl will be coming south this fall, and myriads of ducks and geese will funnel down through the Atlantic Flyway into Eastern Virginia. The duck hunting at Back Bay and on the Eastern Shore is famous, while all of the tidal river marshes are filled with waterfowl. There is public hunting on thousands of acres of ungranted marshland in the two Eastern Shore counties, according to the Virginia Travel Council.

Vigorous Enforcement of Controls On Rents To Be Exercised Here

Rental properties in Virginia Beach and vicinity became subject to lower or winter rentals on Wednesday and the Norfolk area rent director warns that vigorous rent control enforcement plans will be pursued by his office in the future.

Ralph Osmond, area rent director, said that initially his office would concentrate on those property owners who have not registered their property with the rent office.

"Ignorance of the law," he said, "no longer will be considered as an excuse for not registering such properties. I'm sure that the wide publicity that has been given the program has not been overlooked by literate property owners affected."

Osmond said that about the only instance where the rigid policy would be waived would be in the case of absentee owners, particularly servicemen on duty in Korea and at other stations abroad who are not aware of their responsibilities.

The director warned that his office would continue its policy of setting maximum rents on unregistered premises and back the tenant in obtaining treble damages for overcharges.

Kirby-Jaiser Vows Exchanged

The marriage of Miss Ann Jaiser, daughter of Mrs. Ernest D. Fay of Lake Smith and Alvin M. Jaiser of Washington, to William James Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Kirby of Princess Anne County, took place Saturday evening, September 6, at 7 o'clock in the Robbins Corner Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. K. Emurian, pastor of the church, in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with evergreens, white gladioli, phlox and lighted candles. John Crow played the wedding music and Mrs. Frances Hutchison sang "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," and "Because."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding dress of handrun lace and nylon net over satin, fashioned with a sheer yoke extending into a shoulder-wide neckline outlined with scallops, elbow length sleeves, lace basque bodice and pouffant skirt with a lace peplum. Her fingertip veil fell from a halo of handrun lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and roses. Her only ornaments were pearl necklace and earrings.

Mrs. Marion Maddox, matron of honor, wore a gown of pink net over satin, styled with a strapless bodice and a stole, with a full skirt. Miss Patricia Paige Feede, maid of honor, wore a gown of blue net over satin, made similar to that of the matron of honor. Both attendants carried nosegays of blue and pink asters and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Raymond Kirby was his brother's best man. The groomsmen were Leon Edgar Holland and William James Halsey. John Crow was master of ceremonies.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shane. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby left for a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee.

Newlyweds Honored At Buffet Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jett entertained at a buffet luncheon Saturday at their home on Crystal Lake, in honor of their cousin, Miss Alice Rice Jett, and William Donald Dyck, whose marriage took place Saturday night at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The guests numbered around 50 and included the members of the bridal party and the out-of-town guests for the wedding.

Miss Culpepper Honored Tonight

Mrs. James H. Midgett and Mrs. Henry Clay Perry, Jr., will entertain at a bridge party tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Midgette on 25th street in honor of Miss Anne Culpepper whose marriage to Andre Hodgson will take place on Saturday at the ahlee Episcopal Church. The guests will number twelve.

Pilzer-Kline Invitations Issued

Mr. and Mrs. William Rubin have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sondra Ann Pilzer, to Richard Hoffiin Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Kline of Lynnhaven, on Sunday, October 12, at 7 o'clock at the Suburban Country Club, Portsmouth.

Comdr. Edgar Stebbins and Mrs. Stebbins spent last weekend in Charlottesville and attended the Virginia-Vanderbilt game on Saturday.

Mrs. J. S. Hopkins of Richmond is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. L. Hudgins, at her home on 25th street.

Birdneck Garden Club Holds First Fall Meet

The first meeting of the fall season of the Birdneck arden Club was held September 16 at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club. Mrs. H. G. Haselton was the hostess. Mrs. Edgar Tisdale of the Winona Garden Club was the guest speaker. She used for her subject the planting of small spring gardens.

Marigold and zinnia arrangements were brought by each member and were judged by Mrs. Clinton Woodhouse and Mrs. David Shelburne. Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. Carl Gallup, Mrs. J. R. Dee, Mrs. August Bomman, Mrs. H. T. Haselton, Mrs. David Stormont, Sr., Mrs. Griggin Deal and Mrs. E. S. Rosenkrans.

The garden club will next sponsor a plant sale, held Friday, October 17, at 10 a. m., in front of the 31st street Colonial store. There will be on sale outdoor and indoor plants, small shrubs and bulbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Forsberg will spend this weekend in Danville, Va., visiting Mrs. Forsberg's mother, Mrs. George Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Thomas and young daughter, Betsy, of Norfolk, spent last weekend with Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Jordan, Jr., at their home in Bay Colony.

Dr. Vincent Barber, who has been spending the summer in Canada, is visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William Barber, in Birdneck Point. He will leave next week to spend the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla.

GARDEN GAB

FEEDING CAMELLIAS AND AZALEAS

There is so much that could be written about Camellias and Azaleas that we hesitate to even broach the subject. However, a friend recently sent us the following formula which makes an excellent fertilizer for both, and we do want to pass it on to you. This formula was taken from her mother's garden scrapbook and we feel it must be all it claims to be, as we have seen the beautiful, healthy plants in this garden. We hope you will use it.

10 lbs. sulphate of ammonia
35 lbs. high grade acid phosphate
17 lbs. high grade sulphate of potassium
20 lbs. cottonseed meal
10 lbs. sulphate of aluminum (for acidity)

Mix this thoroughly and use at the rate of one quart of the mixture to a wheelbarrow of mulch, well mixed, and applied an inch deep under the entire spread of the branches. Instead of mixing with the mulch, it can be sprinkled on at the rate of 2½ pounds to 100 square feet. Be sure not to let it touch the trunk. Apply this feeding once a year.

These plants should never be allowed to go into the winter dry, so if the fall is a dry one, soak them well before cold weather comes.

A porous mulch about four inches deep should be kept under the plants at all times, and the above fertilizer mixture can be sprinkled on top of the mulch at the rate given and washed in with the hose.

These plants require an acid, porous soil, and since they are shallow rooted they should never be cultivated. Pull up any weeds by hand.

Even if the soil was acid enough in the beginning, it will not remain so indefinitely, and an acidifier should be used once a year. It should be put on about two weeks before applying fertilizer. Aluminum sulphate, or crude alum, may be sprinkled on at the rate of two pounds to a hundred square feet under the spread of the branches. This is simply a soil conditioner—not a fertilizer.

Remember that while azaleas are not gross feeders, camellias require rather heavy feeding.

Plant Sale Tuesday

We hope you plan to attend the plant sale at Galilee Church on next Tuesday morning, October 7, at 11 o'clock. You will find many excellent plants for house and garden which you may purchase at very nominal prices. There will also be dried plants for arrangements, magnolia leaves, and many other items. This sale is an annual event which we have witnessed for many years, and we can assure you it will be well worth your time.

Food At Colony "Most Delicious Ever" Declare Patrons

It is indeed fortiinate that the management of the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue does not let its head be swelled by flattery, for the most complimentary letters concerning food and service are received almost daily.

Mr. Jay Arnold, of 201 Ana Lomink Street, East Stroudsburg, Pa., for example, wrote recently: "The most delicious ham served here I have ever eaten anywhere."

The same phrase is found for other food items. "A very delicious serving of roast beef. Courteous service and excellent environment," are excerpts from a letter from Charles Davant, Augusta, Georgia. —Adv.

Washable cotton dresses with year-round appeal — these are the latest fashions that find high popularity this fall.

Glazing, embossing and other finishes are most popular in the new surface - interest cottons. Other widely approved cottons are the tweedy types and prints reproducing tweed effects and already well established are the metallic prints. All of which adds up to another top year of surface interest cottons.

Taffetized cottons seem to be the most popular for fall and winter wear. Taffetized percales, broadcloths, ginghams and chambrays and these are all washable. (Now we know why those automatic washers are so handy!) Taffetized prints are also available in designs suitable for town and resort wear.

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne ladies who will make the third Virginia Cruise trip in January — to South America and the West Indies — might well stock up their wardrobes with some of these easy-to-care-for cottons in resort and cruise styles.

Cotton fabric converters have gone to actual quilted designs for their newest ideas since the embossed quilt-effects were so popular this past summer. Their results show more crisp types that actually look quilted from a distance.

Tweedy cottons are growing as a family. These are lightly nubbed or boucled (boo-clayed) to give surface interest to otherwise simple cottons. Among the most attractive are the houndstooth or straw checks in traditional colors which suggest particularly cool-looking town suits or dresses.

Cotton skirt prints are being handled with greater imagination as designers foresee even stronger popularity for the full skirt among young and not so young people. The majority continue to stem from native ideas in prints although the newest looking ones are inspired by abstract art.

Fall Handbag Flash: complement the slim look in shoes and the elegant Edwardian feeling of ready-to-wear, featuring narrow silhouettes with understatement of details for complete coordination. The box shape in fine leather bags, with rounded contours, will be popular. Tall, narrow bags will be seen a lot. The oblong bag is new! Ruby Red, a new color in polished calf, is important in handbags, also rusty browns, benedictine tones and biege. Wonderful combinations of suede and calf, reverse calf or bucko with cowhide, kidskin with suede or harmonizing kid applique and suede and patent leather combinations. On dressy suede bags passementerie braid, fringes and tassels make original and elegant new trimmings.

Glove Flashes For Fall: Glove silhouettes this season are longer and narrower, more elegant and less casual. Leather gloves offer a distinct contrast to fall apparel styles. The simple, solid-color leather classic is handsome with bulky furs, poodle cloth or heavy tweeds. A severely tailored dress or suit calls for a more ornate glove — perhaps a two-toned combination with the cuff lined in a brilliantly colored leather.

Remember that your leather gloves should compliment your other leather accessories —matching your bag, belt, shoes and gloves whenever possible. With the variety of colors now available, this is far simpler than it once was, and it will give your wardrobe a more luxurious look.

LOCAL RESIDENTS WIN PRIZES IN SEALTEST JINGLE CONTEST

Residents in this area are winners of three prizes in the Sealtest Cottage Cheese Jingle Contest, it is announced by D. H. Craun, of Southern Dairies, Inc., a Sealtest division of National Dairy Products Corporation.

The winners and their prizes are: Mrs. Dealie B. White, 142 West 10th street, Norfolk 10, Va., $10; Mrs. Jane Carlson, 1028 Raleigh avenue, Norfolk, Va., $10; Mrs. Rosetta Campbell, 3428 Westminster Drive Portsmouth, Va., $10.

A total of $50,000 was distributed in prizes to a total of 1,713 winners, selected from thousands of contestants from all parts of the United States. First prize in the contest was $10,000, second $5,000 and third $1,000.

People, Places, Stuff & Things

The One - and - Only Tallulah Bankhead made news the world over this week with the publishing of her new book, "Tallulah." She told Jinx Falkenburg McCrary that Harry Truman had sent her a congratulatory letter in which he said her book was "undoubtedly the most interesting book I have held in my hand since becoming President of the United States." (Now I know I've heard everything!)

Beatrice Lillie, absent from Broadway for four long years, returns tonight with her hilarious evening to be known as "An Evening With Beatrice Lillie" and, from straw hat tryouts this summer, her most popular skit will be the one in which La Lillie impersonates an insolent lady's maid. Visitors to New York should put this bit of good theater high on the list of things to see.

Beachites who had the good fortune to meet "Buffie" Ives in Richmond last week, when she was personal - appearing with her brother, Adlai Stevenson, fell in love with this dignified, intelligent and utterly charming woman. Mrs. Ernest L. Ives has actually been "doing the job" for her brother now for three years, acting as the Illinois governor's official hostess. One of her prideful accomplishments has been destroying the precious possessions to the governor's mansion which is 97 years old and had been modernized by a contemporary decorator. This was a challenge to "Buffie" and she immediately set about bringing back the old things and re-establishing the original character of the old place.

Regina Bartley, Beach artist and sculptor, will exhibit her work in the Community Room of the Riverview theater in Norfolk, for four weeks, beginning October 5.

Happy anniversary to the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County when they celebrate their 27th year at their annual luncheon at Pine Tree Inn on October 14!

Merry Matrons

Who is a Merry Matron?

She's the woman who has found out the great joy of maturity—that she is not "old"! She is the woman who knows that in her maturing years that her physical and romantic vitalities have new possibilities. She has finally achieved the poise and self-confidence that she used to hunger for as a younger woman. She's the matron whose merriness of thinking and feeling from within, and her new and happier philosophy of living each day with her family and friends, has given her that wonderful, new happy glow from without. She is the woman who has learned that her richest beauty asset is the wisdom and understanding she has acquired from her years of living and that beauty for the mature woman, much more than for the young woman, is an outgoing beauty. She knows that pride and dignity is much more valuable than vanity.

When the Duchess of Windsor, shortly after her marriage to the former king of England, was queried as to the wrinkles about her eye-corners, she answered, "Would you expect a woman for 40 not to have some wrinkles? Those are merry wrinkles from the fun of living."

According to many beauty authorities, lifelong beauty care—inward and outward—helps solve many of the problems of maturity. Everything in modern life proves that it is never too late to make a fresh start, so why shouldn't you?

It is never too late to begin to live or too soon to start. Hope comes from facing the present moment bravely and using it to the best of your ability. You're in this life till you're called from it, so make the most of your family, friends and the places you go and the things you do, keep young in heart and then you'll be qualified for a merry matronship!

A Merry Matrons Fashion Clinic will be conducted for six Wednesdays, 10:30 till noon, at the Freemason street Baptist Church in Norfolk, by Alice Brewer White, beginning October 8. This is one of the new features of the YWCA new fall series of "Ladies' Day Out." Interested ladies may call, or write, the Norfolk YWCA for registration information.

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By [illegible] CLARK
Food Editor

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

It's mighty fun to cook and serve a barbecued roast of pork. For a zippy flavor, tantalizing and pleasing, barbecue it in rich tomato sauce. Celebrate the first fall days with a luscious platter of pork, with stuffed baked potatoes and a tossed salad.

Here's a recipe that will make all the partakers smack their lips and say, "Yummy-yum!" It's a sharp rich blend of zesty tomato soup, chopped onion, vinegar and peppy seasonings. Tastes so terrific you three cheers or a really good dinner.

Serve the barbecued pork from your favorite platter, right at the table. Here's the recipe:

Oven Barbecued Pork

- 3-lb. pork loin. Season with salt and pepper
- 1-3 cup finely chopped onion
- 1-3 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 3 drops tabasco sauce
- dash garlic salt

Place pork in shallow baking pan and roast in slow oven, 350 degrees, for two hours. Combine sauce ingredients, mix well and pour over roast. Continue cooking for 1 1-2 hours, basting frequently. Put hot barbecued sauce over pork slices as you serve it. Makes eight generous servings. Hope you like it.

Bye now. See you next Thursday.

Roanoke 4-H'ers Awarded Plaque

Roanoke County, where 4-H club members spearheaded a drive to "scotchlite" bicycles for safe night cycling, studied safety on the highway and on the farm and home and then put their knowledge to work, has been named to receive a plaque as state winner of the 4-H safety contest. All 16 clubs in Roanoke emphasized safety in their programs the past year, and over 500 took "safety" as one of their individual projects.

State 4-H officials at VPI also announced this week the following counties which receive $25 each in the state recreation and rural arts contest: Princess Anne, Bedford, Fairfax, King and Queen, Westmoreland, Richmond, Patrick, Clarke, Chesterfield, Roanoke, Halifax, Fluvana, Albemarle, and Franklin.

"Although there were not enough counties participating in the health contest to warrant awarding a state prize, the following clubs will receive certificates for their work in health: Drakes Branch Junior, Charlottesville Elementary, Keysville, and Wyliesburg clubs, all in Charlotte county; Dayton club in Rockingham; Meems Valley club in Shenandoah; Franklin County Senior club in Franklin, and Ridge club in Henrico.

Blue Devils Bow To Emporia

Kempsville High School's Blue Devils could not withstand the power of Emporia last Friday night and went down to a 13 to 6 defeat after leading for more than half the game.

The Blue Devils reached pay dirt in the opening period when their ace back, George Sanderlin, passed to Paul Vestal for a TD. The play covered 14 yards.

After Kempsville scored, the teams battled on fairly even terms through the remainder of the first half, with intermission finding Kempsville in the lead by a 6-0 score.

Emporia came back strong after the halftime rest period and scored on a pass play in the third stanza, the play going from Danny Belmonte to Darden Livesay. Jimmy Jeans kicked the extra point to put the visitors in a lead they never relinquished.

Emporia's final marker came in the fourth quarter on another pass from Belmonte to Livesay. The try for extra point failed.

By quarters:

Kempsville	6	0	0	0	— 6
Emporia	0	0	7	0	—13

Touchdowns: Kempsville— Vestal; Emporia—Livesay (2). Extra point—Emporia—Jeans.

Mrs. Mary N. Ames Gets Service Emblem

Mrs. Mary N. Ames, of Virginia Beach, was presented with an Army and Air Force Exchange System ten-year service emblem on September 26, by Col. Arthur W. Smith, formerly commanding officer of Fort Story. Mrs. Ames, who first started working as a civilian employee at the camp November 1, 1941, is Fort Story's post exchange store manager.

Colonel Smith congratulated Mrs. Ames upon the completion of ten years of distinguished and efficient service with the exchange, and expressed the hope that she would continue to remain in the employ of the Army. During her service, Mrs. Ames has seen the post exchange expanded and relocated several times, until today it carries a wide variety of the merchandise most often needed by Army personnel and their dependents living on the post. Lt. Fred L. Gifford supervises the store's activities, as PX officer.

Present for the ceremony were Capt. Gerald R. Stickney, PX officer for Fort Eustis, Fort Eustis Store Manager Mrs. Nancy Walker, and Mrs. Josephine Belyew, who is employed at the Fort Story exchange.

Mrs. Ames is a native of Cape Charles, Va., across Chesapeake Bay from Fort Story.

Local 4-H Club Members Make Good Showing

Fifteen 4-H members sent an exhibit of their poultry to the exposition and won as follows:

Buddy Redfearne, second on pen, first on cockerels and first on pullet with his Blue Adlusion. Sylvia Anne Miller, first on young and old pens, first on cockerel, first on pullet, second on cock bird and second on hen with Brown Leghorns.

Carolyn Stevenson, first on Rhode Island Red pullet; Ann Stevenson, first on Barred Rock hen. Beverley Laurence, second on hen, third on young pen, third on cockerel and third on pullet, Berigolds. Carole Davenport, first on young pen and first on pullet with Columbian Plymouth Rocks.

Anne Davenport, first on young pen, first on cockerel, and first on pullet with White Plymouth Rocks. Johnny Williams, first on young pen, second on cockerel and fourth on pullet on Austra Whites.

Dean Carroll, third on Barred Rock hen. Paul Durham, second on young pen, first on cockerel and second on pullet with Rhode Island Reds. Billy Hudgins, first on old pen and second on hen with New Harmpshire Reds. Dennis Ferebee won second on his Barred Plymouth Rock hen. Felix Reeder won first on old pen and first on hen with White Plymouth Rocks.

In the garden exhibits, Walter Humphries won first on his garden basket and first on his exhibit of root crops for storage; Pat Saunders, second on her garden garden exhibit. Tom Saunders, third on his garden exhibit, and Norman Wood sixth on his garden exhibit.

In the corn class, the Princess Anne boys did not fare so well. However, Clark Whitehurst won eighth prize on white corn in the junior class.

Princess Anne poultry judging team came out first in competition with teams from Indiana and West Virginia and won $50 as first prize. David Stewart, a member of the poultry judging team, came out third high individual in the judging and won a $5 check.

A large numbers of the Princess Anne 4-H'ers are taking exhibits to the Tri-County Fair beginning October 1 and are expecting to make another good showing there.

Cmdr. Taylor Transfered

Cmdr. Frank W. Taylor, USN, 107 - 84th street, Virginia Beach, is the new material and logistics officer on the staff of Vice Adm. F. G. Fahrion, USN, commander Amphibious Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

He recently relieved Cmdr. Carl R. Hirschberger, USN, a PhibLant staff member 26 months, who reports to the New York naval shipyard as shipbuilding superintendent. Commander Taylor came to the amphibious force from that shipyard billet.

Commander Taylor was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1937. He holds a master's degree in naval construction and engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. During World War II he had duty in the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa., and on the staff of Service Force, 7th Fleet. Later he was assigned to the Bureau of Ships, Navy Department.

Commander Taylor, a native of Clinton, Miss., is married to the former Margaret Ford of Baltimore, Md. They have two children, William, 8, and Meredith, 5.

Atkinson Takes Golf Crown At PA Country Club

Frank V. Atkinson, of Virginia Beach, veteran linksman, defeated a fellow townsman, James A. Beasley, 2 up, last Saturday, to annex the senior golf championship of the Princess Anne Country Club.

The new champion also defeated another former seniors champion on his way to the finals when he trounced Walter M. Bott.

Price Controls On Shoes Removed

The director of the Office of Price Stabilization recently announced suspension of price controls on shoes at all levels of manufacture and distribution. He said there is no occasion for scare buying of shoes, since the supply is adequate and there is no prospect in the immediate future of general price rises in footwear.

Included in the suspension order, says OPS, are shoes and slippers made of leather, felt, knitted or woven fabrics, or plastics.

Price Director Woods cited as the basis of the price control suspension on shoes the fact that, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shoe manufacturers' prices, as of August, 1952, were 11.3 per cent below the highest 1951 selling prices, while June, 1952, retail prices were 4.3 per cent below the 1951 peak retail prices.

SECOND ANNUAL CITIZENSHIP PROGRAM HELD

The second annual Citizenship Day program held in the Kempsville High School auditorium Sunday, September 28, had as guest speaker Capt. W. S. Butts, commanding officer of the Naval Air Station at Oceana. Captain Butts was introduced by Floyd E. Kellam, judge of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County.

Mrs. J. Warren Littleton, education chairman of the Kempsville Woman's Club, presented David Emory, baritone, of Maury High School, and Mrs. Florian Pelot Harrington and her daughter Florian Frances Harrington, in a patriotic sketch. Music was furnished by the Kempsville School Band under direction of James Cantwell. Guests were welcomed by Mrs. Swindell Pollock, president of the Kempsville Woman's Club.

JUNIOR RINGS

Kempsville rocked with excitement this past week with the measuring and selecting the Junior and Senior class rings. Mr. Saunders of W. C. Saunders Company in Richmond brought a large variety of stones and rings. Among the stones were spinel, aquamarine, ruby and garnet. The prices ran from $14.40 to $20.40. The first order will go out October 6.

R. H. S. CHEERLEADERS

Helping to cheer the Kempsville High School football team to victory are the Kempsville Varsity Cheerleaders. Returning this year are:

Patsy Free—Co-captain.
Carolyn Everett—Co-captain.
Nancy Kirby, Ruth Meixel, Teeny Jones, Tita Jones, Bonnie Young.
Sponsor—Mrs. Mary Barnes.
Manager—Alma Rea.

Four new cheerleaders were added this year. They are: Carole Lee Hester, Donna Leigh Dorer, Florence Jackson, Christine Hudgins.

The cheerleaders started practice at the end of summer, and have been working hard after school practicing new cheers.

EUGENE RAWLES CHOSEN GOVERNOR, BOYS' STATE

Eugene Rawles, a senior at Kempsville High School, was chosen by his classmates as a delegate to Boys' State last spring. He, with 500 other boys from Virginia, went to VPI to gain knowledge in parliamentary procedure, and to bring information to the schools which would help them and others to carry on important proceedings.

During the first days, the boys were divided into groups. Each city had two separate political parties. During the city meeting of each party the citizens chose their "favorite sons" for the three top offices — governor, lieutenant governor, and attorney general.

At party conventions each city in turn nominated its candidate for one of the offices. After nomination and speeches, each delegate cast his vote. After the election, rallies, campaign speeches and politics took over until voting day. When the votes were counted the election was between Eugene Rawles and Bob Barker. After the speeches, Eugene Rawles was elected governor for 1952.

SEASON TICKETS

This year's season tickets are on sale in the office, at $1 each. Save a quarter and get your ticket now. The programs are presented by South-East Assemblies and will all be given in the Kempsville auditorium unless you receive further notification.

Date, program, and entertainer:
Oct. 29 — 1:00: Hammerettes, Marimba Quartet.
Dec. 5 — 1:00: Marionettes, a complete new play.
Feb. 23—9:00: Roy Mayer. Magician.
March 31—10:15: Harry Foster Welch, Popeye.
Apr. 28—10:15: George Johnson, piano humorist.

CLUB SCHEDULE CHANGES

This year at Kempsville High a new system of club meetings and assemblies is being introduced. In the first and third Wednesday club meetings will be held; assemblies on the second and fourth Wednesday.

The clubs are divided, Groups A and B. Group A, which meets on the first Wednesday, includes the 4-H, Science, FHA, and Photography clubs. On the third Wednesday Group B will meet. These clubs include Alpha-Hi-Y, Beta Hi-Y, Gamma Tri-Hy-Y, Gamma Hi-Y, Alpha Tri-Hi-Y, Delta Tri-Hi-Y, Library club, Dramatic club, Debate Club, Boys' Tumbling, Girls' Tumbling, FTA, and FBLA.

A person may belong to only two clubs with the exception of Beta, Monogram, SCA, and Student Patrol. Since the meeting of Beta and Monogram are held during the assemblies once each month there is no conflict with the regular club meetings. Call meetings will be held for the SCA and Student Patrol. Those people not belonging to clubs will go to study hall.

SCHOOL OPENS, EXPANDS, WELCOMES NEW FACES

Sept. 18 the doors of Kempsville opened and a brand new school term was started. We have many additions this year and we would like to welcome every one of them.

The first meeting of the series will be held in Detroit on Tuesday, October 7, and will be conducted by E. C. Quinn, vice-president and general manager of Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation. Fourteen cities will be visited.

LEGISLATION DELAYS HUNTING REGULATIONS

Due to recent legislation by the General Assembly affecting methods of procedure by regulatory agencies of the state, the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries re-enacts regulations governing hunting and fishing in the state.

L. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reports considerable delay in publication and distribution of the Hunting Law Digest for the coming year. The Commission is hopeful that all problems affected by these new procedures will be affected soon.

Saturday Set as Children's Day At Tri-County Fair on Speedway

Everything is in readiness at the Tri-County Fairgrounds for Children's Day Saturday, October 11, when all children will be admitted free from 1 to 6 p. m.

On the midway George Clyde Smith shows have gone all out to provide many and varied forms of entertainment for the young guests. There are ferris wheels, hobby horses, airplane rides, wild life shows, fun houses, and many kiddie rides for the younger tots.

Children will have the run of the grounds, and can see all types of exhibits, one of the most interesting being the Newton Piano Company and Marshall Estey Organ company booth. Broadcast of live piano and organ music will take place every day during the fair from 1 to 9 p. m. The ex-Norfolk, 1952 (Barbara Winfield) the pianist, William Stafford. Missed by the fact that the cash value will sing at intervals throughout the fair run. These broadcasts will emanate from the display booth, and will be transmitted around the grounds.

The 4-H, and wild life exhibits should be of special interest to the boys; the girls will possibly prefer the women's department, but all will enjoy the fireworks display and grandstand attractions. Cotton candy, frozen custards, candied apples, popcorn, and many other good things to eat and drink will be plentiful at the refreshment stands.

Childhood memories of a day at the county fair are treasured forever, and there will be many parents wishing they too could relax and enjoy themselves with complete abandon as their children do when it's Children's Day at the fair.

Air Medal Goes To Gene Davis

A/1C Gene P. Davis, 2007 Pacific Ave., Virginia Beach, received the Air Medal during a recent ceremony at the Okinawa headquarters of the veteran bomb group.

A superfort gunner, Airman Davis was awarded the medal for his part in far-reaching B-29 strikes which resulted in heavy damage to Communist installations and equipment.

The citation read in part: "By his courage, fortitude and desire to aid the United Nations cause, Airman Davis has brought great credit upon himself, the Far East Air Forces and the U. S. Air Force."

A veteran of 18 Korean combat missions, Airman Davis is slated for early return to the United States.

SIXTH WILDLIFE ESSAY CONTEST BEGAN OCT. 1

The Sixth Annual Wildlife Essay Contest, co-sponsored by the Commission of Game & Inland Fisheries and the Virginia Division of the Izaak Walton League, began officially October 1, 1952, and ends February 28, 1953. It will be open to all Virginia students in grade 5 through 12, and is aimed at providing opportunity for the youth of Virginia to study wildlife and its related resources that they may develop a deeper interest in the direction of conservation.

THE CONFEDERATE MUSEUM
WHITE HOUSE OF THE CONFEDERACY

The White House of the Confederacy was built in 1818 and used as a residence until 1861 when it was sold to the City of Richmond. President Davis and his family lived here during the war, using the house both in a private and official capacity. It remained Mr. Davis' home until the evacuation of Richmond when he left the government officials on the night of April 2, 1865.

Harding-Britt Nuptials December 27

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Robert Bryant, of Boykins, Southampton County, announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Mabel Lucille Britt, of Virginia Beach, to Logan Corbin Harding, of Hopewell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corbin Harding, of "Edge Hill," Northumberland County.

The wedding will take place Saturday, December 27.

Miss Britt is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Britt, of Boykins.

Engagement of Miss Aline Saunders Announced

William Wilkins Saunders, of Eastville, announces the engagement of his sister, Miss Aline Nottingham Saunders, to Preston Elijah Trower , son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Boland Trower of Eastville. The wedding will take place in the spring.

Miss Saunders is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Saunders, of "Park Hall," Eastville. Miss Saunders and her brother have spent several summers at Virginia Beach and have many friends here.

Miss Virginia Blair Mapp, a student at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, was in Richmond last week to attend the performance of "Carmen" at the Mosque. She was accompanied by her roommate, Miss Sheila Day, of Long Island, N. Y.

Miss Anne Culpepper Weds Andre Hodgson

The marriage of Miss Anne Kathleen Culpepper, granddaughter of Mrs. Annie M. Parker of Virginia Beach, to Andre Richard Hodgson, son of Mrs. Vivian E. Hodgson of Virginia Beach and the late Mr. Hodgson, took place last Saturday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock at Galilee Episcopal Church with Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of the church, officiating. The church was decorated with white carnations and white gladioli and lighted candles. Mrs. Gustave Aldridge played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Linwood Martin Culpepper. She wore a wedding gown of old ivory antique satin, fashioned with a yoke of rosepoint lace, basque bodice with small buttons down the back and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full gathered skirt formed a long train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a cap of seed pearls. She carried a silver prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis. Her only ornament was an heirloom pendant, belonging to the mother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. James H. Midgett was matron of honor, the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of nylon net in shrimp color, made with a tucked bodice, double stole of net and a bouffant skirt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of red tube roses, and wore a hat of shrimp net caught with roses on one side. Vivian Burnett Hodgson Jr., brother of the Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bridegroom, "The Breakers." Later Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson left for a wedding trip to New York and upon their return they will reside on 27th street. The bride traveled in a tweed suit, brown lizard accessories, mink furs and a white orchid corsage.

GARDEN GAB

This is such a busy month for gardeners that we fear every day must be spent in our gardens, but we do intend taking time out to wander through the woods and gather dried materials for winter home arrangements. You'll be surprised how many things you will find that you can use, and how much better you will feel after wandering through the woods enjoying the beauties bestowed on us by Nature.

Examine your potted geraniums, begonias, ferns, cyclamen, cacti, poinsettias and other house plants to see if they need larger pots. These should have been out of doors all summer. If you planted them without the pots, start preparing now to place them indoors.

If the plants are potted, lift the pot, and remove it from the plant. This can be done without damaging the plant if you remove it and gently tap it on a wooden shelf. If the plant is root-bound, re-pot it in a larger size, and if not, shake off some of the soil and replace with a new mixture of well rotted manure, sand, and good garden soil, in equal parts. Add a teaspoonful of bonemeal to each 6-inch pot, except for ferns, which like peat or leafmold.

Geraniums in particular like to be rather root-bound, so don't put them in a pot that is very big. Remember, too you can't expect bloom from the same plant all year. It's best to start new plants from the old one. We can't overlook the resting period that all blooming plants must have.

If plants have been out of their pots all summer, no doubt the roots need to be cut back. Push your trowel into the soil around the plant at a ring the size of the pot into which it is to go. Don't lift it—just cut the roots all around, water well, and leave it as it is for about two days. At the end of that time, lift the plant, put it in the pot, and put the pot in the space where the plant was. This gives it a better chance to get adjusted slowly.

About a week before frost is due, move all your potted plants to your porch for a few days, and then move them into the house while the windows and doors are still open. In this way the shock is lessened of moving from the outside air and moisture. Sudden changes are hard on any plant and a good many leaves and buds may drop off even with a gradual change.

If you haven't started some plants for your house, try lifting some of your young ageratum, sweet alyssum, petunia, verbena or whatever you have. The young ones are much better. Pot them as suggested above, and leave them in the bed as long as possible. Turn them occasionally to make nicely rounded plants.

If your plants are new or dry, soak them in water for several hours before using them. Always put broken bits of pottery in the bottom to insure good drainage and to prevent the new soil from sifting through the hole. Put a little soil in he pot, then spread out the roots. Sift soil among the roots, packing it down with your thumbs.

An important MUST: Water your newly potted plants well.

In The Feminine Whirl At the Beach

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER . . . . . Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Woman's Editor

("Woman's World," 9-9:30 A.M., Monday-thru-Saturday, and "Repeat Performance," Tuesday and Thursday at 6:45 P.M. over WTAR, feature Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, homemaking, garden and civic events.)

Fall Fashion Notes for the Man in Your Life: Men's hats this fall will have lower and more tapered crowns plus the smaller brims, which gained wide popularity last year, making perfect companion pieces to the so-called natural silhouette suits.

It seems that a top piece with a tapered crown generally is more becoming to most men. The high-crowned hat with an extra wide brim would hardly be in harmony with the natural silhouette; the hat, so to speak, would seem to be walking away with the man.

Last year, the Belmont shape, as it is known in the East—with its smaller brim, center creased and no pinch front — will continue to be a strong favorite this fall. Felt hats will feature mixtures that go well with the "woolen" goods suits. Solid colors, you'll recall, have been the favorite in felts. Ten to 15 different colors will be blended with grays and browns being key colors. Gray green and green mixtures at the top of the list. Plenty of new shades of browns, too.

For a younger look, there are the suede finish hats.

Caps for sportswear, to go with tweeds. Caps now come in light color wools, some with a one-piece top (no button) and a newly designed visor that won't break if it's shoved into a back pocket!

Black or midnight blue in the preferred Homburg, or in the snap brims, same color, for evening wear has not changed.

The most becoming style trend for every man will be the slightly narrow shoulder, slightly narrow lapel, softer and lighter inner construction, flaps on the pockets which may be worn in or out, and straighter lines throughout the silhouette.

In suits, in addition to the softer fabrics, synthetics—rayon and acetate blends, for example—will find favor with many buyers. Looks like the two-button single-breasted jacket will be a best seller again, in natural shoulder models, and bright and snappy colors—solid or in mixtures and blends.

Stripes, checks, solid colors and plenty of button-down collars will be available in men's business shirts, while sports shirts with the smaller collar should predominate. Long sleeves are in for the fall, naturally, with materials ranging from silk foulard to all wool flannels.

Each year, sports clothes are becoming a more important item in the average man's wardrobe and certainly this is true here at the Beach. According to Men's Wear magazine from their survey made among men's stores of the nation, a great many men are spending more of their apparel budget on sports clothes than on matching suits.

Apparently they are finding it advantageous to have a choice of jackets and slacks to suit every occasion, including big stadium football games at which sports outfits are bound to predominate again this fall.

Tweeds and shetlands are still by far the most wanted fabrics in jackets. A big play is expected in the dark oxford grays or charcoal shades in slacks, in flannels down to the palest grays. Second choice at this time is the worsted gabardines in the better quality slacks and various blends of natural and synthetic fibers in the middle priced brackets.

Good news, fellas! Some evening wear suits for fall will come in lightweight worsted, around 10 1-2 ounces. Comfort is the keynote and why not? Single breasted and double breasted jackets are equally correct and will run neck and neck for popularity this fall. Most of the double breasted ones will have peaked lapels, with shawl collars on the single breasted.

Woman of the Week

Dale Tenney Fairless, Iowa born, attended 12 schools before she graduated from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school. Her dad was a Rock Island railroad man and daughter Dale traveled about. Graduated from the University of Iowa with a registered nurse's degree but immediately —in 1940 —married a medical student from the same temple of knowledge, Clyde J. Fairless. He became flight surgeon for a V-C 5. While he was in the Pacific, Dale opened up a 20-tot nursery school in Florida where she used up all the profits giving her students goodies to eat and toys to take home. She became the mother of Michael ("Mike") now 10, and Margo Lee, 22 months. After 11 years of fun and happiness, Dale's world crashed on March 6, 1951, when her husband was killed in Italy in an A-J-I which had been named by him "Savage."

She pulled herself up by her own bootstraps by "keeping busy." Went into the business world for the irst time. Last Saturday celebrated her first anniversary of her gift shop in the Mayflower area. She has a sub-station and a travel agency, has been 1 1-2 years in the real estate business and has interests in a construction company. November 1, she opens another shop at Chapel Hill, and next June one at Nag's head.

She's a member of the Junior Woman's Club and the Princess Anne Country Club. Plays tennis, swims, and has fun with her children and her devoted shepherd dog "Duke," who is everybody's pet.

Dale admits 32 years and is proud of it! She's 5 feet 6, has light, curly chestnut hair and bonnie-blue eyes. Two provocative dimples accent her favorite word in the dictionary "fun." She has fun with her employees, who are devoted to her and fun with and to prove it she loves to watch them play with the toys in the front of her friendly shop. She declares, in all seriousness, that "it's fun to sell toys and I'll always keep them in stock—for the grownups!" Yes, that Dale is quite a gal!"—A. B. W.

Entirely too many people try to get the upper hand by dealing from the bottom.

School bells have been ringing for several weeks now, calling our boys and girls back to school. Around 35 million boys and girls have returned to school, and with lusty appetites built up from summer's work and play. To the nation's homemakers, this means a return to regular meal schedules. Wholesome, substantial and satisfying meals will be the order of the day.

Well-fed children make good progress physically as well as mentally. This combination is necessary if human excellence is to be achieved.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that stewing chickens are plentiful. Stewing chicken, a delicious food available in greater abundance than usual at this season, can be depended upon to tempt and satisfy family appetites. It will supply needed energy for growing boys and girls. In addition, it will conserve the homemaker's energy in preparing foods for all the family and in planning reasonably priced meals.

Stewing and braising, the moist-heat methods, are used for cooking the mature, less tender chicken. Moist heat is required to soften or dissolve the connective tissue. Low to moderate temperature, irrespective of the method, with proper timing, is the rule.

Stewing is long, slow cooking in a medium to large quantity of water (moist heat) until chicken is fork tender. A heavy kettle with a tight lid is the best choice for stewing and braising.

To stew, place chicken, whole or cut up, in kettle. Add two cups of water and 1-2 teaspoon salt for each pound of chicken, including giblets (ready to cook weight). If the chicken is to be served with gravy and dumplings, biscuit or mashed potatoes, increase water to three cups. For additional flavor, one small carrot, one small onion, two or three pieces of celery. Bring water to rapid boil, reduce heat to simmer, cook gently. (Add more water as liquid boils away). Cook tightly covered until the thickest pieces are fork tender (2 1-2 to 4 hours). Remove chicken, and strain broth.

If you would like a delicious chicken pot pie, here's how:

Put chicken broth, at boiling point, in large pan so the liquid will not be too deep. Put spoonfuls of dumplings in broth. Cook 10 minutes uncovered, cover closely and cook 10 more minutes. Place chicken on large platter, arrange dumplings on top and pour gravy over.

For dumplings: Sift together 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon sugar. Add about 1-2 cup milk and stir slowly until batter is thoroughly blended. Have batter of consistency to drop by tablespoons, as for drop biscuit.

Here's a recipe for

Chicken Tetrazzini

- 2 cups cooked chicken, cubed
- 1 tablespoon sherry
- Few grains nutmeg
- 1-4 pound spaghetti
- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups Veloute sauce
- 1-3 cup grated Italian - type cheese

Break spaghetti in 1-2 - inch pieces, cook, drain. Saute mushrooms in butter. Add Veloute sauce, nutmeg, sherry. Put spaghetti in shallow baking dish, pour over one-half sauce, then chicken and mushrooms. Pour over rest of sauce. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees until browned.

Veloute Sauce

Melt 2 t. butter, blend in 3 t. flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, add 1 cup chicken broth. Stir constantly and bring to boil. Boil 2 minutes, add 1-3 cup cream and stir in quickly. Remove from heat at once.

So long, folks: See you next Thursday. LUCILE.

Down PETTICOAT LANE

Captured, the third dimension! Photography caught it first. Movies are chasing it now. And fine artist William Ward Beecher has brought it to decorating fabrics.

He has created a trend -setting third dimensional design on Riverdale cotton sailcloth for the homemaker who is searching for an exciting new look for her home. The nubby, textured cottons with their actual illusioned appearances of depth, so important this year in ready to wear and home furnishings, were natural predecessors to the "third dimensional look." These new cottons and their fine art patterns would lend importance to a previously inconspicuous chair. They would be striking either draped or stretched taut to cover a wall.

Now Mrs. Average Consumer may have "art by the yard" in her home. She can be sure of its dependability and long life because it's printed on a sturdy cotton sailcloth.

If you are a collector of odd buttons and old coins, how about making them into Christmas-gift links and earrings?

Neat trick for airing your clothes closets give your clothes a periodic "airing" right in the closet by putting an electric fan in the doorway. It will clear out the stale air in no time!

If you won't wear your glasses and want to string beads with holes too small to take a needle, dip the end of the thread into nail polish and let dry to form a needle-like point.

A cloth belt won't develop those ugly frayed threads if you paint the inner edges with clear nail polish. If the buckle is of metal, a coat of colorless polish will protect it from tarnish, and labels on your home-made jellies and preserves won't smudge or get soiled if you give them a coat of clear polish!

LADY SURPRIZED BY SEALTEST GIFT

Mrs. Katherine Stone, wife of the librarian at Mercer University, Macon, Ga., opened a cottage cheese carton and to her amazement pulled out a check for $10,000. That's how Mrs. Stone learned she was grand prize winner of the $50,000 Sealtest jingle contest sponsored all over the country by the National Dairy Products Corporation. The carton containing the big award was handed to her by W. S. Obenshain, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., zone manager of Southern Dairies, Inc.

"You've said you like what comes in Sealtest containers," he told her in making the presentation. "We hope you'll like what comes in this one."

No previous announcement had been made that Mrs. Stone headed the list of 1,713 prize winners in the nationwide contest. Her entry had been judged the best of thousands submitted. She has been competing in contests for over a year, but this was the big payoff. Earlier she had won a clothes drier and several cash prizes of from $5 to $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone, who have an 18-year-old daughter, have been at Mercer for about nine years. Previously they were at Statesboro, Ga., Teachers College, Greensboro, N. C., Woman's College, and William and Mary in Virginia.

Accompanying Mr. Obenshain to the Stone residence to present the top prize were Daniel Edge, Jr., Macon salesman for Southern Dairies, and Matthew Connor of Tucker, Wayne & Co., advertising agency.

DEATHS

James H. Fentress

Funeral services were conducted at the Oak Grove Baptist Church, in Creeds, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for James Henry Fentress, who died Sunday morning at the age of 85. Mr. Fentress, a retired farmer, was a lifelong resident of Princess Anne County, and made his home at Pungo, where death occurred.

He is survived by one son, W. L. Fentress, of Pungo; ten grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

He was the husband of the late Mrs. Virginia Frances Fentress and a member of the Creeds Church of Christ. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. A. Richardson and burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Mary D. Todd

Mrs. Mary Davis Todd, widow of Major Martillus L. Todd, formerly of Virginia Beach, died Monday, October 6, at Roper Hospital, in Roper pital, in Charleston, S. C. Funeral services will be held in Frewsburg, N. Y.

Mrs. Todd was the daughter of the late Eli Clark Davis and Isabelle Frew (White) Davis of Frewsburg. She was born there April 7, 1869.

Mrs. Todd was a member of the Poetry Society of South Carolina, and a former member of the Poetry Society of Virginia.

She is survived by two sons, Dr. M. H. Todd, of Coral Gables, Fla., and Howard Davis Todd of Charleston, S. C.; two daughters, Mrs. T. M. B. Hicks of Dallas, Pa., and Mrs. Harry D. Adams of Frewsburg, N. Y.; ten grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

A 13-in. bass, tagged last March 27 by Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries fish technicians, was recaptured July 5, 100 days later, by W. T. Westcott, approximately 200 miles from where it was tagged.

KEMPSVILLE NEWS

Fourteen new classrooms were added to the buildings, and 14 teachers to the faculty. All high school teachers are now college graduates. Six of them hold masters' degrees.

There are 657 elementary students attending a full day. The additional rooms enabled them to go off shifts. The 676 high school students are divided into: Seniors, 70; Juniors, 102; Sophomores, 131; Freshmen, 171; Eighth Grade 200.

With the increase of the student body it became necessary to add a teacher to the commercial department. Previously there had been only one.

Now that we have a larger faculty and added space, our curriculum has been improved, as follows: English, 1, 2, 3, 4; Home Economics 1, 2, 3; Physical Education; Biology; Typing 1 and 2; General Business; Science 8 Social Studies 8; Guidance Math 8; Algebra 1 and 2; Solid Geometry; Plane Geometry; Journalism; Shorthand 1 and 2; Chemistry; Latin 1 and 2; Spanish 1 and 2; French 1 and 2; Band; Driver's Training; Shop; Dramatics 1 and 2; Drafting; Speech.

Transportation was also improved with the addition of two new buses and four bus routes.

K. H. S. BAND

The Kempsville High School Band is planning a busy season. Already it has participated in the Princess Anne County Fair, a horse show sponsored by Kempsville Women's Club, and football games. Wednesday it opened the Tri-County Fair. Coming events will be the Oyster Bowl, the Turkey Bowl and a Hampton Sydney College homecoming.

Last year the band bought new uniforms and had a bill of $3,500. Now they plan activities to pay off the $2,200 balance they still owe. The band club plans a huge rummage sale of old tools, clothes, dishes, kitchen utensils and other materials that may be brought to the Kempsville Band room.

November 21, a show, "Talent Frolics of 1952," sponsored by the band and band club, will be given in the high school auditorium. Prizes will be awarded to winners according to grade levels. Excellent outside acts and personalities have agreed to participate. We hope the people of the community will back these two ventures so they may rid themselves of the deficit in the uniform budget.

Garland Barlow and Carl Moore, recent members of the band, are attending the Conservatory of Cincinnati. Garland has been elected treasurer of the freshman class. Both boys are slated to become members of the Sinfonia Fraternity.

With the band members working hard, this year is predicted to be the best year Kempsville has ever had.

TURKEY BOWL GAME

The third annual Turkey Bowl classic featuring the two top rivals of Princess Anne County, Kempsville High School's Blue Devils and Oceana High School's Cavaliers will clash on the Kempsville gridiron Friday night, November 14, at 8 o'clock.

Besides the tossing of footballs, there will be a wide array of different things: Floats, bands, guests and many excited fans.

Sharing the limelight will be the Turkey Bowl queen and her court, to be selected by the players of the Kempsville High School football team. A drawing for a Princess Anne turkey will also be featured in this array.

None of this would have been possible without the help and leadership of the Kempsville Ruritan Club, sponsors of the game. So, be sure you're not left out of the fun and excitement of the 1952 Turkey Bowl game.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Household ammonia is an excellent cleaning agent. Try washing your brush and comb in a sudsy ammonia water—one tablespoonful of ammonia to a quart of water.

Keep a good supply of rubber bands in the kitchen for wrapping jobs, such as for items wrapped with waxed paper.

You'll want a pair of kitchen shears to cut parsley, chives, and paper. Wet them for cutting figs, dates, and marshmallows.

A pair of inexpensive tongs will make many kitchen jobs easier, such as taking things out of the back of the oven, turning potatoes while they bake, stirring foods that need to be lifted gently while cooking.

Keep an extra key for every lock in the house. It may avoid a great deal of inconvenience. Have all the keys labeled or marked by a colored tag. You might keep the extra keys on a key board in the kitchen or back hall.

Wash dress shields often in warm suds. Don't rub, twist or wring. Use a brush on very soiled places. Rinse, smooth to shape and spread on bath towel to dry. Do not dry in sun or near intense heat. You may press shields slightly with warm iron.

Expert Advises On Hog Feeding

Some new twists in the old business of feeding swine are noted by George Herring, animal husbandman at VPI.

Synthetic milk seems to be practical in pig hatcheries, and also on farms where there are orphan pigs, or where more pigs are farrowed than can be nursed by the sow.

Here are Herring's suggestions for using synthetic milk:

Let pigs nurse two or three days to get essential colostrum milk.

Buy a highly fortified synthetic milk. Prepare the milk according to directions and self-feed at 88 degrees for the first two days. Self-feed at room temperature after that.

Teach pigs to drink by dipping their snouts in the warm milk. Confine pigs near the milk for two or three days until they learn to drink.

Don't put more than 10 pigs in each pen for the first four weeks. Allow three square feet per pig. When pigs are from four to eight weeks of age, allow six square feet per pig, and do not keep more than 20 pigs in one pen.

Keep pigs from chilling. Avoid floor drafts by using solid pen walls. Provide heat lamps, two for each 20 pigs. Use deep litter to protect pigs from the cold floor.

Full-feed synthetic milk for the first four weeks. Gradually decrease and remove entirely at five weeks. Each pig needs about 20 pounds of synthetic milk solids.

Use simple milk feeders. Automatic poultry founts (3 to 5-gallon size with 2 1-2 to 3-inch drinking trough), one for each 10 pigs, may be used.

SEVENTH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

Turkey Crop at High Level

Turkey releases this fall will reach an all-time high, Chester F. Phelps, chief of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries' game division, announces. Production at Cumberland Game Farm has supplied 4,000 birds from which the releases will be made. This is about double last year's production. Phelps said the record production exceeded the Commission's expectations. Facilities at the game farm were overcrowded and disease outbreak was a constant threat.

It is expected several hundred birds will be released in counties open to hunting, but these releases will be made in protected localities where the birds will have a good chance to come through the hunting season and produce brood stock next spring.

As customary, a large number of birds will be retained at the game farm to provide birds for spring releases and brood stock for next year's production.

Peace doesn't just happen. Our troops in Korea are doing part of the job. We can do ours by buying defense bonds—together we can hammer out the peace we're all looking for.

What every girl should know about cooking

Mother shows Judy how easy it is to bake, roast or broil with an electric range. No flame, less meat shrinkage, a cleaner, cooler kitchen!

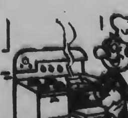

"Plug in the coffee-maker the night before, set the clock timer, and coffee's ready when we come down in the morning," explains Judy's mother.

"Use the deep-well cooker," says Mom, "not only for meals, but to make large quantities of coffee or cocoa, or soup . . . even to pop corn!"

DID YOU KNOW that with an automatic electric range you can:

Keep foods warm for long periods on low, gentle heat of surface units; prepare jams and preserves under broiler unit; use controlled, measured heat to cook frozen vegetables and fish, without water, in aluminum foil on surface units?

"Judy, our electric range takes the guesswork out of cooking. I call it 'cooking without looking' because you put a meal in the oven, set the automatic controls, and forget it while you're doing something else. Another fine thing is the way you cook on the surface units . . . set the switch for the heat you want, and you get it! Cheaper cuts of meat cook deliciously in the deep-well cooker, broiling is a delight, and you cook vegetables with so little water they retain more flavor and more vitamin values! Yes, I'm really fond of my modern electric range, daughter!"

FORT STORY NEWS

Help Celebrate

Marking of four Fort Story amphibian truck units participated in the Bicentennial Celebration in Portsmouth, Saturday, October 4. Representatives of all the armed forces took part.

Under the supervision of Capt. Clinton F. Talbert, commanding officer of the 612th Transportation Amphibious Truck Company, the four units led the military section; they were the 612th section; they were the 612th also, units of the 54th Transportation Amphibious Truck Battalion.

Chest Drive Now Underway

Fort Story's Community Chest drive got under way October 7, and will run through October 31. With Capt. S. G. Sheppard conducting the publicity campaign and Capt. J. R. Miller in charge of collections, four officers and 19 enlisted men have been designated to carry out the Post donation program.

It is expected this year's collection from Fort Story will top all previous records, due to better handling of the program and to the increased number of troops on post.

'Best Mess' Award To 612th Amphibs

Following the monthly inspection of mess halls of all units stationed at Fort Story, the mess hall of the 612th Transportation Amphibious Truck Company, under command of Capt. C. F. Talbert, was designated as September's "Best Mess." Sgt. Harry D. Hutchinson, mess steward for the 612th, received the "Best Mess" plaque, flag and trophy from Col. Henry O. LaGarde, commanding officer of Fort Story, at the noon meal Friday, October 3.

On hand to witness the presentation were the members of the unit, Captain Talbert, and the 54th Transportation Amphibious Truck Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. Herbert N. Reed.

Robt. Gregory Has Best Truck

September 27, the half-ton pickup truck driven by civilian employe Robert Gregory Jr., of Virginia Beach, was chosen by inspection officer Lt. F. M. Dowds as the best of the 61 vehicles inspected. Gregory, who has worked two years with the Post Motor Pool, was given an embossed card to carry on his vehicle's windshield, bearing the legend, "Best Vehicle, Post Motor Pool."

The distinction indicates the quality of maintenance performed on the vehicle and the driving ability of the operator.

Excellent Safety Record Maintained

During September, Fort Story's superior vehicle safety record was maintained, only two minor mishaps occurring in 119,977 miles driven in government vehicles. The 606th Transportation Amphibious Truck Company led with 11,508 miles and no accidents. A total of 63,036 miles driven, accident-free, was the record of the Post Motor Pool.

Constant inspections, safety reminders, and instructions on the proper maintenance and operation of military and civilian vehicles is principally responsible for the low accident rate among Fort Story's drivers.

Story Bowlers Take Yorktown

Thursday, October 2, the Fort Story bowling team met and conquered the team of the Yorktown Naval Mine Depot, at the Fort Story alleys, by a score of 3-0. High Fort Story man was Pfc. Norman Cooper, of the military police detachment.

New Phoning Facilities at Fort

In order to facilitate the making and receiving of long distance calls to and from Fort Story, the Service Clubs have recently been opened to the military personnel of the post, freeing official telephones for government business. The new schedule calls for the clubs to be open at 9 a. m., every effort being made to contact persons to whom incoming calls have been placed.

JET JEEP . . . Now XR-6B jet 'copter goes through paces at Torrance, Calif. This jet jeep is army's smallest, will make 80 m.p.h., reach 5,000 feet and stay for two hours.

Civil Service Holding Exams

A Civil Service examination for clerk is now open, it was stated this week by Merrill C. White, Recorder of the Board of the U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk.

This examination is being held to fill future vacancies at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base; U. S. Fleet Air Defense Training Center, Dam Neck, Virginia Beach; Fort Story; U. S. Naval Air Station, Oceana; and at all other Federal establishments in Princess Anne County. Entrance salaries for these positions will range from $2,500 to $3,175 per year.

A written test is required for this examination.

Applications will be accepted until further notice by the Recorder, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, Va.

Blue Devils Lose To Great Bridge

The fighting Kempsville Blue Devils, leading throughout most of the game, lost their third straight football game last Friday night, bowing to Great Bridge by a score of 12 to 7.

The Blue Devils led by a 7 to 0 count through most of the contest, but Great Bridge's Ray Ambrose caught five, scoring twice for the invaders to wrap up the game. Great Bridge missed both extra point tries.

Kempsville had 7 to 0 as a result of Stevenson's fine run in the opening period. Kempsville's star back, Paul Vestal, carried over for the extra point.

The game was closely played with Kempsville holding the upper hand most of the way. However, the Great Bridge aggregation wore the lighter Kempsville squad down and prevailed at the end.

JAMES WHEATON GETS COMBAT BADGE IN KOREA

Army Pfc. James A. Wheaton of Rt. 1, Virginia Beach, now serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman badge. It is a symbol of the frontline fighting man, and consists of a miniature Revolutionary War rifle mounted on a blue rectangle with a silver wreath.

Wheaton, who arrived in Korea in December, 1951, is a member of Headquarters Company, First Battalion of the 5th Infantry. Before entering the Army in June, 1951, he was employed as a stock clerk by Rose's store here.

Winter Cover Good for Gardens

Planting a winter cover crop in the garden will provide the soil with organic matter, a determining factor in success or failure.

Vegetable gardening specialists at VPI say a consistent cause of failure of home gardens is the shortage of organic materials in the soil. The organic material increases water-holding capacity of soil, and helps make plant food available for vegetables.

If seeded before a killing frost, use one part Italian rye grass and three parts of crimson clover. After a killing frost, use winter oats, barley or wheat. If the cover crop is not seeded until late October or early November, use Abruzzi rye. Seed thick for best results. Another good source of organic matter is manure.

The location of the home garden is important. If you need to move your garden, now is a good time to do it. The shape of the garden is important, the best is rectangular, rows running the long way. If the garden is on a slope, the rows should run across the slope.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:

Arithmetic.....B
Geography.....B-
Spelling.....C
Grammar.....B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall—before all the students—and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat . . . what we should wear . . . whether we should enjoy beer or buttermilk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

BLOODMOBILE TO VISIT BEACH COMMUNITY HOUSE OCTOBER 17

Under sponsorship of the Virginia Beach Civitan Club, the Red Cross Bloodmobile will make a visit to the resort next Friday afternoon, October 17, and will receive blood from donors between the hours of 12 noon and six o'clock in the evening, it has been announced.

The continuing need for blood and blood derivitives to save the lives of our wounded in Korea and in hospitals in this country means a steadily flowing supply, and stockpiling the valuable essences against the unpredictable future means that the supply must be stepped up.

Both members of the Civitan Club and local Red Cross workers urge that every potential donor make a point to report to the Community House on Arctic Avenue next Friday afternoon and volunteer their most precious gift. The hours have been arranged for the convenience of the average donor. No appointment is necessary, but will be appreciated to facilitate the work.

Democrats Open Resort Offices

Stevenson - Sparkman campaign headquarters office will open in Virginia Beach within the next few days, it has been announced by officials of the local Democratic party.

The headquarters will be located on Atlantic avenue at 21st street and will be manned by volunteers.

Recently the Princess Anne County Democratic committee enthusiastically endorsed the national Democratic ticket and much activity among he Democrats has been in evidence within the past few weeks.

Governor Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, visited Virginia several weeks ago and many local party leaders were on hand to greet him in Richmond.

It was announced that headquarters would be open daily from now until election day, November 4. Anyone wishing to work in the headquarters office are invited to do so.

Little Theatre To Stage Drive For Members

The annual Membership Drive at the Virginia Beach Little Theater will open on October 13, and as an inducement to new members as well as to regular patrons, the schedule of plays for the 1952-53 season is announced.

Mrs. Robert Hofheimer, chairman of the reading committee, said the first play to be presented on Oecober 28 and 29, will be the farce-comedy, "Brighten the Corner," by John Cecil Holm. Following this will be "The Two Mrs. Carrolls," a mystery melodrama. The third play will be either Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life," or the comedy - fantasy "Mister Angel." The final production of the season will be "Harvey."

The box-office for the membership drive will be located at the Chamber of Commerce, 2116 Atlantic avenue. Season tickets are to be picked up at the box-office by both old and new members. Old members not yet contacted by the membership committee, headed by Mrs. J. W. Sills and Mrs. Carey Pennington, are asked to call Mrs. Sills at 161-J to reserve their season tickets.

JOE L. MILLER NAMED NATIONAL AIDE-DE-CAMP

Commander-in-Chief James W. Cothran, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, has announced the appointment of Joe L. Miller, of V. F. W. Post No. 7166, Virginia Beach, as a national aide de camp.

The appointment of Mr. Miller was made by Commander-in-Chief Cothran on recommendation of Department Commander John L. Simpson in recognition of his outstanding record of service on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Haycox Attends Builders' Meeting

Members of the State Registration Board for Contractors will meet at the Cavalier Hotel today with L. J. Boxley, of Roanoke, chairman, presiding.

Other members of the board are Fred A. Haycox, vice-chairman; E. J. Keegan, of Richmond, and F. L. Showalter, of Lynchburg. R. P. Liphart, of Richmond, a former member, will also attend the meeting.

The meeting is the fall meeting of the board and will open at 10 a. m., today.

The field and office staffs of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries will cooperate with the public in observance of "Natural Resources Week" beginning October 12, as proclaimed by Governor Battle, I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission, announces.

Cooke P-TA to Work for Added School Rooms

The Parent - Teacher Association of the Willoughby T. Cooke school has undertaken, for this year's project, the addition of 12 new rooms for the school facility.

The project was adopted Monday night at the first meeting of the association which served to introduce parents to the new teachers. Mrs. T. Cornell Berry, president, presided.

It was also decided that in the future the association's meetings will be held at night on the first Monday of each month. Heretofore, meetings were held in the afternoons.

A committee was named to meet with the city school board at its November meeting. Members of this committee include Mrs. James Bennett, Mrs. J. Douglas Hubard, John L. Tucker, W. Hugh Kitchin, Jr., Herbert A. Holt, Jr. Mrs. Berry serves on all committees.

It was announced that defense stamps will be on sale at the school each Thursday.

TB Association Meets in Capital

Plans were announced this week for the fall conference of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association to be held in Richmond, October 16 and 17. Between 150 and 200 persons, representing VTA and its 112 local affiliated associations in the state, are expected to attend.

In announcing plans for the conference, William T. Luck, VTA president, stated that one session would be devoted to a presentation and discussion of the Study of Tuberculosis in Virginia—1952, now under way. Speakers for the session will be Dr. Mack I. Shanholtz, state health commissioner, and Robert Barrie, VTA executive director.

Another session of the meeting will deal with local tuberculosis association activities. Speakers will include Dr. A. L. Kruger of Norfolk, who will discuss general admission X-ray program in hospitals, and Miss Mary Roe of the Patrick Henry Tuberculosis Association who will describe a rehabilitation project for home-bound patients.

Other features of the meeting will include a session on state association activities and the presentation of plans for the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale in Virginia. Parke Rouse, Jr., of Williamsburg will preside at the latter session.

Among other activities planned are meetings of the VTA executive committee and also a session of the organization's board of directors. The executive committee of the Virginia Conference of Tuberculosis Workers will also meet while the meeting is in progress.

All sessions of the conference will be held at the auditorium of the Southern States Cooperative.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDS DEDICATION

The dedication of First Baptist Church, Virginia Beach, will be held November 2. Special services are scheduled for morning and evening of that day.

Rehearsals for a large youth choir, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Gimbert, are being held on Sundays at 7 p. m. This choir will furnish music for the evening services.

In the top photograph are seated officers of the W. T. Cooke Parent-Teacher Association. They are: Mrs. T. Cornell Berry, president; Mrs. James Bennett, vice-president; Mrs. R. F. Davis, corresponding secretary: Mrs. J. A. White, treasurer, and Mrs. L. O. Clark, Jr., recording secretary.

In the bottom photo are officers of the Virginia Beach High School Association. They are: seated, Mrs. Hugh Winters, recording secretary; Mrs. Reid W. Digges, president; Mrs. H. F. Fentress, corresponding secretary; standing, Andrew T. Moore, vice-president; Allen Tyler, treasurer, and James A. Johnson, school principal.

AntiOrganization Forces Line Up For Stevenson

Virginia's anti - organization forces are giving full suport to the Stevenson - Sparkman national ticket, according to W. Russell Hatchett, former Virginia Beach town manager.

Hatchett attended a meeting of the group several days ago at Old Point Comfort a which time it was agreed that "this is no time for division within the party" and the group pledged 100 per cent support to Nelson Parker, State Democratic chairman, in his directorship of the Stevenson-Sparkman campaign in Virginia.

In an interview, Hatchett reported that the meeting was presided over by Francis Pickens Miller, of Albemarle, and Robert Whitehead, of Lovington, both staunch opponents of the Democratic organization in Virginia.

The group declared the Virginia campaign for Stevenson and Sparkman "needs support of every Democrat in Virginia."

"As loyal Democrats we stand shoulder to shoulder with Nelson Parker, the official leader of our party in this campaign."

Local Moose Enter C. Gurley In Competition

Virginia Beach Moose Lodge 1682 has forwarded the name of Charles L. Gurley to Moose Safety Award judges at Mooseheart, Ill., as this city's entry in the fraternity's Youth Honor Day Safety Awards conest for 1952, according to Charlie Terry, secretary of the local Moose Lodge.

The decision of the local committee was determined by the fact that Charles Gurley has done much safety work in the past season as school patrol and worked on the city playgrounds all summer while school was out helping to take care of small children, and promoting safety wherever he could.

The local winner will be presented with an embossed parchment certificate of merit, containing his name and signed by Malcom R. Giles, the director general of the Moose, and Bobby Benson, child cowboy star of the Mutual Broadcasting System, on Moose Youth Honor Day, October 31, during a celebration in his honor at the local Moose quarters.

In addition to this certificate, Charles Gurley will also have a chance to win one of the four regional prizes, an all-expense trip to Mooseheart, Ill., the Moose "Child City," for himself, mother, father or adult chaperone, October 31, where Bobby Benson will award the four winners with gold wrist watches during a gigantic coast to coast broadcast.

Bobby Benson is heard locally over radio station WSAP, at 5 p. m. every Monday on his popular B-Bar-B Riders program.

SCHOOL SAVING STAMPS NOW AVAILABLE AT POST OFFICE

The Virginia Beach post office has a plentiful supply of Schools Savings Stamps and albums ready for the new school season, Postmaster Howard S. Myers has announced. "We have received shipments of both stamps and albums during the summer recess and are fully prepared to continue serving all of our schools," he added.

Myers also stated: "There is every reason to anticipate a far heavier demand for Savings Stamps this year than at any time during the peacetime years. The School Savings campaign last fall, which proved such an outstanding success, created keen interest in the program on the part of teachers and students. The drive, which added 5,815 new school savings programs throughout the country, will be continued during the first semester of this school year. It is expected that nearly 5 million students will be in Stamp Day schools by the end of this calendar year.

"It is hard to visualize the great benefit this one program will have for our country with 5 million children saving nickels and dimes and building the habit of thrift. School savings have been on the uptrend the past three years, and stamp sales in the nation's schools increased from $10 million, 800 thousand in 1950 to $14 million in the 1951-52 school year."

Postmaster Myers announced that the new improved Series E Bonds are available. In describing the new bond he said: "It is better than ever. Your return on this bond is 3 per cent, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. It also provides higher cash values in the earlier years. Proof of its popularity is evidenced by the feat that the cash value of E Bonds now outstanding has mounted to $34.9 billion, the highest ever attained."

Junior Women Plan Campaign To Get Out Vote

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County held its second business meeting of the year Tuesday night at the Community House at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. V. A. Etheridge presiding.

It was announced that Mrs. V. A. Etheridge, Mrs. Frederick Trummer with Mrs. W. W. Connell, Jr., as alternate, were elected delegates to the district meeting held yesterday, October 8, in Williamsburg. The following Juniors also attended the meeting: Mrs. P. S. Cook, Mrs. William Ferrell, Mrs. D. M. Malbon, Mrs. John A. Tucker, Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr., Miss Faye Kilpatrick and Mrs. Joseph LaGiglia, senior advisor to the Junior Woman's Club.

If you should see a very colorful jeep loaded down with beautiful girls going about the county and Virginia Beach you should realize that it is a Junior Woman's Club reminder that November 4 is election day and that it is your privilege to VOTE. Regardless of how you vote, PLEASE VOTE.

The Juniors will man a car pool for people who need transportation to the polls on election day, November 4. A temporary telephone has been installed in the Welfare Bank at the Community House. The number is Virginia Beach 260. Don't hesitate if there is some reason you don't have transportation. Just call the Juniors.

A dance and a fashion show are planned by the JWC for Friday night, November 14, at 8 o'clock at the American Legion on Laskin Road, with all proceeds going to the JWC Building Fund. Mrs. W. W. Connell, Jr., and Mrs. William P. Kellam are co-chairmen. All models for the show will be members of the Junior Women's Club.

The next social meeting will be held October 21 at the American Legion. Mrs. M. K. Cox will be in charge of the program, which will get under way at 8:00 p. m.

Johnson-Malbon Cases Engaging PA Court Today

The trials of Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and Princess Anne County Sheriff C. Roger Malbon are scheduled to open today in the Princess Anne County Circuit Court. Judge R. J. Sheddler will sit in place of Judge Floyd E. Kellam.

The two public officials have been charged by some fifteen petitioners that "they have failed to enforce the law and have permitted open gambling and illegal sale of intoxicants" within their prospective areas of law enforcement.

Signers of the complaint against the two officials include J. E. C. Davis, T. J. Barnes, Leo Billey, John H. Bell, Geo. W. Syer, Catherine Hardy, Mary E. Hall, Jeanette West, G. C. Marshall, J. J. Smithson Sr., W. R. Payne, Lonnie WiWdgeon, Rosa Heath and Rosa Bridges.

Two of the complainants are former candidates for council. They are John H. Bell, who was defeated the past June, and T. J. Barnes, who lost out in his bid for a council seat some two years ago.

The officials have labeled the charges against them as being politically motivated and each has indicated that their names would be cleared.

Several weeks ago E. W. Smith, commissioner of the revenue for Virginia Beach, was cleared of charges against his office. He, too, had blamed the suit on politics.

BEACH HI SCHOOL STUDENT BODY ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers of the Student Body of the Virginia Beach High School were elected Wednesday afternoon, with Edward Mott heading the group as president.

Other officers elected Wednesday were: Kitty Jager, vice-president; Julia Vakos, secretary, and Lena Huttenpillar, treasurer.

Woman's Club Will Celebrate 27th Anniversary

The Princess Anne Woman's Club will celebrate its 27th annual birthday luncheon, October 14, at the Pine Tree Inn. The program chairman, Mrs. Frances Kellam, has selected as the guest speaker, Mrs. R. R. Schweitzer.

Mrs. Schweitzer is the state vice-president of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs and is immediate past treasurer of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. Prior to this office, she was chairman of the resolution committee and Sixth District president. She is, at present, serving as president of the Fortnightly Study Club of Norfolk

ALFRED TAYLOR NAMED TO HEAD LOCAL CHEST DRIVE

Alfred T. Taylor, well known Princess Anne County businessman, has been named general chairman of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Co[mmunity] Chest campaign, which opens October 20, it has been announced by Fred A. Haycox, president of the chest.

Taylor has been quite active in civic affairs in the county and in Virginia Beach for the past several years. He resides in Birdneck Point.

While no definite goal has been set for this year's drive, an organization and kickoff meeting scheduled for Tuesday night will determine the exact amount of funds needed this year. It is expected that the goal will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Chairman Taylor stated that "to conduct a successful drive for funds the drive must be concentrated within the days set for the campaign and that teamwork was the most important requiremen." He urged all residents to give to their local chest drives.

With the announcement of Taylor's appointment, Howard S. Myers, Virginia Beach postmaster, was named vice-chairman of the drive and will head the Virginia Beach division of the campaign.

Myers has been very active in American Legion work and is a former commander of the Princess Anne Post 113.

Myers indicated that Virginia Beach would be divided into two sections, business and residential. He announced that key businessmen would be assigned areas to canvass in the business district and that the ladies, as in the past, will handle solicitations in the residential sections.

The drive for this year is scheduled to close on October 31 and chest officials are confident that the necessary funds to operate the participating agencies for the coming year may be raised during the dates set for the drive.

As in the past, all donors who are not contacted by chest workers may send in their contributions to drive headquarters at the City Hall in Virginia Beach.

Underwater Teams Operate South of Virginia Beach

The big pay-off for the latest crop of underwater demolition team candidates began Monday on the sandy beaches of Camp Pendleton, just south of Virginia Beach.

Under supervision of Lt. (jg) William Beard, USN, "Frogman" training officer, Atlantic fleet, the candidates will have about two weeks to show their instructors how much they have learned during the past 11 weeks of training.

Day and night, "Frogman" candidates will blast beach obstacles. They will work inland penetration problems. The group of five officers and 46 enlisted personnel will familiarize themselves with small-arms and the techniques used in hand-to-hand combat.

When the bivouac ends, October 18, a final screening will be held. A two-week course in map reading and aerial photo interpretation follows at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek.

After this school is completed the men will be qualified as full-fledged "Frogmen" and divided between underwater demolition teams 2 and 4. The teams are attached to Naval Beach Group Two, a unit of the Atlantic amphibious force commanded by Vice Adm. F. G. Fahrion, USN.

Local Post Office Now Depository For Postal Savings

The further growth of Virginia Beach has again been recognized by the United States Post Office Department revealed in an announcement this week by Virginia Beach Postmaster, Howard M. Myers.

Myers announces that the local post office has been designated a postal savings depository by the Federal government, a designation never before realized by the local branch and one awarded to those offices of the larger classification. The new service became effective on October 1.

In addition to the announcement concerning postal savings, Myers disclosed that the local office had been authorized four new regular mail routes and two new supervisors.

Three veteran members of the Virginia Beach post office staff were promoted at the same time. Al E. Ansell and Joe E. Miller were elevated from the grade of clerk to clerk in charge, and Leslie E. Dyer was made a regular clerk.

Myers announced that the Birdneck Point area had been taken into the regular city mail service and that rural mail service had been extended to include the Linlear section.

12th BIRTHDAY OF CHESAPEAKE CLUB TO BE OBSERVED

First District representative, Edward J. Robertson, will be the guest speaker at the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club twelfth birthday luncheon, October 14, at 1 p. m., at the Princess Anne Country Club. Mrs. L. L. Dillon, president of the club, will preside. Mrs. E. A. Hudson will be the program chairman.

Mrs. J. Polansky will present a dramatic reading of Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees," while Mrs. P. L. Early sings the lyrics accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Newsome. Mrs. Polansky will also present a reading of a poem written by a club member, Mrs. W. J. Etheridge, "Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club of 1952-53."

Etheridge Named On Committee

State Senator V. Alfred Etheridge, of Princess Anne County, has been named to a committee for the conservation of fin fish, it has been announced by the Hon. Robert C. Vaden, of Gretna, president pro tem of the Virginia Senate.

Etheridge was named along with Senator E. L. Breeden, of Norfolk, representing the senate, and T. J. Walton, of Norfolk County, W. T. Murphy, of Warsaw, and Wrendo Godwin, of Accomack, from the House of Representatives.

The appointments were announced by E. R. Combs, clerk to the Senate, in Richmond on Wednesday.

Atlantic Ave. Beautification Begins Soon

The Virginia State Highway Department has allocated $50,000 for the beautification of Atlantic avenue. Work is slated to begin around November 1.

This announcement came a few days ago and is a result of untiring efforts of the planning commission of the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

A few weeks ago, the Council of Garden Clubs staged its first money raising campaign, a fashion presentation "The Women's Ticket" at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club, and so much interest was shown due to the enthusiasm of Beach residents looking toward the Council of Garden Club beautification plan that every seat in the clubroom was taken and there was standing room only for a large throng of patrons. From this event, to date $2,800 has been realized representing ticket sales to Fashion Show and additional contributions from interested residents.

The Council wishes to express its sincere thanks to all who contributed so generously, both in donations and those who worked so diligently in the door-to-door campaign.

The Council Planning Commission made a trip to Richmond on September 30 to confer with Gen. J. A. Anderson, Highway Commissioner, and H. J. Neale, Landscape Engineer. It was at this conference that the commission was given a letter of understanding and agreement as to just what could be expected from the State Department. In order that everyone may be informed, the letter follows this article.

Those members of the commission making the trip to Richmond for the conference were: Mrs. Rudolph Watson, Mrs. Frank Burleson, Mrs. Floyd Dorsaire, Mrs. Lester Gayle, Mrs. Kate Bamman and Mrs. Gilmore Tilbrook.

Following consultation with the State Department, the Planning Commission met with Frederic Huette on October 2, to get additional advice on suitable planting material and information as to various nurseries where it could be purchased and for help and advice on planning of the planting. Mr. Huette is widely known for the outstanding accomplishment he has made in the Azalea Gardens, located so close to us.

Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tilbrook is president of the Council of Garden Clubs. Other officers are: Mrs. George T. Mullen, vice president; Mrs. Nathan Bundy, treasurer; Miss Mary Johns, recording secretary and Mrs. W. H. Webster, corresponding secretary.

Of the $50,000 being spent by the Commonwealth of Virginia, $25,000 has been paid to the Norfolk and Southern Railway for the right-of-way and the remaining $25,000 will be spent in basic landscape work, including grading and seeding and preparing the strip for planting. It is up to the Council of Garden Clubs to furnish the shrubs and trees, and as can be readily seen, more funds are needed for the purchase of these items. Should anyone desire to make a further contribution, they may do so by addressing it to P. O. Box 33, Virginia Beach or by contacting any member of the Council of Garden Clubs.

Those who have sent in contributions since the Fashion Show at the Beach Club include: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Royster, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richardson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Phelan, Mrs. Harriett W. Hobbs, Mrs. Charlotte E. Gregory, Mrs. Ruth B. [illegible]son, Mrs. Henley, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Vesey, Mrs. E. R. [illegible]den, Jr., Mrs. Helen Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGrath, Mrs. Florence Wilson, Virginia Beach Real Estate Board, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible]well Gary, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hershey, Mrs. A. L. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. (Dusk) Darden, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. George Meredith, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Levin, Mrs. [illegible] Gibson, Capt. and Mrs. C. WIDENING PROJECT

Oceana Air Station, $759,000 per month; Dam Neck, $300,000 per month; Fort Story, $317,000 per month.

These are the sums which are paid into federal installations in Princess Anne County. Just what does this $1,376,000 monthly payroll mean to us?

There is every reason to assume that a substantial portion of this vast sum is spent within the confines of the county. At any rate, it represents a respectable portion of the business enjoyed by our retail establishments. Which raises a most interesting problem: Shall we chase the serviceman out—or invite him in?

Laying that question temporarily aside, we note with interest the naming by Governor Battle of a number of committees to study various phases of legislative action, among them a ten-man group to study the present ABC system. We hail the appointment of such a committee because it indicates that men in high places, as well as in low, are not thoroughly satisfied with the present laws controlling the dispensation of, and consumption of, ardent spirits.

We spoke last week of the wide, deep channels through which the municipal ship was being navigated by competent pilot and crew. But there is one of these channels, which while deep enough, is far from being wide—unless we continually take soundings and navigate at times in the shoals beyond the channel buoys. That is the channel of law enforcement as concerns these same ardent spirits.

The law is explicit—and narrow. Whether or not it is a good law can best be measured by how well it is obeyed. If it is observed more in the breach than in the observance, it is certainly an open question. Let us examine it briefly:

First, it allows the perfectly legal purchase of ardent spirits by any sober citizen of legal age. Then it imposes rigid restrictions upon that citizen as to the manner or place in which he may put it to its end use—consumption.

And here is where the service man steps back into our picture. Legally, the service man may purchase liquor—but legally he has a difficult if not almost impossible time of consuming his legal purchase.

We are not attempting to excuse the "nip joint." But it is reasonable to suppose they will attempt operation to furnish the serviceman (and some few of his non-service compatriots) the "shot" he desires—and which satisfies his thirst for the alcoholic beverage.

Some would allow the sale of whiskey by the drink at restaurant and strictly-policed taverns—as in many of the 48 states. Is this the solution?

Others would amend the present laws to allow semi-private consumption and eliminate the penalty for opened bottles. Will this solve the quandry?

Certain it is that this is not a problem with all servicemen—as it is not with all civilians. Some do not drink—a much larger percentage than would be supposed. Others have their own homes—even as you and I.

But the serviceman—perhaps to a greater degree than all other groups—is clannish. Deny his buddy and you deny him.

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are not alone upon the horns of the dilemna of strict or loose law enforcement on this issue. It exists in every locality where servicemen are stationed . . . and is being met by each locality in its own way. For each community wishes the serviceman to be friendly with that community, to like it enough to spend his money there and take an interest in such community efforts as he is able.

As we see it, discussion of the problem on its moral basis alone is out of the question. Where morality and fact clash in this workaday world, we must cope with the facts.

So the question remains. Here is the deep, narrow channel of strict law enforcement—there the shoals of a modicum of laxity. We sincerely hope that the new Governor's Committee can resolve the difficulties which now hamper a practical solution to the problem.

"ARMISTICE" DAY

Regardless of whether you are for Adlai or for Ike, we believe that next Friday, October 17, should be declared a political "Armistice Day"—even though the heat of the campaign is growing ever hotter. For on that day, the Bloodmobile, under the auspices of the local Civitan Club, will be at Virginia Beach to take your most precious donation.

Our wounded in Korea and in hospitals in this country are not concerned primarily with politics—but they are concerned with, and need, your blood to aid them in their valiant fight for life and health.

If you are of average good health your duty is manifestly clear— Call the Red Cross headquarters now and make your appointment . . . or visit the Bloodmobile next Friday without an appointment—but GIVE!

CREDIT WHERE DUE

We know that the good folks of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County can be counted upon not to "show the white feather" when Red Feather time comes beginning October 20th. That they have amply proven in past years.

But we are concerned over the contributions of those who reside in the County or at the Beach and earn their livelihood elsewhere. Give where you work, if you find it the best policy (although it would be better if the gift were given at home)—but if you do give where you work, make sure that your contribution is credited to the community in which you live.

And the reason is the commonsense one that the community in which you live should benefit by your gift . . . and it cannot and will not unless it goes to that community.

If you have already given where you work outside the county, and we understand some have, tomorrow check and make sure your contribution is properly assigned to the place in which you reside.

The Editor's Mail Box

To the Editor of The Virginia Beach Sun-News:

About forty years ago I first set foot on the soil of Virginia Beach. Throughout the years I have witnessed it emerge from its swaddling clothes to maturity.

Once a one-horse town infected by malarial mosquitos expanded to a town of prominence and note. As a summer resort it is unexcelled, and in banking and commerce it has made good strides. With its beautiful hotels, residences, theatres, churches, schools it can vie with any modern city. But the cycle of evolution would not be complete unless it has a Public Library—as an inspirational center.

Years ago a one or two sheet newspaper called "Sand" was edited. Years later a University known as the "Atlantic University" was established here. Both of these enterprises died a premature death.

But times have changed, also the population. Most of the residents of today are literary and cultured minded and a library where young and old could enrich themselves in knowledge would be a great asset and well patronized. It would be a center where the learned ones and the ones to learn would be able to spend hours of leisure and browse among books. It would stand out as a landmark to Virginia Beach and a living memorial to the generous and civic minded citizens of Virginia Beach.

If I am not among the first ones to espouse this cause I hope I am not one among the last ones.

I Remember . . .

From Miss Pearl Mineur, Harwood, Texas:

I remember the hack my father used to drive. He burnt candles for lights. They were enclosed in glass to protect the flame from the wind. They were used on buggies.

From Mrs. Rose Ramser, Griffith, Ind.:

I remember when my brother swallowed a two-cent piece. So we fed him mashed potatoes every time he was hungry.

From Amelia Doctor, Denver: I remember when women wore long, heavy black veils at the funerals of close relatives, and the men wore a black crepe band on their hats and coat sleeves. Black clothes were worn for a whole year after the death of a member of the family.

From Mary Karch, Lakeview, Ohio:

I remember when father used to get the auger and some hollowed-out spiggots. He would tap the maple or sugar trees, and we boiled the sap down into a delicious maple syrup. We used the sweetened water to make delicious sassafras tea.

From Sam Williams, Fairmont, W. Va.:

I remember when palm leaf fans were used to keep the air stirring in churches and at public gatherings.

From Mrs. Fannie Lester, Ringgold, La.:

I remember when people wanted to paint their faces they went to the woods and got a bud off of a red oak bush, mashed it and used it for face rouge. There were no beauty parlors. When mother wished to dye some cloth, she boiled the red oak bark and put coppers in it to set it. It made a dull blue.

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: Every family used to have hop vines in the front yard or garden from which the hops were gathered to make yeast for bread or poultices.

From Amelia Doctor, Denver: I remember when the floors in our houses were so cold that the children had to sit around the stove and put their feet in the oven to keep them warm.

From Jack Cox, Larkspur, Calif.: I remember the first rifle I ever saw. I watched Grandad make it. He patterned it after the Kentucky muzzle loading squirrel rifle. I learned to shoot it when I was seven, but the barrel was too heavy so he cut off 18 inches. He and Dad wound their big watches with keys. They made a sun dial for mother by sawing off the end of a log and marking the four directions on it. They put a stick in the middle to throw a shadow on large nails for the hours and small nails for the half-hours.

Theatre-Co-Round Plans Winter Season at Former Terrace Club

Plans are being made to stage winter plays at the Shirine Beach Club by the popular Theatre-Co-Round group of Broadway players, it has been announced by Leslie Savage, director of the theatrical unit.

In announcing plans for six plays this winter, each to run for two weeks, Miss Savage disclosed that the clubhouse between 67th and 68th streets will also offer an innovation for Virginia Beach in that it will house the Fourth Act Club, which will afford relaxation during the evening hours. The club will be run separately from the Theatre-Co-Round and will be open to other than theatre patrons.

Miss Savage said that the club would be opened on November 1 and that season tickets for the six plays will also go on sale within the next two weeks. Season tickets will sell for $10 and will be good for all plays through the winter.

Miss Savage announced that many of the players who performed in the tent on 31st street the past summer would return to Virginia Beach for the winter plays. She announced a change in the schedule of plays in that they will be put on each evening from Tuesday to Sunday of each week.

Plans also call for a dramatics class to be conducted by Miss Savage. Auditions will be held for this and the class will open on November 1.

The adversity of today is surely a man-made condition—and it is up to man to remedy it.

We can be thankful that for the most part American youth are defending goal lines, rather than border lines.

Col. Wm. Powers Is Honored

A testimonial dinner in honor of District Engineer Col. William Powers, Norfolk District, Corps of Engineers, was held October 8, by the Hampton Roads Civic Forum.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of engineers, Washington, D.C., was a speaker at the dinner. Senator A. Willis Robertson, Hon. Porter Hardy, Jr., and Col. Benjamin B. Talley, division engineer, North Atlantic Division, New York, were among the invited guests.

Hampton Roads Civic Forum is composed of representatives of the Chambers of Commerce of Norfolk, Portsmouth, South Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Newport News, Norfolk Port Authority, area Planning Engineers, Junior Chambers of Commerce, and other developmental organizations.

The purpose of the forum is to provide an opportunity to discuss on an informal and non-official level problems concerning community development in the Hampton Roads area.

Mr. Jewell, forum president, said that the Civic Forum wished to express appreciation to Colonel Powers for the "outstanding contribution of time, effort, and—above all—his cooperation in developing the Hampton Roads communities."

The dinner was held in the Monticello Hotel.

Floridians Are Entertained by C of C

Twenty-seven visitors from Florida were in Virginia Beach Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and were entertained by representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The Floridans were headed by William Rolleston, of Marineland, and were entertained at the Trafton Chalfonte with cocktails and dinner at the Essex House. They spent the night at the Cavalier Hotel and toured the beachfront on Wednesday morning.

The group was in charge of Parker Nelson, of the Virginia Travel Council, Richmond.

Farm Conservation Program Underway In Princess Anne

From now until December 1, farmers of Princess Anne County can sign requests for assistance under the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to R. W. Lane, chairman of the PMA county committee. He said the plan for conducting the program on a "farm-by-farm" basis, which was tried out in Amelia County in 1952, will be in effect in all Virginia counties this year. The purpose is to center conservation efforts on the practices most needed on each farm.

To assure the most effective use of the ACP assistance available to Princess Anne County for 1953 Mr. Lane said community committeemen, elected August 29, will conduct a field survey. In a personal on-farm discussion with the farm operator, the plan for carrying out the most effective practices for each farm will be developed. The PMA committeemen will give each operator at that time a chance to sign up for 1953 ACP assistance.

The chairman noted that "the amount of aid will vary with the need, size and type of farming operations, and in accordance with the amount of money which Princess Anne county is allocated. Local farmers find that ACP is an incentive to carry out far more soil and water conservation than that for which they receive assistance in part."

Conservation plans developed by any other county agricultural agencies will be considered in setting up a farm's 1953 conservation program, Mr. Lane said.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that within the above described zone all construction shall be in conformance with an ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, on July 28th, 1952, and certain amendments thereto adopted September 22nd, 1952. Said ordinance being known as the Interim Zoning Ordinance.

The minimum construction cost of any single-family residence shall be $6,000.00. Minimum cost for a duplex shall be $12,000.00. Minimum for an apartment shall be $4,000.00 a family unit. The figures named shall apply to the actual construction cost of the dwelling unit, excluding cost of lot, grounds or garage.

No business of any kind is to be maintained in this area except that of a resident doctor.

No signs are to be allowed except real estate signs for the sale or rental of property on the actual premises to be sold or rented.

No garage apartments shall be built or maintained except in connection with a residence.

No hogs, goats, cows or horses shall be maintained.

This ordinance does not apply to any conditions in existence at the time of its passage. Buildings or uses which do not conform to this law may continue in the purpose for which they were intended. Whenever they are changed to conform, they may not again be devoted to any prohibited use.

Should any section of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid by the Court, such decision shall not affect its validity as a whole or any part except that provision which was declared invalid.

Any person who so wished may appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals, as provided by law. The said Board may, in appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the application of the terms of this ordinance in accordance with its general purpose and intent.

This ordinance shall be enforced by the building inspector, his agents, employees, and any violation thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than fifty dollars $50.00) or by confinement in jail for a period of not exceeding thirty (30) days either or both. Each day of continuous violation shall be considered a separate offense.

NOTICE

VIRGINIA: County of Princess Anne.

Notice is hereby given that the REGULAR MEETING of the Board of Supervisors will be held at 10 o'clock A. M. Monday, October 27th, 1952, at which time persons will be heard who wish to speak FOR or AGAINST the following proposed ordinance:

Zoning Ordinance
Indian River Road—Military Highway

An ordinance to regulate and restrict in the interest of public health, safety, morals, comforts, prosperity, and general welfare the location of buildings and other structures and premises within that area of Princess Anne County, Virginia, an area adjacent to Indian River Road, between the Norfolk County, Princess Anne County line and the Military Highway, more closely described as follows:

Beginning at the western intersection of Indian River Road and Military Highway and extending one thousand feet north and one thousand feet south of Indian River Road from said Military Highway westwardly to the Princess Anne County, Norfolk County line.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the above described area be zoned as a residential area, and that no buildings, structures nor premises shall be used except as hereinafter specified, nor shall they be arranged or designed to be used in any part, except for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) A residence designed for occupance of a single family, with garage or garage apartment permitted only in connection with an established single family dwelling.

(b) Duplex apartments.

(c) Apartment houses.

(d) The taking of boarders or the leasing of rooms by a resident family.

(e) The office of a resident professional business.

(f) Churches or other places of worship.

(g) Schools or parks.

(h) Private garage on same lot in or with residence and as accessory thereto. However, no business to be conducted in said garage and no garage shall provide space for more than four motor vehicles.

(i) Real estate signs advertising the sale or rental of only the premises on which they are maintained.

(j) Accessory uses customarily incident to the above permitted uses and located only on the same lot or plot with them, including small professional signs. Except, as permitted above, accessory uses shall not include any use customarily required in connection with the business or industry, nor any driveway or walk giving access thereto, nor any display of goods visible from the street of goods such as are made and sold, nor any billboard nor advertising sign, except signs for rental or sale of real estate.

(k) All of the above uses and such construction that may be necessary for their origin shall be in conformance with an ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, on July 28th, 1952, and certain amendments thereto adopted September 22nd, 1952. Said ordinance being known as the Interim Zoning Ordinance.

Any building, structure or use existing in the above described area at the time of the enactment of this ordinance, may be continued even though such building, structure or use does not conform with the provisions of this ordinance. Such existing conforming use may hereafter extend through any parts of a building which were manifestly arranged or designed for such use at the time of the enactment of this ordinance. No building, structure or premises in the above zoned area on which a non-conforming use is superceded by a use permitted shall again be devoted to any prohibited use.

Should any section or provision of this ordinance be decreed by the Court to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect its validity as a whole or any part thereof other than the part so decreed to be unconstitutional or invalid.

Any person aggrieved or affected by any section or decision of the building inspector, may appeal, as a matter of right to the Zoning Board of Appeals as provided by law. The said Board of Zoning Appeals may in appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the application of the terms of this ordinance with its general purpose and interest and in accordance with general specific rules herein contained.

This ordinance shall be enforced by the building inspector, his agent, employees, and any violation thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), nor more than Fifty Dollars ($50.00), or by confinement in jail for a period of not exceeding thirty (30) days, either or both. Each day of continuous violation shall be considered a separate offense.

CULLING OF BEEF HERDS IS RECOMMENDED

An expected decline in beef prices this fall and winter, and feed shortage, add up to make this a good time to cull beef herds in Virginia, declares Curtis Mast, animal husbandman at VPI. For the past five years cattle prices have been on a steady upgrade, and most farmers have sold heifer calves rather than keep them for replacements. Now they have many old cows, poor milkers, shy breeders, and off-colored cows in the herds. "There is no better way to stretch the already short feed supply than culling," Mast declares, and farmers should select the good heifer cows to replace cull cattle.

PICTURESQUE LAND TRIPS WILL BE PART OF CRUISE

Five picturesque land excursions at South America and Caribbean ports have been announced by the Virginia Cruise Corporation, non-profit civic group sponsoring a 14-day winter cruise to South America and the West Indies aboard the SS [illegible]. The new Holland-America liner will sail from Norfolk January 7. First, the colorful city of Port au Prince, capital of Haiti. Second, LaGuaira, chief port of Venezuela. All-day excursion to Caracas, Venezuela, birthplace of the great South American liberator, Simon Bolivar.

Barbados will feature a band concert and musical ride by members of the mounted police. The fame of that colorful group has spread throughout the world. A touch of France is at the port of Martinique. This is the birthplace of Josephine, wife of Napoleon I.

At San Juan, Porto Rico will be a tour of El Morro fortress, San Jose sugar mill, Caribe-Hilton hotel, and San Juan Cathedral.

WEAR A RED FEATHER!

The PETTY PACE

By [illegible] Lee Yates

Odd Bodkin Sez:

I must confess to ye the cause o' the great drought this summer. Some 'uns around here blame it on Squire Gladmoney Debitside's television machine drawin' all the electric out of the clouds. 'Tweren't that at all.

And 'tweren't the low state of morals nor the cussedness of the party in power — although them things hev been knowed to bring some powerfully dry weather. If it were the Demyerats, we've had a drought fer 20 yars, and Lord knows we-ve had some gully washers in them yars. A fellow's got to make up his mind which he wants to blame the Demycrats fer —flood or drought, not both.

As fer morals, it's rained several times since Aunt Effie Toadhopper threw away her pipe and picked up cigarettes, besides painting her toenails.

And no matter what Parson Peters sez, 'tweren't folks not payin' the preacher that brought the parched spell. We paid him enough fer goods received, and some of his sermons were as dry as the weather.

'Tweren't cause it don't rain nights in July, as Aunt Effie Sez, or on account of the atom bomb out there in Nevada. No sir!

I'm the one who brought on that drought — 'twas wife-beatin' that done it. Seems that warm weather always Belle, my wife, lazy. On a warm June day, I can't get her started in the corn patch until after sun-up. This summer, what with the beetles and the blight, I started beatin' her.

We ain't had a drop of rain since I fust laid a hoe handle on her. I want to tell my [illegible] now I'm sorry. But wife beating is alius good for a long drought. And Belle needs a few blows along about dandelion greens time every year.

BLOODMOBILE AT BEACH TOMORROW; COOPERATION OF RESIDENTS IS ASKED

Tomorrow, October 17, has been set aside as a Blood Donation Day for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. The bloodmobile will be at the Community House between the hours of noon and 6:00 p. m.

This blood is collected for two main purposes:

1. To be used by hospitals when blood is required. Incidentally, the only charge to the recipient is the cost of administration.

2. To be used for the saving of lives of our service personnel.

The Civitan Club of Virginia Beach took on the program when they were informed by the Tidewater Blood Center that this area was consuming more blood than it was donating. Therefore, this area is not applying any of our wounded with this much needed lifeline.

Sponsorship of this program cannot lead to success unless there is cooperation by all organizations and individuals. Won't you help?

Time reservations may be made by calling Virginia Beach 800. Free transportation may be had by calling Virginia Beach 938.

Make a date to give a pint of blood between noon and 6 p. m. on Friday, October 17. Appointments are not necessary. Personal satisfaction as well as the thanks of an unknown benefactor will be ample reward. Let's prove that this area can do its share.

The committee for then endeavor consists of Dr. Howard Kahn, chairman; Duane Current, Ed Hall, Rev. Robert Davis, and J. W. Powell.

POLICE ACTIVE TO BREAK UP THEFTS FROM CAR DEALERS

Since September 1, the Virginia Beach Police Department has been busy working daily trying to compile physical evidence and study the modus operandi of a series of burglaries that have been occurring at several of the garages and automobile dealers in Virginia Beach and nearby area of Princess Anne County.

As of this Tuesday, the 14th, there had been eight reports of such offenses for them to handle with property amounting to several hundred dollars having been stolen.

At 12:05 a. m., Tuesday, the police dispatcher received a report that someone was attempting to break in Clark Chevrolet Corporation on 17th street and in just a matter of minutes the police, assised by the Shore Patrol, converged on the place of the reported incident and found that a window had been broken out. On entering and making a search they found a colored man hiding under one of the automobiles in the shop. He was apprehended by Lt. A. B. [illegible], Officers J. J. [illegible], W. L. Taylor and W. T. [illegible] and charged with breaking and entering to commit larceny and placed in the Virginia Beach lockup for the night.

Later in the morning Chief Reeves E. Johnson and Sgt. R. K. Halstead visited all of the places where these eight burglaries had been committed since Sept. 1 and rechecked all physical facts and the modus operandi of each offense. On finding that all of the incidents showed the same M. O. and certain articles, such as tools from one place, had shown up at another place, plus the latent fingerprints secured on most of the incidents, they set out to start their interrogation of the subject, Herbert Cody, c/m, who had been previously arrested by the night patrol.

After several hours of questioning and confronting Cody with the evidence compiled against him in the previous cases, he started revealing how he had committed each offense. Even to when his body was checked for cuts and scars and several fresh ones being found he admitted that they were received from crawling through the broken windows.

Later in the afternoon Cody accompanied Chief Johnson and Sgt. Halstead to all of the places and pointed out in detail how and where he had accomplished his entry and explained what was stolen in each incident.

Cody said that since returning here from Norfolk about the 1st of September, where he had been staying since receiving a suspended sentence from a case that Virginia Beach Police had convicted him on last spring, he had been sleeping in the woods near the outskirts of Virginia Beach.

As a result of the day's interrogation and his admissions Cody has seven additional charges of burglary against him. He will come up before Judge J. Davis Reed, Jr., for a hearing next Monday, September 20, on these charges which occurred at Clark Chevrolet Corporation, Alpin Motor Company, Everett - Jordan Motor Company and Hudgins Amoco Service Station.

Princess Anne DAR Meeting Saturday With Mrs. Dudley

Princess Anne County Chapter of the D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. Bryan Dudley Saturday, October 18, at 2 p. m. Call Mrs. Fred Perkins, Va. Beach 1557-R, for transportation. The group will be addressed by Harold Sugg, associate editor of the Virginian-Pilot, a graduate of Davidson College and University of North Carolina, and an officer in the Army in Korea in the last war.

PA Woman's Club Conducting 'Get-Out-Vote' Campaign

The Get - Out - to - Vote campaign, conducted this month by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, is being promoted by Mrs. Harry F. Ames, legislative chairman, Mrs. J. E. Garrett and Mrs. James Kontopanos, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Citizenship and Public Affairs committees. They are teamed with her in this all-out effort to get every registered voter out to the polls on November 4.

This campaign is in no way an effort to influence the voter but it is an attempt to impress upon our citizens in Princess Anne County the importance of casting their votes in this major election.

The club will not sponsor a car pool but will work in conjunction with the Junior Woman's Club who are furnishing transportation to the polls on election day. This service may be had by calling Virginia Beach 300 on or before that day.

The 30th annual meeting of the Sixth District, Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs, was held in Williamsburg October 8. Delegates from the Princess Anne County Club were Mrs. Fred S. Perkins and Mrs. H. E. Halstead. Mrs. Willis S. Bryant, chairman of Americanism and Public Affairs for the VFWC, in her talk before the district impressed upon them the importance of the Get-Out-To-Vote campaign.

Mrs. H. Stanley Bailey, state president, spoke on "Your Community and You" and urged all members to return to their communities and help with this Get-Out-TO-Vote campaign.

Also attending this meeting were Mrs. George C. Manson, Mrs. Lloyd M. Jard and Mrs. J. Douglas Wilson.

Episcopal Laymen To Hold Conference At Galilee Church

The fourth annual conference of the laymen of the Episcopal Church of the Southern Diocese of Virginia will be held at the Galilee Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach, October 18-19.

A banquet Saturday night will highlight the two-day meeting. The principal speaker will be Ted Ganaway, of the National Council, a member of the presiding bishop's committee.

A corporate Communion will be held on Sunday morning, and breakfast will follow at the Paramount restaurant. The conference will close after the 11 o'clock service.

Col. P. W. Lewis, USA (ret.), will preside over the conference.

Beach Civitans Will Again Sell Christmas Trees

For the second consecutive year, the Civitan Club of Virginia Beach will sell Christmas trees so that local worthy causes may benefit. This year, in addition to the trees, mistletoe, holly and tree stands will be on sale.

Thirty-first street between Atlantic and Pacific avenues (next to Phelps Texaco station) will again be the location with the lot opening about the second week in December on an all-day and evening basis.

The advance ticket sale will begin on Tuesday, November 18. These tickets will act as an assurance of a tree for the purchaser and may be purchased from any Civitan and many of the local merchants displaying the Civitan poster.

Joseph Ottenstein, chairman, stated that the entire proceeds of the project will be placed in the Civitan Charity Fund.

Other members of the committee are Ed Hall, Ernest Stone, J. V. Powell, Dr. Stanley Salasky, Harry Eason and Dr. Howard Kahn.

TB Christmas Seals in Mail

The Princess Anne County Tuberculosis Association has started its annual mailing of Chsistmas Seals, Mrs. W. R. Ashburn, chairman, has announced. Volonteers are needed to fold seals and stoff letters.

The Tubercolosis Association, in cooperation with the Health Department, provides free X-Ray service.

Volunteers working at the Baptist Church on Tuesday were: Mrs. W. R. Ashburn, Mrs. David Sheiburne, Mrs. Harvey Capps, Mrs. E. M. Hardy, Mrs. Peter Holland, Mrs. O. J. Donohoe, Mrs. F. R. Motley, and Mrs. A. E. Branch.

JURY ACQUITS SHERIFF MALBON AFTER 40-MINUTE DELIBERATION

A seven-man jury deliberated just forty minutes to return an acquittal verdict in the case against County Sheriff C. Roger Malbon last Friday in the Princess Anne County Circuit Court.

The county official was cleared of charges brought by 14 petitioners, who charged that Malbon was guilty of "malfeasance, misfeasance, incompetency and gross neglect of official duty" in that he had permitted "open and notorious gambling and the illegal sale of whisky."

The prosecution, upon hearing the verdict, immediately made a motion to set aside the verdict; the appeal is scheduled to be heard on October 29, the same date Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson is to be tried on similar charges.

Malbon's trial lasted two days, during which more than 75 witnesses were called to testify, and only two of the petitioners took the stand and neither offered evidence to support the charges.

Testimony brought out during the trial revealed that one of the signers of the petition, Leo E. Billey, of Virginia Beach, had at one time engaged in the slot machine business.

The appeal will be heard by Judge R. Watson Sadier, of Charlottesville's Corporation Court, on October 29. Judge Sadier heard the original complaint in the absence of Judge Floyd E. Kellam, who disqualified himself.

The prosecution, led by Special Prosecutor M. Earl Woodhouse, assisted by James G. Martin and R. L. Simpson, called some 40 witnesses to the stand. Several testified that they had witnessed gambling and the sale of whisky.

Concentrating on the duties of a sheriff, the defense stressed the fact that enforcemnt of gaming and liquor laws was not a duty of the sheriff's office. Evidence was introduced to show that every effort had been made on the part of the city's and county's police forces to break up the gambling and illegal sale of liquor.

Malbon was represented by Attorneys William L. Parker and Richard B. Kellam.

The possibility was raised that should the motion be overruled, the jury's decision will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Senior Cotillion on Friday Night at 8

The senior cotillon will be held Friday night at the Star of the Sea Parish Hall, it has been announced. The dance will begin at 8 oclock and last until 11.

Those in attendance will be Misses Connie Musick, Bailey Swertzfeger, Peggy Lowe and Master Ashley Haycock, Jr.

Chaperons will include Mr. and Mrs. John W. Musick, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Haycock, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Swertzfeger and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick N. Lowe.

London Bridge HD Club Sends Delegates To National Meeting

Two members of the London Bridge Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. R. W. Couch, president, and Mrs. T. C. Hunter, former president, have been appointed state delegates to the National Home Demonstration Club Council meeting to be held in Raleigh, N. C., October 25-30. The appointments were made by Mrs. Will Dickinson, Fredericksburg, State Federation president. A total of 70 delegates will attend from Virginia.

Speakers on he program include Dr. Carl Woodward, president of the University of Rhode Island; Dr. Harrell Hart, Duke University, and M. L. Wilson, director of Extension Service, Washington, D. C.

More Contributions Made to Council Fund

Additional contributions to the fund being raised by the Council of Garden to aid in the beautification of Atlantic Avenue are being received, a spokesman for the Council said yesterday.

Two recent contributors were R. H. Dixon and Mrs. Sam Melicove.

Anyone wishing to aid in this work may mail their offering to Box 33, Virginia Beach, or give it to any member of the participating clubs.

Rescue Squad Invites Public to 'Open House'

Your Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Rescue Squad will hold "Open House" Sunday, October 19, between 2:00 and 6:00 p. m. at Squad headquarters, Arctic Ave., across from City Hall.

Members of the unit wish to emphasize that the Rescue Squad is an organization completely owned by the public, as its operations depend entirely on contributions. Approximately $10,000 in donations have been received to date. In appreciation the Squad urges the public to visit its "Home," Sunday, and see what good use the money has been put to so far. Every member is proud of the unit's record of over 350 calls answered since May 1.

The local group was represented at the recent convention of the Virginia Association of Rescue Squads at Fredericksburg by Peter Holland, captain; Dave Stormont, treasurer; A. B. Midgette, sergeant; Dennie Hill, Hugh Kitchin, and Herman Casey, Squad members. They report that your unit, even though one of the youngest members of the association, made a fine impression on people assembled from all over Virginia.

Junior Women Will Sponsor Debate on Political Issues

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County will sponsor a debate Thursday, October 2, at 8 p. m. at the Community House. The Democratic and Republican tickets will be discussed and debated. Walter Page, Norfolk attorney, a member of the House of Delegates, will speak on behalf of the Democratic ticket. Walter E. Hoffman, Norfolk attorney, state GOP leader, will discuss the Republican ticket.

Thursday evening, Miss Kersey will introduce Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge, president of the Junior Woman's Club, and she in turn will introduce the speakers. Commander L. W. Meacham, chaplain USNR, will lead the invocation. Mrs. D. Murray Malbon will preside at the piano.

The Juniors have extended invitations to all Civic Clubs and to the general public of Virginia Beach and the county. The club has adopted an American program in accordance with the National Federation of Woman's Clubs and Miss Jean Kersey is serving as Americanism chairman.

The Juniors would like to remind you again that November 4 is election day, so please VOTE and if you don't have transportation to the polls please phone the Juniors at Virginia Beach 2630 and one of the Juniors will be only too glad to pick you up and take you to the polls.

CHEST WORKERS START DRIVE MONDAY; GOAL SET AT $19,000

Volunteer workers in the annual Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Community Chest drive will begin their task of soliciting for funds next Monday with a goal of $19,000 as their aim to take care of the needs of the seven participating agencies. The drive will conclude on October 31.

Members of the organization's board of directors and chairmen of the various districts were told at a kickoff meeting last Tuesday night that to make the drive a success required teamwork.

Fred A. Haycox, president of the Chest, warned workers that "they could expect to hear the usual cry that residents had given in Norfolk." He said, "Prepare yourself for refusals to donate, which will be accompanied by the timeworn statement that 'my husband gives in Norfolk where he is employed.'"

Haycox made reference to the workers of the local Chest receiving one and two dollar contributions from homes where the husband has given through business as much as $600 to $1,000 to the Norfolk Community Chest.

Alfred T. Taylor, general chairman of this year's drive, announced the goal and quotas for the various districts of the county and Virginia Beach. Howard S. Myers, Virginia Beach Postmaster, heads the Virginia Beach division.

The quotas set for the districts and the chairmen are: Virginia Beach, $8000—Howard S. Myers; Seaboard, $600—C. Roger Malbon; Pungo, $600—Mrs. W. R. Halstead and Mrs. J. B. Dudley; Blackwater, $300—Mrs. O. L. Smith; Kempsville, $4000—Mrs. Lyman Clark; Lynnhaven, $3500—Mrs. E. C. Mansfield and Mrs. Ralph Chaumoney.

General Chairman Taylor urged workers to hit the trail early Monday and concentrate their efforts during the first week.

In addition to the chairmen for the districts a special gifts section will be headed by B. M. Stanton and Grayson K. Willis.

Chairmen were advised to make reports every other day during the drive and to caution their workers to report periodically to them.

Campaign headquarters are located in the City Hall and anyone wishing to donate in advance of the drive or during the actual solicitation need not wait until approached, but may send contributions to the Community Chest, City Hall, Virginia Beach.

High School P-TA President Names Committee Heads

The regular monthly business meeting of the newly organized Virginia Beach high school PTA will be held in the high school cafeteria Monday evening, October 20 at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Reid W. Digges, president, presiding.

Proposed by-laws will be submitted for adoption by Rev. Robert P. Davis, chairman of the by-laws committee.

A questionnaire will be circulated for suggestions and to determine interest and capabilities of the patrons of the school.

The high school at Virginia Beach is a long worked for and vital part of the community. It is important that every patron do his part to see that its program gets off to a good solid start. Your interest, presence and participation in the PTA meeting and work is the initial step. All patrons, teachers and interested citizens are urged to attend.

Mrs. Digges announces the committee chairmen: appointment of the following

Demonstration Clubs Plan Work

Twelve of the 14 Princess Anne County Home Demonstration clubs were represented at the annual planning meeting, Wednesday in the county agricultural building to assist in setting up the calendar of work for the coming year. Miss Ann Willis, recently appointed district agent for the Southeastern District, led the discussion of program topics presented by representatives from each club.

The program and demonstrations for the year included window treatment, ironing, money management, business management, personal grooming, repairs on clothing, new fabrics (care, laundry and ironing), home grounds improvement, and basketry. August and November programs were left for club choice of Christmas decorations, garnishes for foods, low calories meals, or textile painting. The committee also arranged for three special interest meetings — freezing food at home, making hooked rugs, and slip covers. Result demonstrations are being carried out in kitchen improvement and landscaping.

Art in Daily Living was chosen as the Federation goal stressing pictures, music, flowers, recreation reading material and radio and TV, programs for the family.

Club objective recommended by a special committee with Mrs. Ross Brubaker as chairman were:

1. Be represented at all leader training meetings.

2. Be represented at county

Cavalier Garden Club Plans to Beautify Resort Entrance

The Cavalier Garden Club entered its fourth year Monday afternoon, October 13, at The Haven. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Gilmore Tilbrooke, president, presented new members and outlined the plans for the coming year.

The main club project is the beautification of the approach to Norfolk at the corner of 83rd street, and the work with the Council of Garden Clubs on the planting and beautification of Atlantic Boulevard. Mrs. Frank Burleson gave a resume of the work of the committee to date.

Exhibits illustrating "Good-bye to Summer," "Autumn Glory," and seashore material were displayed.

Tea followed with Mrs. Walton Saunders, Mrs. Kermit Robinson, Mrs. Rudolf Watson, Miss Charley Hardbarger, Miss Elizabeth Mrs. Arthur WiWhaler, hostesses.

Mrs. J. L. Weller will conduct a school of flower arrangement, beginners and refresher course, Wednesday, October 29, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. at Galilee parish house, sponsored by the club for its members and guests.

Marie Lanza and Doretta Morrow, above, are featured in the film, "Because You're Mine," which opens at the Beach Theatre Wednesday for a four-day run.

Guest House Opened at Story

A much needed guest house was opened in Building 519 at Fort Story October 13. It is designed to comfortably house visitors of Fort personnel for limited duration. The guest house will contain 20 rooms furnished with hotel type furniture. A nominal fee of $1 per person per night will be charged to help defray expenses.

Mrs. Betty Connors, wife of Pfc. Connors of the Post Engineers, is the able manager of the facility and will be a permanent resident. Mrs. Connors has had previous experience in this type work.

Jewish Center Invites Servicemen

The Jewish Community Center at 700 Spottswood Ave., Norfolk, has extended a welcome to all service personnel in this vicinity. It is open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings, and Sunday afternoons. One of the many features is the music of Phil Vincent's orchestra, third Saturday of each month. Good entertainment and refreshments are available whenever the Center is open.

Diplomacy

Prof: "Mr. Smith, will you tell me why you look at your timepiece so often?"

Smith (suavely): "Yes, sir! I was afraid, sir, that you wouldn't have time to finish your interesting lecture, sir."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, pursuant to § 9-6.4 and 9-6.5 of the Code of Virginia, has adopted on September 27, 1952, the following emergency rule, under authority conferred upon the said Commission by § 29-125 of the Code:

59. It shall be unlawful to have in possession any shotgun or rifle for the purpose of hunting wild birds or wild animals on the water areas, including shores of the sea, in Accomac, Northampton and Princess Anne Counties during the closed season on migratory game birds, provided, that this shall not apply to persons holding permits granted by the Executive Director of the commission authorizing the same, or to persons engaged as officers of the peace, while actually in the performance of their duties as such. For the purpose hereof the word "possession" shall include having a gun for the purpose of hunting wild birds or wild animals in one's boat or other conveyance while in the above mentioned areas.

Such emergency rule is being published in accordance with § 9-6.4 and copies have been filed in the office of the Division of Statutory Research and Drafting.

Further, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to § 29-125, 9-6.4 and 9-6.6 a public hearing will be held by the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, Room 100, 7 North Second Street, Richmond, Virginia, Friday, October 24, 1952, 9:30 A. M., for the purpose of adopting the foregoing rule as a continuing regulation until further order by this Commission. Copies of said proposed rule have been filed with the Division of Statutory Research and Drafting.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, pursuant to § 9-6.4 and 9-6.5 of the Code of Virginia has adopted on September 27, 1952, the following emergency rules, under authority conferred upon the said Commission by § 29-125 of the Code:

70. It shall be unlawful to leave any landing or mooring in Princess Anne County to hunt waterfowl except the one generally in use and all mat blinds, decoys or other floating devices used to hunt waterfowl shall be taken up immediately following the close of the shooting day and brought to shore as soon thereafter as possible. No rigs will be permitted to leave the shore sooner than thirty minutes before sunrise and no shooting will be permitted before sunrise.

71. It shall be unlawful to tie out or anchor a mat blind, or other floating blind in Princess Anne County, within five hundred yards of a stationary shore blind on which license has been paid for the season, except by consent of the owner of such shore blind, whether the same be occupied for shooting or not.

Such emergency rules are being published in accordance with § 9-6.4 and copies have been filed in the office of the Division of Statutory Research and Drafting.

Lanza Joins Army In Latest Film

Mario Lanza's first picture in almost a year — and the first since his record - breaking "The Great Caruso" — comes as a pre-determined major event.

"Because You're Mine" is a light - hearted modern comedy dominated from start to finish by the star, on whose account everything else is subordinated, which is probably just as well as far as his fans are concerned.

Supporting Lanza is a lovely newcomer, Doretta Morrow, whose vocal abilities first won her attention in "The King and I" on Broadway. Miss Morrow is easy on eye and ear, promising much for her screen future.

The script relates the adventures of an opera star on being drafted into the Army. They are not very complicated adventures and serve primarily as song cues for upwards of 15 numbers. James Whitmore is the gravel - voiced top sergeant who, unexpectedly, turns out to be one of Lanza's most ardent admirers.

Miss Morrow is the sergeant's sister whom Lanza first decides to use in order to facilitate week-end passes, and with whom he falls honestly in love. A misunderstanding between the lovers comes late in the film and is, happily, of short duration.

TIME TO CALL A HALT

The trial last week that saw Princess Anne County Sheriff C. Roger Malbon acquitted by a seven-man jury of charges brought against him by a group of citizens that he had "permitted open gambling and the illegal sale of whiskey" in the county, brought out many interesting facts.

One of the most interesting facts developed during the trial not only attracted the attention of this column, but caused a supporter of General Eisenhower for President to address a letter to this newspaper, which will be found elsewhere on this page.

Testimony revealed in the trial divulged the fact that one of the petitioners against Malbon once engaged in the slot machine business. The Court heard testimony to the effect that Lee E. Bliley, of Virginia Beach, at one time was active in the "slot machine racket." Bliley appeared as a witness in the trial and grudgingly admitted that he had engaged in slot machine operations.

Bliley's testimony, other than the fact that his background was not so "pure," offered little or nothing in the way of evidence, and he and only one other petitioner, Mrs. Catherine Hardy, appeared as witnesses against Malbon. Together, they offered nothing in evidence. The strange point here revolves around the other dozen petitioners, who were eager to sign the petition against the county official, but who offered nothing to the trial, not even to taking the witness stand. It must be assumed by their collective action that the petition was not a sincere one, since they demonstrated their lack of interest in carrying through with their charges.

The irate Eisenhower supporter whose letter we print, asks that Bliley be removed from handling the Democrats for Eisenhower campaign in Virginia Beach since the information was revealed in court. The writer of the letter feels that Bliley is not fit to be associated with the campaign to elect Eisenhower president.

Malbon stated from the outset, as did E. W. Smith, Virginia Beach Commissioner of the Revenue, who was cleared of similar charges several weeks ago, that the charges were politically motivated. The motive, to the most uninformed, is obvious. The group represented by Bliley, Mrs. Hardy and others, continue to take up the Court's time, spend the taxpayers' dollars, and harrass our public officials in order to keep things "stirred up." They gain nothing, unless it be a growing distaste among thinking citizens of our community and county.

The tactics being employed by this disgruntled minority political faction does no one any good, least of all the minority group, itself. And this same group can hardly be termed "holy" with individuals of the Bliley type prominent among its members. It is high time we called a halt to this sort of maneuvering, when reckless and baseless charges are carelessly brought against our public officials to hamper them in their efforts to do an honest and conscientious job in their public office.

TIN CUP IN HAND

One of the speakers at the recent convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States gave that organization, and the country, some straight, down-to-earth talk.

William Book, executive vice-president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, said that local chambers have inconsistently demanded government economy even as they have asked for more and more tax money for local projects. Then he added, "From one end of the country to the other they have all too often been waiting, tin cup in hand, on the doorstep of Congress or some Federal bureau for a handout; for a bit of aid to build a dike or a dam, to pave a road, to build an expressway, a school or a hospital.

"Let's admit that economy begins at home. It begins with local chambers of commerce, among others."

The local chambers aren't the only offenders—not by a long shot. All manner of civic, business, agricultural, labor and other such organizations go piously on record in favor of rigorous government economy and debt and tax reduction—and then, in their next breath, clamor for handouts. And all too often Congress and the bureaus, their eyes firmly fixed on votes, provide the handouts, but do nothing about economy.

Yes, economy begins at home, in the grassroots. But we can't have economy for the other fellow—we will have it for all or for none.

DALE CARNEGIE

Jess Wilkes, New Brighton, Alabama, says that he has found that plenty of vital work, exercise, reading habits, and religious worship will help to conquer fear and worry. In 1943 his father died, leaving his mother, a small baby sister, a 10 year old brother named Jack, and himself, and he was in the armed forces.

His brother Jack was left to operate a 300-acre farm. In January of 1944 he visited the draft board to see about a deferment, but in February of 1944, he was drafted into the armed forces, leaving his broken-hearted mother to operate the farm. She had no knowledge of running a big farm since all she had ever done was to take care of her home and rear her family. In 1944 he and his brother were on the high seas at the same time for an assignment. On top of all this, he was leaving his wife expecting their first child.

In China he was so worried over the conditions existing back home that he lost a great deal of weight. Finally his commanding officer asked why he was not getting the work out of his men. He hesitated to tell his troubles at first, but finally he broke down. Then he learned his commanding officer knew fear and worry. He told Jess of his divorce and of losing a son whom he had loved so much. Then he said he would help Jess iron out his problems.

That evening, he came by for Jess. They went to the largest library in downtown Shanghai. They sat at the same table and studied the life of Generalissimo Chang Kai-shek, which was most interesting. After three hours, they went to an indoor swimming pool for an hour. After this they had dinner and returned to their home base. This was the first night's rest Jess had had since being in the Far East. On the following Sunday they went to a pagoda and worshipped with the Buddhists. They continued a similar program throughout his stay in China.

After getting settled, he realized that he had to accept his father's death as a fact. He found that his mother was operating the farm probably better than his brother could have done. And he had a fine baby boy waiting for him at home. He realized then that he and his family were among the most fortunate people in the world.

Dear Sir:

I have recently been informed that it was disclosed in the impeachment trial of C. Roger Malbon that Lee Bliley was a slot machine racketeer, while living in Richmond, Va. Being an active supporter of Eisenhower, I am of the opinion he is entitled to a campaign manager of higher calibre than a person involved in the slot machine racket.

I am writing this letter to you in hopes you may write something along this line in your editorial demanding Mr. Bliley's resignation. Moreover, additional detrimental information may be disclosed in the forthcoming trial of Reeves Johnson against Mr. Bliley and then it would be too late for our crowd to rectify such an appointment.

If you would be kind enough to do this I am sure it would be in the interest of the general public and particularly the supporters of Eisenhower.

COMMUNITY CHEST

This PETTY PACE

By Deane Lee Yates

During the early days of this presidential campaign, when the two opponents were cautiously feeling each other out, some of the more impatient Republican enthusiasts, eager for the taste of first blood, exhorted Ike to stop stalling and "get the ball rolling."

This phrase, meaning that it was about time he began battling with tooth, fang and bare fist, had its origin in another presidential campaign—the 1840 presidential contest, the first in history in which the masses attended huge political rallies. At these meetings the voters were given handkerchiefs badges, breastpins and almanacs by the craftier politicians.

"To get the ball rolling" in 1840 did not have the politically bloodthirsty meaning it has today among those who would build a fire under Ike. The phrase meant literally what it said.

Mammoth parades became a feature of the big political rallies, and Whig politicians rolled balls down the street to the tune of "Little Pig's Tail" for William Henry Harrison, known lovingly among his supporters as "Old Tippecanoe."

Sometimes the balls were as much as 30 feet in diameter. Some of the balls were even so large that in Baltimore the trees along the parade route had to be trimmed ahead of time to allow passage for the ball advertising Harrison's candidacy. To "get the ball rolling," a man was sometimes employed to walk inside it and keep it turning. Other balls, revolving on a long pole, took as many as 12 men to turn them.

When the parade was due to begin, parade marshalls began shouting, "Get the ball rolling!" When the ball began revolving, that meant the campaign was well under way in a certain town or city. The phrase was heard many times by newspaper writers covering the campaign. It stuck in their minds. Soon, they subconsciously were using it figuratively, applying it to the initiation of any kind of enterprise.

And so the political "ball" has turned full circle, and once again "get the ball rolling" has been used concerning a presidential campaign.

ACROSS the DESK

From The Lincoln Times, Lincolnton, N. C.:

When you walk into a department store these days, there is bustling activity all over the place. People are looking and buying and the cash registers are jingling. So it's quite natural to assume that the stores are doing exceedingly well indeed and that the storekeeper is living in something resembling an economic Shangri-La.

The truth is, however, that this Shangri-La, from the store operator's viewpoint, has flaws in it—some very serious.

A short time ago a statistical summary of the financial experience of 265 department and specialty stores with gross sales totaling about $726,000,000 during the first quarter of the year was made public. For the department stores involved, net profit from merchandising operations averaged only one per cent of sales—a decline of more than 25 per cent as against the same period last year. For the specialty stores, the merchandising profits averaged 1.5 per cent of sales—a drop of 24 per cent. Forty per cent of the department stores actually sustained losses from merchandising operations during the quarter.

This poor profit performance was due primarily to reduced margins and increased operating expenses. In a word, the cost of carrying on the business has outrun the price increases we consumers are always kicking about. It is common for stores to make less clear profit on an item now than when prices were far below present levels.

So, if you think the merchants are the beneficiaries of inflation and its attendant distress, think again. Like you, they are also victims.

From The Fairfax Standard, Falls Church, Va.:

Who stole the copy from our office desk? We covered the Vienna Zoning Appeals Board meeting Tuesday evening and prepared a follow-up story for this week's issue of The Standard. When we arrived at the office Wednesday morning the copy was not there. To keep the records straight: It Was There, 1 a. m., Wednesday, because the writer processed it for the printer at that time. Here's hoping the one with the "sticky fingers" has a good, sound accident insurance policy!

A Share of Gossip
A SHORT STORY

After 16 years Emily Stark was going to leave her husband. She sat alone in her bedroom waiting for him to come home. Tonight she would tell him. Tonight everything would be settled, and tomorrow she would go off with Chester Moore. Idly she thought of Chester. He was pleasant and tall and genial. And rich. Otherwise there was nothing particularly impressive about him. He lacked the fire and drive of John, her husband.

Vindictively she thought how sick to death she was of men of John's type. He had been too occupied with his work, with building up his business.

Suddenly her mind leaped to Haidee Pearson. Curious why she should think of Haidee. Then a voice way down deep in her heart told her that Haidee was the cause, the real cause, of her and John separating. If she hadn't seen them together that night at the Flamingo Club, if she had heard no whispered gossip, she and John would have kept on drifting—drifting until he made the first move that would break things off. That was why she was going to tell him tonight. She couldn't stand having him be the first to broach the subject.

The telephone on her bedside table shrilly interrupted her thought.

"This is the city hospital, Mrs. Stark. Your son, Robert, has been in an accident. You'd better get down here as quickly as you can."

Emily's heart stopped beating, then began again, pounding wildly, terror racing through her blood. "Is he—is he—" she could not finish the sentence.

The voice came back cool and reassuring. "There's no need for immediate worry, Mrs. Stark. He's asking for you and his father."

"Oh!" She dropped the phone, whirled, stopped. John was standing in the doorway. She stared at him wildly.

"What is it? What's happened?" He took hold of her shoulders and shook her. "Has something happened to Robert?"

"Yes. He's had an accident. He's at the City Hospital."

Without a word he turned and went out. She caught up a wrap and followed him downstairs.

"The car's out front," he told her. He had his hat and coat on, was holding the door. John got behind the wheel. The machine leaped down the drive. He drove fast, but not recklessly. His face was a cold, inscrutable profile. Emily wanted to talk, wanted to say something.

"John, is it our fault? We haven't been very good parents. Oh, John, he mustn't die!"

"He won't die," said John. "We won't let him die." She felt closer to him then than she had in years.

A nurse admitted them to the hospital room. Robert was conscious, waiting. His handsome boyish face lighted at sight of them.

"Dad! Mother! Gee, I thought you'd never come."

Tears came into the boy's eyes. "I—I'm all right. At first I was glad it happened. I thought, well, if I died, then things wouldn't matter any more." He looked from one to the other of them. "But now—it's different. You're here — together. I'm all right now."

Emily tried hard to swallow the lump that came into her throat and couldn't. So she put her head down on the pillow beside her son's and cried. After a while she stood up. John was waiting for her at the door.

A doctor entered the room. "Is he—will everything be all right, doctor?"

The doctor went over to the bed and looked at Robert and then came back to the two by the door. "He'll be all right—now. For awhile we were worried. He didn't seem to want to recover."

Outside, John and Emily walked slowly down the corridor. Neither spoke, nor looked at the other. At the end of the corridor was a small conservatory. It was empty and they entered.

"Emily, I guess we haven't been good parents. I guess things have been happening that we never dreamed about."

"Yes," Emily said. "Yes, John. I—I feel so ashamed and guilty."

He took her hand and held it awkwardly. "There! Now there's no need to blame yourself. It was as much me. I—I guess I'm to blame all around."

"John! You're no more to blame than I. Even if you and Haidee Pearson—" She broke off, biting her lip, regretting the impulse that had made her mention Haidee's name.

John's eyebrows went up. For a moment the lines about his mouth hardened. Then he smiled. "A man has his pride too, you know. Haidee was the best I could do on such short notice."

Emily looked up quickly. "You—mean—?"

He nodded. "I couldn't see you getting all the gossip. I figured I deserved a little."

Fortunes of Fame

It was the day of the big cricket match. The famous batsman arrived with the full escort of fans. One sprightly urchin dashed up to the hero and presented an autograph album and pencil. "Let's 'ave yer name here, will yer?" and he departed with the prize scrawl.

The game went opposite to expectations, the hero was a thorough skuff, the favorites lost. As the players finished and the hero filed out of the dressing room, the urchin piped up from the crowd: "'Ey, there! Got an eraser?"

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

It pays to pause

Remember the old vaudeville routine, where one comedian talked continuously while his partner vainly tried to interrupt? After 5 minutes, he finally managed to interject one quick sentence: "Your house is on fire!" Party-line calling is something like that sketch. If you pause between calls, it permits others to reach you with important messages. Too, it gives others on the line a chance to use their telephones. This gives everyone better telephone service.

Two-season stretch

The length of Long Distance cable circuits between New York and Chicago is about 870 miles. Electrically speaking, however, hot summer weather causes this cable to stretch to 900 miles and cold winter weather contracts it to 700 miles. Fortunately, this two-season stretch is theoretical. Automatic regulators on the circuit neutralize the effect of seasonal changes. Your telephone company continually seeks ways to overcome the effects of nature so you can have better service.

October is a good month to—

Invest some of the season's income.... Put machinery under cover.... Treat cattle for lice.... Get ready to seed wheat.... Plant a cover crop in the garden.... Put fire extinguishers at key places.... Treat tobacco plant beds for weed control.... Cull cattle to fit the winter feed supply.... Plant bulbs to bloom next spring.... Learn how to estimate the value of your standing timber.... Start a scrapbook of ideas for the house you hope to build five years hence.... Rat-proof the poultry house.... Gather winter bouquets.... Canines' "Dog's Life" No More As Animal Treatment Advances

The dog is no longer leading a "dog's life," thanks to advances made in various fields of medicine and nutrition. Man's best friend can now have a standard of living equal to man's.

All this is not news to the 22 million dogs in this country. And not only is the dog's life safer and healthier today, but his life expectancy has increased, just as man's has. While no official statistics are available, most experts feel that if a pup survives the disease hazards of the first year, and is not run down by an automobile, he can look forward to a ripe old age of 11 to 12 years. Less than a decade ago, his life expectancy was only seven or eight years. Great advances have been made in preventive and therapeutic medicines, in animal hospitals and personnel, and in nutrition.

No other aspect of veterinary medicine have medicaments and preventives been developed more rapidly than in the field of canine practice.

At the Lederle Laboratories at Pearl River, N. Y., there is a special section devoted to researching and solving the various disease problems which make the dog's life hazardous and unpleasant. Out of this research have come some of the latest drugs for preventing and combating canine diseases.

One of these is a highly effective vaccine against distemper, most serious common disease in dogdom. Regardless of how well you treat your pooch, or how purebred he is, he is still susceptible to this virus-caused disease unless properly protected. There was a time when distemper killed more dogs than many other diseases combined, but thanks to this new immunizing vaccine the picture is changing.

Rabies, the one-time horror of dogdom, need no longer cause fear. A new vaccine developed here and announced little over a year ago gives solid, lasting immunity against rabies. It is a modified live virus vaccine which does not cause post - vaccinal paralysis, a reaction often as terrible as the disease. The sulfa drugs, penicillin, and aureomycin are used for external and internal infections. Another drug developed by Lederle is being used by the veterinarians to combat heartworms and large roundworms in dogs.

Surprising developments have occured in the animal hospital field. There are about 2,500 animal hospitals, equipped to take care of 10 or more animals. The latest official listing reveals about 13,000 licensed veterinarians in this country.

A visit to one of these animal hospitals will startle the average layman. Many of them are better equipped than human hospitals, and since the standards of the veterinary profession are so high, many dog doctors are as well trained as human doctors. A sick dog today may get a thorough examination, including X-rays, blood test, heart test, in fact almost every test a human would get. At the first sign of pneumonia, or other respiratory infections, many vets will prescribe the antibiotic "wonder drug" aureomycin for the dog.

All this fine care for dogs may seem silly to some people, but there is this to consider: with proper care, you may have the companionship of your dog a few years longer than was possible in the past. Children who grow up with a friendly dog can really appreciate this.

Civil Service Examinations

Civil Servce examinaions for the positions of Helper, Boilermaker (males only), Helper, Electrician (males only), Helper, Machinist (males only), and Helper, Sheet-metal Worker (males only), $10.40 per day to $11.20 per day, for indefinite appointment at various Naval installations in the Norfolk area, are now open, it was stated today by B. Clark Hall, recorder of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Fifth Naval District.

The examinations are being held by the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Fifth Naval District, U. S. Naval Base, Norfolk 11, Virginia, until the needs of the service have been met.

No written test is required for these examinations. Applicants will be rated on the basis of their training and experience as described in their applications.

Korea-Bound Christmas Mail Has Varied Gifts

With the deadline for mailing packages to Korea for Christmas approaching, wives, parents, sweethearts and friends of Marines in Korea are probably wondering what to send overseas for Christmas. A survey conducted by the "First Word," official news daily of the First Marine Division, indicated that the Marines had no need for argyle socks, plaid mufflers or long underwear. Regulation cold weather clothing and gear issued is more than adequate for their needs. The Leathernecks would welcome inexpensive wrist watches of the waterproof and dustproof variety; portable radios with extra batteries, and cigarette lighters.

Heavy duty old fashioned candles are always welcome and can be used to light up the inside of a dark bunker during the long winter nights. Gasoline lanterns are issued to the front line troops, but there are never enough to go around. If you send your Marine a gasoline lantern be sure enclose extra gas mantles and several extra generators.

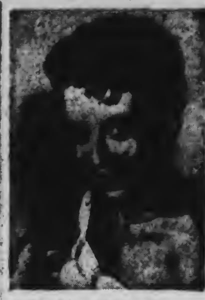

Send your man plenty of reading material so he can keep up on current events. Books, magazines and home town newspapers are high on their list.

Eliminate cakes, candies and cookies. Substitute cheese, packaged soups, good soluble coffee, tea, potted meats, crackers, sardines, or other delicacies in jars or cans. Fresh fruit of any type is at a premium during the winter, but it must be well packed to keep it from freezing.

A pin-up calendar will brighten a bunker's drab interior and he will be able to mark off the days bringing him nearer home. Send plenty of pictures.

Synthetic Blood Stockpiled For Civilian Disaster

The Civil Defense Administration has purchased more than a million pints of synthetic blood which will be stored to be used in case of a national disaster or an enemy attack. Synthetic blood, which is known as PVP-Macrose, has many of the desirable properties of blood. It can be used to treat shock, due to burns, surgery or injuries.

Of course, synthetic blood won't take the place of real blood plasma, but it will help bridge a danger period between the first flash of a disaster and the time when whole blood and plasma would be available in sufficient quantity. This stored-up supply of synthetic blood could play a very important role in the event of an atomic attack on one of the large metropolitan areas.

The big advantage of synthetic blood is that it can be produced in almost unlimited quantities at a cost lower than the cost of whole blood or plasma.

There was a time when a fellow wanted a vacation he asked the boss — now he asks the finance company, too.

SPACE SHIP ENVISIONED BY PHYSICS PROF; TO USE JETS

Atomic-powered planes capable of flying tremendous distances at high speeds will be in use within the next few years, a Yale physicist predicted recently.

William W. Watson, professor of physics, also declared that the next logical step after atomic planes will be the multiple-jet space craft driven by atomic fuel.

Professor Watson, who worked on the atomic bomb project during World War II and is now chairman of the physics department at Yale, pointed out that such an aircraft would be technically possible in the not too distant future.

"Such a ship," he said, "could cruise in empty space, using forward jets as brakes. Its skipper could navigate it into an orbit at any desired height above the surface of the earth, then turn off his engines and become an artificial satellite of the earth.

"He will also be able to travel to the moon, if he wants to investigate that cold mass without an atmosphere. The almost limitless range because of long-lasting atomic fuel makes all this possible."

Space navigators will have serious problems, however, as the sun's radiation is going to endanger them and they also might collide with a meteorite, he said.

Professor Watson also foresaw early use of atomic land-power in this country.

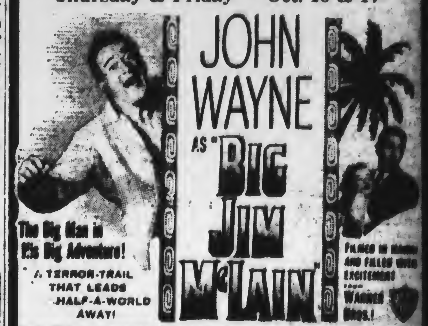

"There are four separate industry hook-ups at present," he said, "making feasibility studies of atomic power production. The plan is for the industries to build reactors, use the power, and then return the uranium to the Atomic Energy Commission which originally supplied it.

"The commission will extract from the returned uranium the plutonium formed by intense neutron bombardment during reactor operation. Plutonium is the new long-lived radioactive element which is itself fissionable and is therefore of great value."

Interesting Facts About Virginia

VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE
The Virginia Military Institute, known as the "West Point of the South," opened in 1839 with 23 Virginia cadets. During the Period of the Confederacy, the school was temporarily closed, but was re-opened in January, 1862. This was the pioneer normal school in Virginia. Although the legislature decreed its mission should be the the training of teachers, civil engineering was a part of the first curriculum. Industrial chemistry courses began in 1846. In 1860 it became a general scientific college.

Pritchett-Blake Vows Exchanged In Danville

The marriage of Miss Jeanette Hughes Pritchett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Woodlief Pritchett of Forest Hills, Danville, to Edward Franklin Blake, Jr., of Virginia Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Franklin Blake of Baltimore, took place Saturday evening, October 4, at 8 o'clock in Epiphany Episcopal Church, Danville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald MacClintock. The church was arranged with palms, Ascension lilies and lighted candles. The wedding music was played by the church organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of Chantilly lace over de Lanira satin fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with scallops, long sleeves and a full skirt forming a wide circular train. Her full length veil of imported illusion fell from a cluster of illusion applique in satin leaves and outlined with seed pearls. She carried a Southern Belle bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with white orchids.

Miss Beverly Long of Lynchburg was maid of honor. She wore a dress of turquoise net over taffeta, made with a stole and very full skirt. The bridesmaids were Miss Nell Penn Watt and Miss Martha Hylton of Danville, Miss Katherine Agee of Birmington and Miss Shirley Maddox of Richmond. They wore dresses like that of the honor attendant and all wore sheers and carried bouquets of tinted autumn flowers.

Milton R. Jefford IV of Orangeburg, S. C., was ring bearer. The father was best man. The groomsmen were David Baker and Robert McLee of Baltimore, Richard Brock and Lloyd Creighill of Richmond, Thomas Prichett of Chevy Chase, Md., and Harry W. Pritchett, brother of the bride, of Danville.

There was a reception at the Danville Country Club. Later Mr. and Mrs. Blake left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. Upon their return they will reside at 604 - 52nd street, Virginia Beach.

The bride attended Stratford College, Danville, and Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C.

The bridegroom attended St. Paul's School, Baltimore, and the University of Virginia, where he was a member of Tau Beta Pi fraternity and Alpha Tau Omega. He served as an ensign in the United States Navy during World War II, and is now connected with the McLean contracting company of Baltimore.

Halloween "Food" Faces

Yes, you read the title correctly. "Food" faces and not false faces is exactly what is meant. However, these food treats will not disgust or frighten anyone, but on the contrary will enhance an already healthful and delicious dessert, making it more appealing than ever—both to the eye and to the palate.

If you're having a party at your house on Halloween, serve this Halloween Rennet Dessert with frosted doughnuts and cider. The dessert delicacy is easily made and easy to digest as well. All you need is milk, one package of rennet powder, candy corn and raisins. And before you know it, timely Halloween food faces will be peeking up at you and your guests, tempting all appetites.

Halloween Rennet Dessert

2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package orange rennet powder
Candy corn
Raisins

Set out 4 or 5 dessert glasses.

Warm milk slowly until lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels comfortably warm (110° F.) not hot, remove at once from heat.

Stir in entire contents of package of rennet powder at one time. Mix until powder is dissolved—not over one minute.

Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses. Do not disturb for about 10 minutes, while milk sets. Then chill in refrigerator until serving time.

Decorate each dessert with a Halloween face made of candy corn and raisins. Use the raisins for the eyes and mouth, and the candy corn for the nose.

Country Club to Resume Buffets

The Sunday night buffet suppers will be resumed at the Princess Anne Country Club, for the winter months. The hours are from 6:30 to 9 o'clock.

The suppers will be held every other week during the sason.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Clark of Cavalier Park spent last week-end in Williamsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Bass spent last weekend at Cape Hatteras. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Turner Grey. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Hitch and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Henderson of Norfolk.

Moving Peonies

If your old peony plants have become crowded and you must divide them, fall is the best time to do it. The roots should be well grown by cold weather if planted now. However, never move peonies unless it is necessary as it takes them several years to become settled enough to bloom well again.

The foliage turning brown indicates that the peonies are dormant now, and this foliage should be carefully cut off and burned to kill insect eggs and disease spored. Never pull the foliage off, for if properly planted the new blooms buds are already formed just under the surface of the soil, less than two inches under, and pulling may injure the buds.

If dividing an old clump, take off half and leave the remainder to bloom undisturbed. Dig down far enough to one side to uncover half the roots and cut off with a sharp knife. Divide into portions, so as to have three to five eyes on each. Replace the earth over the old roots without disturbing them, and add well rotted manure and bonemeal.

Plant these roots or newly purchased ones in the same manner. Dig holes three feet in diameter and two feet deep. Break up the bottom of the hole into large clods for drainage. Put six to eight inches of rotted cow manure in the bottom and mix enough soil to fill the hole in the proportion of one-third woodsearth or peat, one-third manure, and one-third sand. To each bushel of this add one quart of bonemeal. Fill the hole to within a few inches of the top, then plant with eyes up so that when covered and packed the eyes will be exactly two inches below the surface of the soil. This is the secret of bloom. Roots planted deeper make fine foliage but no bloom. Wood ashes sprinkled on top make an excellent mulch.

Peonies are gross feeders, and should have bonemeal scattered on top in spring. Cultivate very carefully as the bloom buds are just under the surface. Every fall use rotted manure as mulch and a little later (wait at least two weeks) put a little wood ashes on top. They need plenty of humus, phosphorus, and potash and a handful of wood ashes to each plant.

This table might prove useful to you: Humus is supplied by woodsearth, old manure, and peat; phosphorus is supplied by bonemeal or acid phosphate potash is supplied by wood ashes or sulphate of potash.

We will list, in what we believe to be the proper order, the reasons why your peonies might not bloom well:

1. Too deep planting.
2. Lack of phosphorus and potash.
3. Shade. They like their roots shaded by their own foliage and their tops in the sun.
4. Lack of freezes. Freezes allow the plant to rest.
5. Cutting the tops before they ripen. Next year's bloom buds are forming immediately after bloom is over and the help of leaves is necessary for this.

Peonies should grow well and bloom profusely in the same place for years and years if fertilized every fall with manure, after the ground is cold, and fertilized again in the spring with bonemeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Addington, who have spent the summer at their cottage on 71st street, have moved to their home "Cedar Cove Farm" on the Lynnhaven River.

'Best Meal in Long Time,' Says Patron of Colony Restaurant

After dining at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue, Dr. and Mrs. John D'Arora, of 40 Blackstone Avenue, Seattle, Wash., expressed their delight in a letter to the management here, saying: "It was the best meal we have had in a long time during our travels."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Giavannali, 483 Churchill Road, West Englewood, N. J., are two others of the many Colony patrons who praise them highly. Their letter states: "We were here in 1948 and returned again because of the food and service."

If it's delicious food, excellent service and a quiet atmosphere you're looking for, you can find all three at the Colony! —adv.

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Women's Editor

("Woman's World," 9-9:30 A.M., Monday-thru-Saturday, and "Repeat Performance," Tuesday and Thursday at 6:45 P.M. over WTAR, feature Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, homemaking, garden and civic events.)

Even though Nettie Rosenstein sees the "Color majority" as a theme for the 1952 fall American wardrobes, she has not lost her special way with the all-black dress. It is fashion news enough to state that she re-introduces the do - it - all black crepe dress again this season, planned for everything from shopping to committee meetings and quiet evenings — the kind of dress we've missed for a long time — especially a la Rosenstein.

The patrician grace and beautiful definition of outline which are an invisible label on every Nettie Rosenstein dress become this year generally high - bosomed, with a deep smooth or wrapped midsection above a smoothed - down hipline. There is almost always a hip yoke, shallow or deep. Her jackets and dress tops have suave shoulders and a neckline that is neatly soft, often decoratively cut in a wide arc.

There are many silent lines in the cut of Rosenstein's suits and clothes often fasten way to one side.

Her skirts are usually on the full side, but no longer full-bloom below an artificially tiny waist. A bias hip yoke to which satin, crepe or wool skirts are very lavishly gathered in uneven curves, forms Nettie Rosenstein's newest type of drapery called the fountain skirt. It appears both short and long for daytime and evening.

Little suit coats and littler jackets are this year boxed, or perhaps it should be called barreled, for most of them bulge gently in the center. Many have a cutaway front, both single and double-breasted, the deeply scooped - out fronts are usually balanced by a high-built skirt band.

The loose and fitted types of Rosenstein coats share honors, each one with its own point of distinction — unusual fabric, a new way of fastening, or a fascinating new collar. The Rosenstein loose coat, by the way, is not the sweeping cloak of former winters. Its sweep is at the hem! Her bright - colored coats, often in two - tone, deep - surfaced wools, are very much seen, sometimes trimmed or lined with black. Nettie's newest dark tone being introduced is a stunning new mahogany, almost red, almost brown, as a background color.

The three - piece suit - costume which combines a thigh-length overcoat with a two-piece dress or unified blouse and skirt has Rosenstein's customary elegance in its alliance of marvelous down, velvety or furry woolens, with jersey, light tweed or velvet in the polished details. These costume suits are stressed for daytime wear.

In both suit and dress fashions, the "little" look at the top remains but it is elongated and has angles or outward curves where incurves were before. For afternoon and evening the torso is lengthened by a subtle raising and draping of the bosom line, by wrapping the waist and by the new hip yokes.

From 5 o'clock on, Nettie Rosenstein visualizes a contemporary pageant, it seems to me, all color and fabric de luxe, with romantic period overtones reflected in sashed Empire waistline, Queen Anne brocades and Queen Alexandria flowered - toned charmeuse satins opulently but softly draped. There is also a fiery Spanish note or two in Flamence tiered skirts of black lace and boldly sirenish combination of black and flame red.

The short evening dress is apt to be as "grand" in fabric and trimming as the long dresses. Bands of color are used to both build and decorate some of the most breathtaking of the ball dresses. The return of crepe for both evening and day, the whole galaxy of the newest and most elegant of long silky "afghan" wool cuttings, patterned suitings and velvety dress woolens combine to stud this collection with conversation-piece fabrics.

Fashion Flashes: New spellbinders in jersey, ear-warming and hair-covering turnabout turbans will look especially becoming going or coming — they turn about! John Fredericks has turned his hand to designing an utterly fabulous collection of cocktail hour gloves, mostly with unusual turned back and deep cuffs!

Marvella's new gold Byzantine bead bibs, with earrings to match, are especially effective when worn with a perfectly plain dress!

The new way to wear white and black is to wear lots of both! black and black jet jewelry pebbled with rhinestones on white!

Ruffs are back! New beauty treatment for the fashionable necks with either high - necked or low - necked ruffs of feathers and tulle very smart!

So, girls, root down in the treasure chest and come up with grandma's feathers and stuff and you're in style a la fall 1952!

And, just as you wouldn't be caught fainting without a stole last year, this year it's an I-can't-live - without - my - shawl season. No matter what the size, color or fabric, get a shawl pronto!

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

Did you know that October 16-25 is National Macaroni Week? There is no limit to the variety of baked casseroles, and top-of-the-stove dishes as well, that you can turn out with macaroni, spaghetti and noodles in combination with meat, fish, poultry, vegetables, eggs and cheese. During this week, how about giving the family some real treats — using some of their favorite dishes, made with macaroni.

Too many of us associate macaroni or spaghetti with just one recipe — macaroni and cheese—or maybe spaghetti and meat balls. You will no doubt say, "How can the Italian menu provide for macaroni dishes several times a week?" The answer is plain. Even if the basic dish is the same, the Italians serve macaroni in such a variety of ways that no two dishes are the least bit alike.

Macaroni is an all-wheat food. It is made entirely of semolina, a granular meal milled from the "heart of Durum wheat." Durum wheat is an unusual and different wheat. Being much harder than the hardest bread wheats, it gives to semolina a flinty hardness responsible for the firm yet tender texture. Macaroni products are high in food value, a natural source of protein, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

There are many shapes and forms of macaroni. Some of the names are not too familiar, but they sound exciting and I'm sure make many a person curious. Here are some of the names: Ziti, mezzani, maccaroncelli (macaroni), perciatelli (thin macaroni), spaghetti, spaghettini (thin), capellini, feltucelle, maruzze (shells), elbow macaroni, mezzani rigati tagliati, ditali, tubetti. They are exciting, aren't they? I haven't even begun. There are many many more — different shapes and sizes.

The secret of making tempting foods revolves around simple cooking rules. The rules are simple and few. First of all, cook in a generous amount of salted boiling water. Secondly, but no less important, as soon as it is done run cold water into boiling water right in the pot. This sudden chilling of boiling water stops the cooking process and retains the tenderness you want. Lastly, drain and serve.

Ham Casserole

2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
2 cups cooked ham (small pieces)
1 cup green peas
2 sliced hard boiled eggs

Mix above ingredients and over them pour sauce made of 1-4 cup butter blended with 1-4 cup flour, add 2 cups hot milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Pour into well greased casserole and top with 1-2 cup soft bread crumbs. Dot with butter and bake 30 minutes in 350 degree oven. Serves 4 to 6.

Bye now. See you next Thursday. LUCILE.

Virginia's Lady Astor, the former Nancy Langhorne, has given her magnificent collection of 120 pieces of English china to her home state of Virginia. This collection includes Crown Derby, Wedgewood, Worcester, Shropshire Caughley and Liverpool china, and will be of particular interest to Virginians when the official presentation ceremonies take place tomorrow evening, October 17, in the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond.

David Tennant Bryan, whose father, the late John Stewart Bryan, was a life-long friend of Lady Astor's, will make the presentation. Mrs. Clifford Randolph Caperton, Mrs. Eugene Bradbury and Miss Ellen M. Bagby, well-known Virginians and girlhood friends of Lady Astor, will also assist in the Friday evening ceremonies. Most of the pieces to be shown are said to have been made in the late 18th or early 19th centuries and will be on permanent exhibition at the Virginia Museum.

Mrs. Oscar Ahlgren, Whiting, Ind., president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be one of 100 prominent men and women who will visit Germany on a four weeks' tour starting November 9. The aim is to acquaint them with present-day life and institutions in Germany, as guests of the German government. Mrs. Ahlgren accepted the invitation in the name of the 11,000,000 women of General Federation of Women's Clubs, which includes our own Woman's Club and Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club.

Margaret Truman will read the "Toast to the United Nations" at the big U. N. Day Ball in Washington October 24, with the toast being broadcast nationally and internationally to many American cities and 19 foreign countries. (We'd like to see Virginia Beach give a big U. N. Ball next October and participate in the purchase of CARE packages to be sent to various parts of the world with particular emphasis upon the civilian victims of the Korean war such as is being done nationally this year.)

If you haven't been fortunate enough to partake of the charcoal broiled steak that Grace Haycox turns out on her fancy outdoor brick barbecue, then you've really missed a gourmet's treat! On the barbecue chimney's top are clever black metal silhouettes of her grandchild and pets. It's quite an awesome gadget for outdoor fun.

Remember Jappy Johnson of the platinumed - hair tresses who used to fashion model so much at the Beach? Well, she's back here again after these past few years modeling for Cleveland's swank department stores and will soon be treading the local fashion runways!

Agnes Birsch and Catherine Harrell, a happy duo of Virginia Beach Soroptimist Club guests aboard the "Dolly E, II" last Sunday when Betty Luhring gave a cruise party and luncheon aboard to her club sisters as a pre-wedding event. When she treks to the altar November 7 with Tore Wistedt, Stockholm, Sweden, and New York financier, she will wear a silver crown atop her wedding veil — which she brought from Sweden when visiting Tore's family last summer — as is the custom at fashionable weddings in Sweden. Betty is radiantly happy and will live in a beautiful new home in Westchester, N. Y., and part of each year in Stockholm.

Navy Mutual Aid Re-opened; Many Found Eligible

The Navy Mutual Aid Association announces that membership has been reopened and applications are being considered from regular permanently commissioned and warrant officers of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard on the active lists who have completed at least seven years warrant or commissioned service in the regular Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard and are not over 45 1-2 years of age.

This announcement is considered timely, as recent passage of the Servicemen's Indemnity Act (the so-called Free Insurance), has afforded every officer an opportunity to increase his insurance estate. The Navy Mutual Aid Association not only offers a $7,500 benefit at reasonable rate, but also provides invaluable service to dependents of deceased members in the prompt preparation and submission to the proper authority of the various claims and supporting data necessary for establishing rights to government pensions, compensation, insurance, social security and burial benefits.

The Navy Mutual Aid Association has served the needs of officers and their dependents for three-quarters of a century and with its present membership of over 10,000 and assets of 29 million dollars is on a sound and stable financial footing.

Members of this purely mutual, officer controlled organization are assured of prompt and efficient handling of the details of processing government claims. They are assured that upon receipt of the official dispatch report of death, unless the member has given contrary instructions, $1,000 is immediately wired or cabled to the beneficiary. The remainder of the benefit, $6,500, may, at the option of the beneficiary, be taken in cash, left with the association on an interest bearing basis or paid in monthly installments over a specified period.

There are non-resident directors aboard most ships and stations who will eventually be furnished descriptive literature. In the meantime interested officers are advised to address their inquiries regarding membership to the Navy Mutual Aid Association, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

The Community Chest Needs YOU!

Before scalding milk for a recipe, butter the bottom of the pan you use, before pouring in the milk. It will not scorch or brown so easily.

Poached eggs will not spread if you stir the water vigorously in one direction, to create a whirlpool, before you drop in the eggs.

To insure cream puff shells which are high, drop them into muffin tins instead of cookie sheets.

An avocado dressing will give a new taste treat to a mixed green salad. Simply combine ¾ cup sieved avocado with 1 tablespoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon dill seed.

Use the pastry blender for mashing eggs for egg salad or sandwich mixtures. It works easily to make the eggs course or fine, as you like.

Animal crackers and candy canes are a nice decoration for a youngster's birthday cake. The canes may have ribbon bows on them and are placed in the center, with the ribbons coming out to attach to the animal crackers which are placed around the edge of the cake.

Squeeze a small amount of lemon juice over dates, figs and raisins before putting them through the food chopper. They'll come through more easily.

When making custard in individual cups, drop a teaspoon of brown sugar into the bottom of a cup before pouring in the egg-milk mixture.

Use this left-over cake in your cupboard in this luscious dessert. Drain and dice 4 or 5 canned cling peach halves. Combine with 6 cut-up marshmallows, 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, one cup sweetened whipped cream and a cup of cubed stale cake. Chill several hours.

Children are usually not much on eating salads unless they are finger salads. One they'll like is plump cooked prunes, pitted and stuffed with a spoonful of cottage cheese or peanut butter.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Poppy Seed Noodles
(Serves 2-4)

2 cups cooked noodles
2 tablespoons butter, or substitue, melted
1-16 teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon poppy seeds

Combine butter, salt, pepper, and poppy seeds. Toss lightly with noodles to blend.

Delinquent Water Accounts Cause Council to Ponder

Police matters and what to do about delinquent water bills consumed most of the City Council meeting the past Monday night.

Water Commissioner William F. Patton called attention to the delinquent water bills and proposed that council authorize cutting off water service when bills are not paid within 15 days after receipt.

Council took the water department's proposal under advisement. It was proposed that a fee of $1 be charged for turning off the water and a like fee charged when turning on water.

The city currently operates on the plan that water bills to owners must be paid within 30 days, while tenants have 60 days. After these periods the plan calls for cutting off the water. About half the city's water bills are not current, Patton told the Council.

Building Code Amended

Three amendments to the city's building code were adopted:

1. When "substantial repairs" are to be made on roofs in the city, they must be done with approved material. The building inspector will decide what "substantial" repairs are in each case. The old ordinance allowed repairs up to one-fourth of a roof with shingles or other combustible material, under which owners could escape fireproofing indefinitely, it was pointed out.

2. The wood of mantelpieces may be eight inches above the fireplace opening, instead of 12 inches as heretofore. This change, it was explained, conformed with State Fire Marshal specifications.

3. Metal chimneys may be supported on the roof in one-story buildings only.

Councilman Henry Gregory, reporting on renegotiations of a fire protection contract with Princess Anne County, said the records showed that a third of the calls answered by the Virginia Beach Fire Department were out in the county. He suggested that the county be asked to pay a third of the fire department budget of $47,000 a year, or $15,800, to which would be added $4,000 a year rental for city fire plugs in the county.

Police Aid Not Considered

Gregory said the matter of renegotiation of a police protection contract with the city was not brought up.

Gregory had conferred with representatives of the Princess Anne Board of Supervisors, who will consider the city's proposal for dividing the fire protection bill at its October meeting Monday.

Girl Scouts Aiding in Get-Out-Vote Drive

Girl Scouts will join the Get-Out-to-Vote campaign by opening a nursery at the Virginia Beach Community Center during the hours the polls are open on November 4, election day.

Girl Scouts and Scout adults will be available with games and stories for all pre-school children while adults are voting. No charge will be made, as this is a community service sponsored by the Scouts in cooperation with the Community Center.

Miss Jean Baldwin, Princess Anne District Scout Director, is in charge of this project.

Bloodmobile Visit Here Nets Sixty-six Pints

Results of the American Red Cross blood drive held at Virginia Beach, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Civitan Club, were more satisfactory than those which have been held previously, according to Mannie Camp, Civitan president.

The collection was made during the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the local Community House last Friday, October 17. Seventy-eight donors put in appearances, but 12 were rejected for one cause or another, with a resultant collection of 66 pints of the life-giving fluid.

Mr. Camp said that a major part of the credit for the increase in number of donors must go to the pupils of W. T. Cooke School and the Virginia Beach High School, who carried the message of the urgency of the drive home to parents and friends.

The Civitan Club sponsored a contest, among the various classes in the two schools, the class having, percentagewise, the most donors from parents and friends being entitled to the prize given by the club.

Dr. Howard Kahn, chairman of the Civitan drive, has announced the winning class as that of Mrs. Grace DuVal, Virginia Beach High, sixth grade, with ten donors. Second place went to the 4th grade class of Mrs. Louella White, Cooke School, with six donors; third place to Miss Catherine Manby's fifth graders of the high school, with five donors.

The Civitan Club will sponsor the blood drives for the remainder of its fiscal year. Every attempt will be made to raise the total donations to 150 pints of blood, which is the quota set by the Red Cross for this area and is all the Bloodmobile is equipped to handle in one visit.

Catholic Men's Club To Sell Christmas Trees This Year

The Men's Club of the Star of the Sea Catholic Church will sell Christmas trees this year for the benefit of the church beautification program.

Advance ticket sales began last week. These tickets will be a deposit on trees to be selected; can be purchased from any member of the men's club.

Christmas trees will be available for general sale and can be selected at the parish house, 14th street and Arctic Circle, from December 13 to 23.

Lt. Pollard Takes Part in 'Main Brace'

Recently participating in operation Main Brace on staff of Commander, Amphibious Group 2 on board the flagship USS Mount Olympus was Lt. Willard A. Pollard III, USN. Lt. and Mrs. Pollard reside at the Mayflower apartments, Virginia Beach.

In daily maneuvers the NATO naval forces conducted air and surface operations, fueled at sea and trained in communications designed to bridge language barriers and the differing techniques among the international forces.

'Beach Scandals of 1953' Being Readied by Junior Woman's Club

Members of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County are bestirring themselves for their annual show. The production is to be called "The Beach Scandals of 1953," and will be presented February 5, 6 and 7. The latest show is being planned along different lines from past productions, according to Mrs. B. P. Bareo, skit chairman:

"We are attempting something different this year in our Beach Scandals as the show is being produced and written entirely by local talent. There will be six comedy skits of five minutes length, and the public is invited to submit original skits from which the six will be chosen. The deadline for getting scripts in is November 1. Mail them to Mrs. B. P. Bareo, skit Chairman, 1049 Baltic Ave., Virginia Beach. The kind of material wanted is that suitable for a fast moving lively review; fast and funny, that is the keynote. Scripts may be typed or handwritten, and in any form. Re-writing will be done if necessary. If further information is desired, Call Va. Beach 1122-M."

The Junior Woman's Club stresses the fact that by writing and producing the show locally, much money will be saved which will be re-directed into Princess Anne County through the welfare work of the club. Members who are organizing the Beach Scandals believe that the public, which has always generously supported the shows, will enjoy helping to create the new production by submitting skits.

HAVE LEADS IN COMEDY

The Anns have it—what they've always wanted, first in. Shown above are Anne Henry, crawling from behind the sofa, and Ann Pennington, watching her suspiciously. The two will realize long ambitions when they play Dell Townsend and Opal Harris, respectively, in the Virginia Beach Little Theatre production of "Brighten the Corner," which opens Monday at the Community House. —Boice Photo

'BRIGHTEN THE CORNER' IS DECLARED TOP-NOTCH PLAY

The Little Theatre's first play of the new season, "Brighten the Corner," will bring a long awaited opportunity to two veteran actresses of the four-year-old organization.

Anne Henry, who has a history of achievement in the production as well as the acting branch of Little Theatre work, will soon be given a chance to test her mettle in a type of play that is new to her — farce. While she has had small parts in comedies that verged on farce, such as "You Can't Take It With You," she has wanted to attempt the faster pace and zanier style of a real farce. She is most at home in more dramatic roles, having accredited herself well in last season's "Night Must Fall," and earlier in "Kind Lady," psychological melodramas. Among other plays she appeared in are "Claudia," a comedy-drama, and "John Loves Mary," classed as a true comedy. Her role, a big one, in the forthcoming farce "Brighten the Corner," will therefore just about round out her list of play classifications.

"All that remains is tragedy," Mrs. Henry said, "and if we ever do something like 'Winterset,' you will find me right there trying out for Miriamne."

Ann Pennington will be remembered for her deft handling of the role of Mrs. Windrew in last season's farce-comedy, "Here Today." Always busy in some phase of Little Theatre work, she is perhaps best known for the skits, some of them original, with which she entertains as a guest at various clubs and organizations. She has been a performer in the Junior Woman's Club Follies of recent years, and is active in the Norfolk Children's Theatre, serving as president. Her one unrealized theatrical ambition has been to play a blackface role. This she will have an opportunity to do in "Brighten the Corner," in which she will depict Opal, the maid. Scouts who have watched her during rehearsals report that she is giving a delightful and funny interpretation to the part.

"Would I tfy out for a role in a tragedy?" Mrs. Pennington parried. "What do you think?"

Local people will be able to see these two able thespians in the roles close to their hearts when "Brighten the Corner" opens the season on October 28 and 29. Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce from 10 to 4 each day, and before or after those hours persons wishing to secure tickets may call Mrs. J. W. Sills at 161-J.

PAPER !

Virginia Beach Jaycees call attention to the fact that "Paper Collection Sunday" is next Sunday—and they will perform their monthly stint of picking up your surplus old newspapers and magazines.

Funds derived from the sale of these old papers are used in the furtherance of the group civic endeavors on behalf of the community.

Please tie your old papers in bundles and place on the curb.

Norfolk Editor Addresses DAR

The October meeting of the Princess Anne Daughters of the American Revolution was held Saturday, October 18, at 2:00 p. m., with Mrs. Bryant Dudley, Back Bay.

Mrs. R. C. Herbert, regent, presided. The invocation was given by Miss Ruth Ford, in the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. A. O. Johnson. The president general's message was read by Mrs. F. M. Robinson.

Mrs. R. B. Tynes introduced the speaker, Harold Sugg, associate editor of the Virginian Pilot, of Norfolk.

Mr. Sugg compared the revolutions of the world, showing how our revolution was the only one that worked. First, because we had George Washington; second, because it fell into the hands of philosophers; third, because we didn't try to achieve all the objectives at one time.

Mr. Sugg also gave the chapter a brilliant resume of the Korean

Visiting Pastor Addresses Men of Baptist Church Here

First Baptist Church of Virginia Beach plans to organize a men's meeting. Thirty men gathered at the church for supper Monday, October 20, and made plans in this direction. Rev. R. B. Watkins, pastor of Raleigh Forbes Baptist Church, Richmond, spoke to the group.

Dedication services for the new church building are set for November 2. Dr. George W. Modlin and Dr. Ira D. S. Knight will be among the out of town speakers for the occasion. Revival services will follow the dedication, with the pastor preaching each evening.

Johnson, Halstead, in Capital for Meeting

Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and Sergeant R. K. Halstead are in Richmond today attending the annual meeting of the F. B. I. National Academy Association of Virginia. The meeting is being held at the William Byrd Hotel.

Included on the program will be talks by heads of the F. B. I. offices in Norfolk and Richmond and panel discussions on current police problems.

Legionnaires Plan Observance Of Legion Week

L. B. Walker, Commander of American Legion Post 113 has announced that the local Post and others in Virginia will observe the week of November 9-15 as "American Legion Week."

During the week, a concerted effort will be made throughout the state to inform the general public of the programs and activities of the American Legion in Virginia.

"It is significant," Commander Walker said, "that the Legion, whose members have fought—and many comrades died—in two great World Wars and the Korean conflict to preserve the rights of free men, should designate the week in which Armistice Day falls as "American Legion Week."

We hope, through the observance, to call the public's attention to the aims and activities of our organization, dedicated "For God and Country," Commander Walker added. A special invitation to all veteran non-members to join the organization will also be extended during the week, he said.

Game 'Seahawks' Still Out to Win

The Virginia Beach High School football team looks good even in defeat. School officials and townspeople are proud to string along with a crew of green but eager youngsters who battle their hearts out week in and week out only to go down to defeat. The nearest they have come to winning a game so far was to tie Norfolk Academy.

Coach Fred Inmes, a big, blond affable fellow who once played a lot of football for Coach "Peahead" Walker at Wake Forest, has worked long and hard with his young charges and a less determined fellow might have become discouraged, but not Coach Inmes. After a recent game in which his boys went down, 45-0, he was asked how he felt about losing by such a score. He said, "That's all right. I'm not asking for any favors and neither are my boys. They haven't stopped fighting yet even though they have been as much as 45 points behind." He went on to say, "Every dog has his day and this just isn't our year. Just wait until the boys get a few more games and a little more experience under their belts, then the shoe will be on the other foot."

The "Seahawks," as the Virginia Beach boys choose to call themselves, will meet Courtland High School at Oceana stadium Saturday at 8 p. m.

Courtland has a good team this year but is believed to be more in a class with the Beach school than the other schools they have played this year.

Several of the Virginia Beach boys show real promise of developing into top notch ball players.

Kermit Scarbrough, a 6 foot, 165 pound fullback, is probably the outstanding player. He is fast and aggressive and has plenty of leg drive. Jim Meads, a 135 pound halfback, is the fastest man on the team. He has made many nice runs this season. The outstanding linemen are John Rank, a rugged 165 pound tackle, and U. T. Brown, who has been shifted from end to guard. There are some others that are coming along fast.

Beach Jaycees Sponsoring Grid Tilt

The Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the football game between the Virginia Beach Seahawks and the Creeds on Thursday, October 30.

The game, which has created an unusual amount of interest, will be played on the Oceana gridiron. Tickets may be purchased from any Jaycee or at the stadium prior to the game.

Local Artists Will Exhibit Paintings

There will be an exhibit of the work of Virginia Beach artists at Tucker Hall, Galilee Episcopal Church, November 3 at 4 p. m., through 10 p. m., and November 4, at 11 a. m., through 4 p. m.

Cause of Clark Death Still Undetermined

The exact cause of the death of Joseph Michael Clark, 45, Virginia Beach realtor, early Sunday morning is still unknown, according to Police Chief Reeves F. Johnson.

A report from the state medical office in Richmond had not been received late Wednesday, although preliminary examinations in Norfolk indicated that Clark did not die from any blow received in a fight at a Virginia Beach night club.

According to reports, the dead man allegedly engaged in a fist fight with M. M. Samuels, a Norfolk furniture salesman, in the O Club, 17th Street.

In the meantime Samuels has been charged with murder, but local police are awaiting the report of the state medical examiner, who has been sent samples of blood and other specimens for examination.

Early examination, according to Johnson, showed that Clark sustained no fractures as a result of the alleged blow suffered in the fight or in a fall.

Clark was revived in the club after the reported fight, and collapsed as he descended the stairway of the club. He was rushed to the Virginia Beach hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Held as a material witness in the case and released under $1,000 bond is a woman listed as Miss Thoris E. "Scotty" Vance. It is believed the fight started when Samuels spoke to Miss Vance, who was in the company of Clark.

Samuels, 43, who is employed as a salesman by the M. E. Stern Company in Norfolk, will be given a preliminary hearing in Princess Anne County Trial Justice Court tomorrow afternoon.

Safe Rifled by Pair At Princess Anne

The Kellam and Eaton store at Princess Anne was entered and a safe rifled by what is thought to be at least two men early Sunday morning. Frank W. Kellam, owner, reported to county police.

Police reported that the yeggmen apparently employed some sort of cutting tools to enter the strongboxes which are believed to have contained all of the proceeds of Saturday's sales.

Kellam told police that the felons broke a back window of the general merchandise store. Records in one safe were unharmed.

Local Rescue Squad Plans 22-hour Course

The Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad will begin a 22-hour standard first aid course at the Community House, October 29, it has been announced.

Class is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., and anyone interested should contact Dave Stormont III telephone 1286-J.

Early Reports on 'Feather' Drive Prove Encouraging

Early reports to chest headquarters indicate the annual Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest drive for $150,000 in funds is meeting with success.

Although only fragmentary reports have been made to headquarters in the City Hall, officials are optimistic that the drive can be concluded on October 31.

One of the most active divisions of the campaign thus far has been the special gifts section, which is headed by B. M. Stanton and Grayson K. Willis. While no figure has been released by this group it is reported that a sizeable share of its quota has been raised.

Alfred T. Taylor, general chairman, has urged workers and district chairmen not to let up in their work of soliciting residences. Taylor, along with Howard S. Myers, vice - chairman and head of the Virginia Beach division, have been in daily contact with the individual workers.

Myers announced that the City of Virginia Beach, which has been assigned a quota of $8,000, has been broken down into several sections. He released the names and territories of the leaders of the business unit of the drive. They are: Rufus Kight, south Virginia Beach north to 14th street; E. H. Church, from 15th to 19th streets; James C. Konstapanos, from 19th to 22nd streets Albert Crosby, from 20th to 29th streets; Al Mailhes, from 29th to 31st streets Dale Fairless, Mayflower Shopping Center and Apartment building.

Myers also announced that Mrs. Lucy F. Trafton, owner of the Trafton - Chalfonte, and Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier Hotel Corporation, are serving as co-chairmen of the hotel division.

The Virginia Beach chairman also announced that several members of the post office department have volunteered to canvass their routes at night. Myers also asked that ladies who want to volunteer to solicit in the residential section would be welcome.

A report meeting is scheduled for Friday at which time it is hoped that most of the goal will have been collected or pledged.

Atlantic Avenue Beautification Work Underway

The long-awaited dream of the local Council of Garden Clubs—the beautification of North Atlantic Avenue—appears very near a reality today.

State Highway Department forces late last week began the task of removing the unsightly weeds and sand dunes on the old Norfolk Southern right-of-way, and already work has progressed southward from 67th Street for seven or eight blocks. This has been accompanied by the removal of still imbedded rails further north along the right of way, in preparation for grading of that section of the road side.

The members of the several city and county garden clubs which comprise the Council have worked without cease to accomplish this major project, and the present work is in direct response to the visit of a delegation of Council members to Richmond some months ago.

The grading and leveling work is but a part of the over-all beautification plan. Top-soil will be put on the road side and landscape-planted to make the entire stretch of Atlantic Avenue a thing of charm and good looks.

In a separate portion of the program of beautification, the Cavalier Park Garden Club has undertaken the task of landscaping and otherwise enhancing the 89th Street entrance to the resort.

State Highway forces will carry the grading work to the city line, and from there to 42nd Street (entrance to the Cavalier Hotel), the work will be done by the City of Virginia Beach.

Garden club members expressed great satisfaction in seeing the work on the project getting started, and are ready with plans to complete the over-all project when this preliminary work is completed.

Beach Music Club Hears Program of 18th Century Songs

The Virginia Beach Music Club met last Friday at the home of Mrs. E. H. Church.

The program consisted of a group of Italian Eighteenth century songs which were sung by Mrs. Earle C. Van Buskirk, accompanied by Mrs. Russell Gimbert, and two groups of Schumann and Brahms selections played by Mrs. E. H. Church.

Following the program a delightful tea was served by Mrs. Church and Mrs. J. Raymond Pritchard.

Annual Hallowe'en Party Planned by Resort Merchants

The seventh annual merchants' Hallowe'en party will be held at the playground, 20th street and Pacific Avenue, October 31. In case of rain, the party will be held in the Community House.

As in the past, prizes will be donated by Virginia Beach merchants. There will also be door prizes awarded. Anyone wishing to help in making the party a success may contact W. H. Phillips or E. B. Bayne at the City Hall.

4-H'ers Begin Baby Beef Project

There was much activity at the Princess Anne Livestock Market last Friday afternoon when 18 4-H Club members in Princess Anne County assembled with their parents, friends, and sponsors to draw numbers for their feeder steers they will use in the Baby Beef Project this winter.

Ten Herefords, locally grown in Princess Anne County, and eight Angus selected out of the feeder calf sale at Petersburg, were distributed by having each member draw numbers for calves. After all had drawn numbers, the sponsors present were asked to draw numbers for the club member they are sponsoring.

"Come on boy, let's see your number."

Jimmy Lindsey, a 16-year-old from Back Bay, was talking to a frightened Angus calf trying to lose itself among seven others at Marr's barn on Virginia Beach Boulevard.

A dozen other teen-age Princess Anne 4-H Club members leaned over the rail of the pen sizing up the steers.

"He's a pretty one!" exclaimed one excited lad.

A few hours later each of the boys, and two girls, went home with one of the steers in tow.

For the third year, the 4-H clubs, County Farm Agent H. W. Oslin and a group of sponsoring merchants had started a group of Tidewater youth on the way to becoming responsible cattle raisers. Oslin explained that 18 take part this year and a like number of sponsors to supply steers. The steers, born this spring, are loaned to 4-H Club members, said Oslin, who care for them during the winter. In May they will bring forth their charges to be judged and sold for beef. Judging will be on the basis of appearance and showmanship—the quality of the cattle and not their weight will determine the winners, Oslin noted. For the participating youths the program provides an opportunity to demonstrate business and cattle raising ability, observed one sponsor. They are required to pay $8 toward an insurance fund in case any of the calves die during the winter. When the cattle are sold in the spring they must repay the sponsor the amount originally paid for the calf. Deducting the cost of feed, the young farmer can count as profit whatever is left.

Several youngsters took part in the program last year. Bruce Parron, of Kempsville, was one of those. "I didn't do so good," he confessed. Pete Childress of Kempsville is making his first

THE FEATHER

Your efforts on behalf of your fellow man are in a large degree a measure of your value to your community. Every citizen of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County wishes to carry his fair share of the community responsibility—yet deep down in his heart of hearts knows that his own efforts, and those of his immediate family are often wasted when he tries to do his share alone—without adequate facilities for investigation to search out the deserving agencies and individuals he would aid, or to determine their worthiness. And right there the RED FEATHER agency steps in. The Community Chest, with its experience gained over the years—and with every facility at its fingertips—can help you help your fellowman . . . . more promptly . . . . more economically . . . . more efficiently and seeing that he or his group get just the aid they stand in need of. Reliable citizens of this area—as of every area across the breadth of this great land of ours—are giving their time and effort . . . to help you help others. Make their task easier and your conscience freer by giving generously when you are called on. The call for this year is $19,000 in our city and county. Only by every one of us—and this means YOU and yours—putting our "wallets to the wheel" can our task — humanity's task —be accomplished. So give from your heart as well as your pocketbook — and with a liberality that will give your own heart a lift. Today — give to the COMMUNITY CHEST

MAL-DE-MALIK

Jacob A. Malik, Russia's chief delegate, and long the sharpest thorn in the side of the UN, is going home. But don't cheer. Valerian Zorin, the man who put Czechoslovakia behind the iron curtain, will take his place. There is no reason to suspect any change in belligerency or obstructionism.

We have not been told why we are losing Jacob. He probably hasn't been told himself. Stalin may not consider his 333 batting average good enough. He failed to prevent the signing of the Japanese Peace Treaty. He failed to hand the germ warfare charge on the UN. He succeeded in initiating the Korean truce talks.

It has been said he has wanted to go home for some time because he has heart trouble. We can't imagine it's his own idea. Moscow is often hard on people's hearts. They've been known to stop—cold. Jacob is on the ladder, but we don't know which way he's going.

MACHINERY SPEEDS PRODUCTION

Production per man is now five times what it was at the beginning of the century. The reason, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, lies in the increased use of machinery that speeds production. Such machinery requires capital investments and such investment can come only out of earnings.—International Falls, Minn., Daily Journal.

OUR COUNTRY IS FREE

Sometimes we use our freedom badly—forget about it—trade it cheaply—and fail to fairly give as much to some as others. But we know no people on earth have more freedom, or love it better, or will fight so hard to keep it.

SORORITY PLEDGES ARE HONORED

Sunday afternoon, October 19, Mrs. William L. Pickhardt, Jr., entertained Virginia Beach Alpha Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at the Bryant Cottage, 36th street and Atlantic avenue, for the fall preferential tea. The occasion honored the fall pledges. Those invited were Mrs. Robert S. Starry, Miss Virginia Rainey, Miss Ann McNamara, Mrs. John E. Adams, Mrs. Rodney M. Malbon and Mrs. Luther R. Malbon.

Also new in the chapter is Mrs. Thomas G. Thurmond, recently of Atlanta, Ga., who has transferred from an Atlanta chapter to the Virginia Beach chapter as an exemplar member of the sorority.

Mrs. Kenneth Malbon has assumed her duties as new president of the local chapter because of the resignation of Miss Claire Jenkins, former president, who has moved from this area.

A formal dinner and ritual will be held October 30 for installation of the new members. Also at this meeting, Mrs. Lewis Rogers Jr., Mrs. C. Edward Strandquest, Mrs. William C. Lambe and Mrs. William L. Pickhardt Jr., will receive their Ritual of Jewels Degree.

Atlantic Fleet Command Title Out Of Mothballs

An Atlantic Fleet command title which has been in mothballs since 1946 was restored last weekend by Adm. Lynde D. McCormick, commander in chief, Atlantic Fleet. The Editor's Mail Box

Virginia Beach, Va.
October 20, 1952

The Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun--News,
Virginia Beach, Va.
Dear Sir:

I have read your editorial and a letter in the Editor's Mail Box of your paper of October 10, 1952.

Both the editorial and letter show complete ignorance, or a notorious disregard, of facts.

As you know (or should have known when you wrote the editorial) the testimony in the Malbon case did not show that I was at any time active in the "slot machine racket." The testimony will show that on cross examination I was asked that if at any time I had engaged in the "slot machine racket." This I denied and when counsel objected to the evidence I was not permitted to explain. The fact is that for a short time, about 1932, while living in the City of Richmond, I was employed by a firm who operated vending machines which were legal and were licensed by the State of Virginia and the City of Richmond as legal machines. These vending machines could be played or operated with either coins or checks and the checks could be used only for the purpose of Replaying the machines. This was the only connection that I, at any time, have had with any so-called slot machines. Other than minor traffic violations I have never been convicted of any offense.

You alleged in your editorial that I grudgingly admitted that I had engaged in slot machine operations, when you should have known that I freely told all I was permitted to tell. Both you and your anonymous letter writer have libelously attempted to impugn my character, evidently, because I oppose the open lawlessness permitted in Princess Anne County including Virginia Beach.

I challenge you or any one to disprove any of the foregoing facts or prove that I have, at any time, engaged in any illegal activities.

Very truly yours,
LEO E. BAILEY.

Lynnhaven Home Club Elects Officers

The Lynnhaven Home Club met at the home of Mrs. Eulion White last Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and following an interesting demonstration on "Making Cheaper Cuts of Meat Appealing," given by Mrs. White, elected officers for the ensuing club year. These officers are: Mrs. Jane Pilly, president; Mrs. Boettcher, vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Moore, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Paxton, Federation Goal chairman on "Arts in Daily Living."

Four new members were introduced to the club—Mrs. Virginia Lane, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, Mrs. Doris Martin and Mrs. Sue Scott.

Following a covered dish luncheon club members met with Miss June Craig, county home demonstration agent, and A. S. Beecher, associate horticulturist from Blacksburg, and the Rev. Raymond Pinton, at the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church to outline a plan under the direction of Mr. Beecher for improving the church grounds. The project will be started in the immediate future, with the cooperation of the local garden and home clubs and church members.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Wood in Lynnhaven, when the hostess will give a demonstration on "Emergency Meals from Pantry and Freezer."

East Carolina Alumni To Honor New Association Members

East Carolina College alumni will honor the new association members at a dinner meeting at Carl Parker's restaurant in South Norfolk Monday, October 27, at 7:00 p. m.

James A. Johnson, Jr., principal of the Virginia Beach High School, is the president of the Tidewater chapter. He said, "All persons in and around Norfolk and Portsmouth who attended East Carolina College for one semester or more are eligible for membership in the Association."

A delegation from the college headed by Alumni Secretary James Butler and including Herbert Carter, band director, and Walter Noona, a music student, will be present; Mr. Carter will show movies of the Homecoming Day festivities held at the college last week and Mr. Noona will entertain at the piano.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Our Town Wouldn't Take a "Back Seat"

Well, the "battle of the buses" has been settled! Our town is again friendly with Balesville.

Everything started when buses began going through our town with a big sign on them saying SHOP IN BALESVILLE. The bus line is owned in Balesville and operates over here on a franchise.

Windy Taylor was all for putting up barricades—he kept calling up the police and the bus company. Finally Judge Cunningham invited the Balesville Chamber of Commerce to meet with ours at Andy's Garden Tavern.

Over a good meal and glass of beer we all reached a compromise without any trouble. Those signs now read SHOP HERE IN TOWN. Everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it shows how problems disappear once both sides get together and try to work things out. Naturally we're all a little different. Some like soda pop, for instance, and some like beer. So what? We all have to ride along through life together. Why not make it a pleasant trip?

The Light that's Grown Brighter through 73 Years

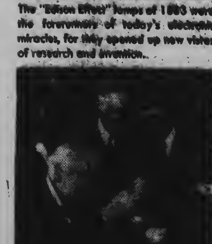

ON OCTOBER 21, 1879, Thomas Edison's incandescent light bulb was acknowledged a "success," after maintaining its incandescence for over 40 hours.

Were it not for the American system of free enterprise which encourages men of vision to risk their capital to finance research and experiment, the incandescent bulb might have remained merely a laboratory "success."

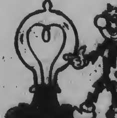

But because, in our country, there's incentive to invent and invest . . . the light has grown steadily brighter, dissipating the shadows in every corner of America.

The "Edison Effect" lamps of 1883 were the forerunners of today's electronic miracles, for they opened up new vistas of research and invention.

5th Naval District Sponsoring Sport Clinic for Area

To meet the increasing need for competent officials to handle intramural sporting events in the Tidewater area, the Commander in Chief Atlantic Fleet and the Fifth Naval District Commandant are jointly sponsoring a basketball and boxing clinic commencing October 16 at Norfolk Naval Receiving Station.

Increased Naval activity in the Norfolk area has made the pending clinic desirable and has evoked interest of commanding officers interested in competent athletic programs for their activities. Present officials are overtaxed and trained coaches are becoming harder to locate than in the past.

The coaching clinic will run from October 13 through 17. The officiating phase will be held the week of the 20th.

Instructors will include: Bob Carnevale, basketball coach, U. S. Naval Academy; Spike Webb, boxing coach, U. S. Naval Academy; Tony Rubino, boxing coach, U. S. Naval Academy; Bud Matheney, basketball coach, William and Mary College; Cmdr. M. A. Gabrielson, Fleet Athletic Officer; Lt. I. Ogden, coach, Cincinnati basketball team, and former player at the University of Oklahoma; Ens. Jack Weiss, former captain, basketball team, Penn State College; Ldr. Shoemaker, former coach Naval Air Station, Norfolk basketball team;

Junior Cotillion Plans Dance Friday Night

The Junior Cotillion of Virginia Beach will hold a dance at the Star of the Sea Parish Hall Friday night, it has been announced. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and conclude at 10.

Chaperones for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. W .Taylor Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bell, Mrs. H. C. Bernett and Mrs. W. F. Kennar.

Mrs. M. Ward Cole left last Thursday to visit Lt. W. V. Whitden and Mrs. Whitden at their home in Levittown, N. Y. Mrs. Cole was joined Sunday by Mr. Cole and they left Tuesday for Manchester, Conn., to visit Mr. Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cole.

Lt. Clickner, USA, coach at Fort Lee, former star from University of Tennessee.

Conducting the officiating clinic will be Aviation Chief Machinist Mate Lloyd Willet, member of the National Association Approved Basketball Officials, with district special services; Elder Kraft of the State Boxing Commission; Aviation Chief Machinist Mate R. M. Faust, of the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk.

Locally Made Fireside Fan Gains Far-Flung Fame

It is said that all you need in American business is one good idea and its development, and the success story of two local businesswomen certainly bears out this adage.

Three years ago Katherine Wood and Genevieve Jordan took a Victorian fashion and adapted it to modern decor. The product of their vision and foresight, a decorative fan, will appear October 26th in "Parade of Progress," a page of selected idea items in "Parade," the magazine supplement appearing with the Pilot and other newspapers throughout America.

The fireplace fan is a specialty of The Trading Post and was primarily made by Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Wood for their own small shop, but is now handled by gift shops in over thirty-odd states. With such distribution a workshop and assembly line come to mind ,but such is not the case. Their far-famed fans are handmade on a long table in the small shop and are assembled in idle time between customers and visitors.

Production doesn't seem impaired by these unique working circumstances, however, for Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Wood turn out a large quantity of fans each month and the meticulous workmanship and beauty have won them the distinction of their far-reaching markets. By suggesting the decorative beauty of the fans in floral arrangements and as dramatizers for idle spots, these old-timey fans have taken a new lease on decorative fashions, and have become a color accessory in interior decorative schemes.

The fans take two or three hours to make and are made to order, with the gold motif proving the most popular. However, there is a wide selection of color and color combinations. It took "some doing" to perfect the balance of the fans, said Mrs. Wood, "but we finally found weighting the sides made the fans stand alone.

"We've had orders and compliments on our fans from all over the United States," she continued, "but when they came to the attention of Parade of Progress and we were invited to submit them for possible publication we were exceedingly flattered and excited. When we heard they had been accpted and would appear on October 26th and be seen by approximately 13 million people over the United States, we were jubilant, but now we're a little scared we may be making fans in our sleep, literally, that is."

venture. They don't require much work. According to Fred. "An hour in the morning and in the evening." The main job, he noted, was scrubbing them down. "I wish I could get one," sighed a 9-year-old. Only 10-year-olds or older are allowed to participate.

Helen Smith and Carol Stevenson saw no reason why cattle raisers had to be men. Helen, from Blackwater, led her spirited Angus to the truck like a veteran steer handler.

"Lady Farmer"

Carol Stevenson of Oceana, clad in a red sweater and blue jeans, explained, "Daddy helped me build a nice pen." She looked forward to being a "lady farmer" as natural. "A horse is what I want more than anything, though."

The young farmers explained the art of steer raising.

"You fatten them," Jimmy explained. "See that one with the high tail? He'll be all straightened out next spring."

"I get the feed from the farm. It cost about $100," said one boy. Corn, soy bean pellets and oats make up their feed.

Drawn By Lots

In mid-afternoon, numbered slips, corresponding to number tags on the cattle, were placed in hats for drawing. Each of the 10 Herefords and the eight Angus were numbered separately. Because of unevenness in weight the assignment by lot starts each contestant off on a fair basis, Oslin explained.

In the same way the sponsors are assigned the calves whose caretakers will be responsible for repaying them. The youths sign notes to the sponsors promising to pay for their charges after sale.

Principals Listed

Caretakers and their sponsors awarded Herefords were Edward Gilbert, of Blackwater, the Virginia Beach Branch of the National Chamber of Commerce; Ralph Gregory, of Lynnhaven, J. C. Addington Lumber Company; Walter Humphries, of Kempsville, W. R. Taylor of the Taylor Salt Company; Joseph Key, of Pleasant Ridge, Bank of Virginia Beach; Johnny Matyiko, of Blackwater, Kline Chevrolet Company; Billy Oliver, of Bayside, George C. Coleman of Birtcherd's Dairy; John Ray Potter, of Oceana, Harrell Brothers; Robert Standing of Mackey's Island. C. F. Burroughs of the Royster Guano Company.

The Angus steers were assigned to Fred Childress of Kempsville, Norfolk Junior Chamber of Commerce; Donald Culver of Back Bay, Berkeley Feed Corporation; Jimmy Lindsey, of Back Bay, A. T. Taylor; Helen Smith, of Blackwater, Norfolk Chamber of Commerce; Steve Squires, of Princess Anne Courthouse, Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce; Carol Stevenson, of Oceana, Smith - Douglas Company.

J. B. Dudley, of Back Bay, sponsored an Angus for his sons John and Danny. Billy Oliver bought a remaining Angus on his own. He plans to show it at next fall

The City Council Dec. [illegible] Council approved on a request for $10,000 of Bond Fund money to be used in completing odds and ends at the new Virginia Beach High School.

A tax rate of $1.75 per $100 property evaluation was adopted on final reading. The ordinance was first read in September.

The Council also approved the appropriation of $10,000 for continuation of hydraulic dredging in beach erosion control work.

Defendants,

The object of this suit is for the said plaintiff to subject the real estate of J. A. Stormont, et als, in the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, to the lien for taxes due the Commonwealth of Virginia, and County of Princess Anne, Virginia, on the following described property, to-wit:

An undivided one-half (½) interest in and to that certain tract, piece or parcel of land, situate in Princess Anne County, Virginia, on Back Bay, near the Atlantic Ocean, containing sixty-seven (67) acres, three (3) roods, four (4) poles, more or less, bounded and described as follows:

Lying in Washwoods in Pungo Magisterial District, adjoining the waters of Back Bay on the North; Washwoods or the land of J. P. Woodhouse and others and the land of J. Dey Moore on the East; and the land of J. Dey Moore and the waters of Back Bay on the South; and the land of W. O. Ewell, now False Cape Gunning Club, and the waters of Back Bay on the West; and further described as follows:

Beginning at a live oak and running South three and one-half (3½) degrees East nineteen (19) chains to a small live oak in the dividing line between this property and the property of J. Dey Moore; thence South two and one-fourth (2¼) degrees West eight and sixty-nine hundredths (8.69) chains to a small pine in the said dividing line; thence turning and running south seventy-four and three fourths (74¾) degrees West still along the dividing line between this land and the land of J. Dey Moore eleven and thirty-four hundredths (11.34) chains to a cedar stump in Sykes cove, and continuing along said dividing line in Syke's cove, South seventy-four and three-fourths (74¾) degrees West three and forty hundredths (3.40) chains, more or less; thence turning and running North twenty-four and one-half (24½) degrees West six and fifty-three hundredths (6.53) chains, more or less, to a point in or near the center of another mouth of Syms' cove, thence turning and running North seventy-eight (78) and one-fourth (78¼) degrees West seven (7) chains; thence North five and one-fourth (5¼) degrees West one and two hundredths (1.02) chains; thence North twelve (12) degrees East twenty-eight and eighty-two hundredths (28.82) chains to a stake in the Bay, thence North eighty-nine and one-half (89½) degrees East eight and eleven hundredths (8.11) chains to a stake in the bay; thence North eighty-nine and one-half (89½) degrees East eight and eleven hundredths (8.11) chains to a stake in a creek; thence North seventy-four (74) degrees East three and fifty-seven hundredths (3.57) chains to Godfrey Tripp's road; thence So. sixty-six and one-fourth (66¼) degrees East six and thirty hundredths (6.30) chains to a stake in Tripp's road; thence South three and one-fourths (3¼) degrees East two and nine hundredths (2.09) chains to the point of beginning.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the said Mrs. T. J. Duncan (formerly Fannie Stormont), Everett S. Woman's Club Observes 27th Anniversary

The 27th birthday luncheon of the Princess Anne Woman's Club was held at the Pine Tree Inn, Tuesday, October 13, at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. R. R. Schweitzer, state vice-president of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, presented an enlightening talk on "Sacrifice or Chaos."

Guests were Mrs. V. E. Wornham, Sixth District president; Mrs. G. C. Gutland, president of the Norfolk Woman's Club; Mrs. D. B. Hill, president of the Ocean Park Woman's Club; Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge, president of the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club; Mrs. Alice Brewer White, women's commentator on Stations WTAR-TV and WTAR; Miss Mildred Alexander, women's commentator for Station WGH, and Miss Jane Craig, home demonstrator, Princess Anne County.

The following new members were welcomed by Mrs. Fred S. Perkins, president of the Princess Anne Woman's Club: Mrs. Eugene Calhoun, Mrs. L. O. Branch, Mrs. C. D. Barnard, Mrs. P. B. White, Mrs. E. B. Durham, Mrs. Alfred Nicholson, Mrs. J. H. Burrell, Mrs. E. H. Church, Mrs. A. W. Craft, Mrs. James S. Neidlinger and Mrs. Vernon P. O'Neal.

The following transfers from the Junior Woman's Club were welcomed: Mrs. Griffin Deal and Mrs. L. O. Clark.

Demonstration Club Meets at Lederman Home Tuesday

The Acredale Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert Ledermann on Olive Road. Cohostess was Mrs. V. V. Beacham A dinner was served to 20 members demonstrating making the cheaper cuts of meat appealing and a quick pantry meal. Colored slides of the Virginia Beach and Tri-County fair and cotton feed bag dresses were shown by Miss Jane Craig, Princess Anne County Agent.

The club voted to sponsor three awards for the best made dresses in the Kempsville Junior 4-H Club sewing class. Mrs. John Hart of Kempsville was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. P. L. Samson, president, presided.

Chesapeake Beach Club Celebrates 12th Anniversary

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held their twelfth birthday luncheon at the Princess Anne Country Club recently.

The guest speaker, First Congressional District Representative Edward J. Robeson, Jr., gave an interesting talk on international relations. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. R. Bryant, club chairman of international relations.

Mrs. E. A. Hudson, program chairman, presented Mrs. Joseph Polansky, Mrs. P. L. Early and Mrs. H. W. Newsome in a musical interpretation of "Trees." Mrs. Polansky and Mrs. Early also sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise." Mrs. W. J. Etheridge, a member of the club, read a poem which she had written, entitled, "Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, 1940-1952."

Mrs. L. L. Dillon extended a welcome and introduced the special guests, Mrs. Robeson, Mrs. O. C. Degge, Mrs. Robert Wasdon and Mrs. W. H. Etheridge.

The meeting was opened with an invocatoin by Mrs. S. B. Goode.

Mrs. Dillon announced that a series of art classes would commence Monday, October 20, at 7:30 p. m. The classes will be held in the Community House, under the instruction of Mrs. Otis L. Shumate, Norfolk professional artist. Further information may be had by calling the fine arts chairman, Mrs. E. M. George. Any residents of the Beach are welcome to attend these classes.

Bride-Elect Honored By Miss Millican

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jett have had as guests Col. P. Aitken and Mrs. Aitken of London, England.

Hays to Speak at Randolph-Macon

Congressman Brooks Hays, Democrat of Arkansas, will discuss "The Case for Stevenson" at a noon assembly at Randolph-Macon College, in Lynchburg, on Tuesday, October 28. The college extended invitations for representatives of both the Democratic and Republican parties to address the student body during the current campaign.

James H. R. Cromwell addressed the students and faculty at the college on October 16 on behalf of the Republican presidential and vice-presidential nominees, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.

Congressman Hays was elected to Congress from the Fifth District of Arkansas in November, 1942, and has served continuously since then. From 1932 to 1939 he served as a representative for Arkansas on the Democratic National Committee. He is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

In 1948 similar invitations were issued by Randolph-Macon Woman's College to candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties, as well as to the States Rights party.

Representative Hugh Scott, of Pennsylvania, at that time GOP national chairman, spoke on behalf of Governor Dewey, while Martin Hutchinson, Richmond attorney and a leader of Virginia's anti-Organization Democrats, spoke on behalf of President Truman. J. Strom Thurmond, the States Rights candidate, spoke for himself.

COLONY RESTAURANT COMPARED TO BEST IN NEW YORK CITY

"The atmosphere here is excellent and the food is better, if that is possible. The Midwest (Illinois) could not equal this culinary delight." So wrote Mr. John A. Peterson, of Hilburn, Illinois, after dining at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue.

A comment received from Mrs. Frances Geldy, of Forest Hills, New York, reads: "Food is very good—just like the best restaurants in New York!"

LITTLE PECULIARTIES MAKE LIFE IN SPAIN INTERESTING

By FARWELL FERBY

Every country has different trade marks and customs. Madrid is full of little peculiarities that make life more interesting for the tourist. As you drive to your hotel upon arrival, the first thing you will probably notice is the great quantities of taxies almost to the exclusion of other cars. Most of them are in a rather sad state of repair and on the first ten-minute ride I took I counted four that were on the side of the road with their hoods up. They are all painted dark blue or black and have a thin red stripe on both sides.

Every so often, as you ride along, it will seem as though someone on the edge of the road is trying to spray the front of your car with a fire hose. All over the main part of the city you see men with a little short section of hose spraying the streets and taking quite a bit of pride in being able to hose down a busy street without getting your car wet. It is generally believed that this watering of roads is done to keep the dust down, to keep the city cooler in the summertime, and to keep the streets clean. However, I understand it is done here in the wintertime, and one person told me it is not uncommon to see it being done even during a rain.

Often you can see these street firemen watering the many trees and beautiful gardens that are everywhere in Madrid. When you remember how cheap labor is, it should not surprise you to see that these hoses are made of leather and the seams fastened with copper rivets. A good hoser will not stop at merely watering down streets and trees. I saw one the other day washing not only the walls and fences on the side of the street as also hosing down the vestibule of a church whose front doors happened to be open and within range.

Everywhere you see uniforms, all kinds of uniforms—everything from natty white air force uniforms to the much more commonly seen G. I. uniform which by itself would eliminate any chance of anyone volunteering for service in the ground forces. About the only bit of color to liven up the all-out olive drab G. I. uniform is a little red tassle hanging from the front of the overseas cap down in front of the wearer's eyes. It would be interesting to know why they are not all crosseyed and sexless, the lucky 50 centimos (one U. S. cent) a day and up lads who sport this garb. Just as almost all the cars on the street seem to be taxis, so almost all the people walking around Madrid seem to be in uniform.

The American tourist going to an American film in Madrid is usually unpleasantly surprised to find that the conversation is all in Spanish. This is quite perplexing, because he might have seen exactly the same movie in the States in our beloved English. How is David Niven able to speak Spanish as well as Betty Grable? A good guess would be that the lips are changed on the film to mesh with someone else's Spanish beside Niven's. In any case, it's very ego-shattering to go to one of our best U. S. films in Madrid and come out not having any idea why everyone was trying to kill the Scarlet Pimpernel.

Part of the charm and way of thinking of these people can be found in the sayings, stories, and expressions they have coined. Th

VA Moves Cut Medical Costs

Veterans Administration announced it has taken five steps necessary to reduce the costs of its Department of Medicine and Surgery, to bring the operations within the limits of funds appropriated by Congress for the fiscal year 1953.

First is a reduction of 2,250 employes in VA hospitals. Doctors, nurses, dentists and dietitians are exempted from the cut, since there is a national shortage of trained personnel in these four classes. VA said, in order to maintain balanced staffs between hospitals, a few doctors, dentists, nurses and dietitians may be offered transfers from one VA hospital to another.

Separation notices were delivered early in October to employes who must be cut from VA service. The procedures of Civil Service Commission are followed. Employes affected got 30-day notices, which will take effect November 4.

The second step was a reduction of 5 per cent in medical employes in the Central Office, Washington, D. C. Step No. 3 was to reduce VA's contracts with other Federal agencies for hospitalizing a daily average of 385 veteran patients.

Fourth step was to reduce by $1,000,000 the amount allotted to pay hospital consultants and attending physicians for VA hospitals. Final step was to reduce by $5,700,000 the amount allotted for fees for physicians giving outpatient medical and dental examinations and treatment of veterans.

VA said it anticipates a reduction in the daily average number of patients in its hospitals being an overall reduction of more than 2,000 patients.

OCEANA PREPARING FOR FOURTH OCEAN BOWL GAME NOVEMBER 7

Oceana Cavalier Stadium will be the saging again, November 7, for the fourth annual Ocean Bowl game when the Cavaliers meet the Churchland Truckers. The parade is expected to be the largest in this four years series of the bowl games.

Homecoming Emphasis

This year at the Ocean Bowl there will be a homecoming for the Oceana alumnae. The following classes have been asked to sponsor floats in the pre-game festivity: Class of '29; Class of '30; Class of '31; Class of '32; Class of '37 Class of '42; Class of '47.

Announcement of class chairmen are in this issue, so those who were in any of these classes, contact your chairmen and make this a great reunion. This is the first effort for a homecoming and all alumnae are urged to participate. Get out the old glad rags of high school days, and meet the gang again! There are many all-star eleven still in the county, so let's dig them up (though they're not dead) for the ole' time football spirit. Sections of the bleachers will be reserved for the special classes to celebrate!

Half-Time Feature

The theme for half-time festivity will be the seasons of the years. Each princess from the various classes will represent a season of the year. The Queen, representing winter, will be crowned Queen of Winter Wonderland.

The Cavalier Band, under the direction of James A. Cantwell, will have a special feature in carrying through the theme of the seasons. Further information will be announced later. Keep in mind the one date now—November 7, Cavalier Stadium, the Ocean Bowl Game.

Shenandoah Valley Featured In "Holiday"

What city is called "The Apple Capital," rating as the world's greatest exporter of apples?

Holiday Magazine for November gives this status to Winchester, Va., gateway to the Shenandoah Valley. Holiday points out that the Shenandoah Valley is many things: The new Skyline Drive, the ageless Natural Bridge, a place of fine cattle, poultry, grain and apples, the Wonderland of Shenandoah National Park, the homeland of the Blue Ridge mountaineers, of Sam Houston, the fabulous John Sevier and Cyrus McCormick. More than that, it is camps and schools and colleges, the College of Brother Rat and of the postwar Robert E. Lee.

It is also the Luray Caverns, the campaigns of Stonewall Jackson and the first military assignments of George Washington.

Holiday gives a panoramic view of the Valley Pike cities—Winchester, Harrisonburg, Staunton and the birthplace of of Woodrow Wilson—Lexington and Roanoke.

Not to be taken in at a glance, but absorbed, the Shenandoah Valley has succeeded in being an historic site as well as a vital segment of America. So says Holliday, and that with all its beautiful and variegated scenery, its natural wonders, here is a sense of perpetuity about Shenandoah Valley—it is a continuous stream of American life from the Frontier into today.

FBI Auto Theft Parley In Norfolk

Galen N. Willis, special agent in charge of the FBI's Norfolk office, announced recently that an FBI law enforcement conference on auto theft problems will be held November 18, at Norfolk.

Mr. Willis said conferences of this type have been scheduled by the FBI on a regional basis throughout the United States, in view of the fact that automobile theft has become the nation's biggest crime against property. Cars stolen in 1951 had an estimated value of more than $100,000,000. In addition, crime reports from more than 400 cities analyzed at FBI headquarters in Washington, D. C., reflected that thefts of articles from automobiles and of automobile accessories comprised approximately 41 per cent of all larcenies committed.

The planned conferences are the first step in a concerted national drive on such crimes, according to Mr. Willis. More than 100 conferences will be held throughout the country during October, November, and December, 1952. They will be participated in by representatives of local, county, and state law enforcement agencies, representatives of state motor vehicle bureaus, and other organizations concerned with the auto theft problem. Mr. Willis said that the conferences will provide increased coordination of law enforcement agencies and utilization of the most effective techniques in dealing with thefts.

VIRGINIA BEACH NAVY CAPTAINS IN ATTACK SHIP PRESENTATION

Two Virginia Beach Navy captains played leading roles in the command of the attack cargo ship USS Marquette changed hands recently in Marseilles, France.

Capt. John B. Aser, USN, relieved Capt. Donald J. MacDonald, USN, as skipper when the ship made a liberty port call to the Riviera city. The Marquette is attached to the command of Vice-Adm. F. G. Fahrion, USN, commander amphibious force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. At present the vessel is serving with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Captain and Mrs. Aser and their two daughters live at Virginia Beach. Captain and Mrs. MacDonald and daughters Pamela, Cynthia and Sandra, also live here.

Captain Aser was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1930 and spent much of his Navy career in submarines. From 1934 to 1948 he commanded the R-19, which was under lend lease to the British, the SS Whale and SS Caiman. In addition he was commanding officer of the submarine tenders USS Pelias and USS Gilmore and served as Commander Submarine Division 42.

He was awarded the Navy Cross and Gold Star in lieu of a second award for his submarine service in the Pacific during World War II. His most recent tour of duty was at Terminal Island, California, where he was officer-in-charge of reserve officers candidate training.

Captain MacDonald was widely decorated during World War II when he skippered the famed destroyer USS O'Bannon through many Pacific campaigns. He wears the Navy Cross with Gold Star, Legion of Merit with Gold Star, Silver Star Medal with Gold Star and the Bronze Star Medal with Gold Star. Foreign decorations include the Croix de Guerre of France, the Belgian Order of Crown Rank of Officer with palm and the Croix de Guerre with palm.

Captain MacDonald previously commanded Presidential Yacht USS Williamsburg. He was commanding officer of the Marquette for one year.

AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY MEETS WITH MRS. TILLETT

The monthly meeting of the Princess Anne African Violet Society met with Mrs. J. B. Tillett, 118 Pinewood Road, Thursday, October 16. Mrs. C. H. Wroton was co-hostess. Delicious refreshments were served and two new members joined the club, Mrs. L. C. Mallory and Mrs. R. E. Reedy. Ribbons were won by groups of violets by Mrs. Tillett, Mrs. H. P. Ames and Mrs. C. H. Wroton.

Miss Elizabeth Baker Becomes Bride of John Scott-Paine

Miss Elizabeth Alexander Baker, daughter of Rear Adm. Harold Dodge Baker, USN, and Mrs. Baker, was married last Saturday to John Hubert Scott-Paine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Scott-Paine of Hythe, Southampton, England, at 4 p. m., in the Naval Communications Chapel, with Chaplain William J. Cobert officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Felix Michael Rogers of Washington, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Spyro Skouras, Miss Nancy Wallace Smith, Miss Patricia Ward, Mrs. Louis Auer and Miss Laura Bell Watts, all of New York.

Spyro Skouras was best man. Ushers were Messrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Henry Luce III, Ivan Obolensky, Robert Weston, Samuel Williams Meek, Peter Gagari, Gordon Bourne Michler and Col. Felix Rogers.

A reception at the Congressional Country Club followed the wedding. The couple left for Coral Beach Club, Bermuda, on their wedding trip and will live on Shore Drive, Greenwich, Conn., on their return.

Admiral and Mrs. Baker and their daughter are former residents of the Beach.

The bride was presented to society in Washington in 1946. She attended Sacred Heart Academy, Honolulu; Foxwood, Kings Point, L. I., and California Academy of Fine Arts.

Mr. Scott-Paine received his education at Worth Preparatory School in England, Ridley College in Canada, and Yale University. He is vice-president of the Sea-Beaver Shipbuilding Corporation, Greenwich. His father is a designer and builder of craft such as the Spitfire airplane and the P. T. boats of the last war.

Use Corn Bread Stuffing to Make Pork Chops Tasty

Cool weather is with us again, and we are all looking for good, rich, tasty main dishes. Here's a recipe that combines economy with the greatest taste pleasure imaginable. Pork is among our least expensive meats this year, and you can use up the leftover corn bread, too.

Serve with a good green vegetable, and your meal is complete. An oven dish like this one saves lots of work, too. Pork chops with corn bread stuffing will satisfy all the family. They are just the thing for a cold winter night.

PORK CHOPS WITH CORN BREAD STUFFING

¼ cup chopped onion
⅓ cup bacon fat or melted butter
4 cups stale corn bread
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
⅛ teaspoon pepper
6 double pork chops, cut for stuffing

Brown onion in fat. Crumble corn bread coarsely and combine with remaining dry ingredients. Add fat and onion and mix carefully. Stuff into pork chops, tie closed (or lace around trussing pins) and bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven, 350°F., 1 hour, turning once. (Add ¼ cup water after both sides are browned, if needed.) Bake excess stuffing in shallow buttered pan. Yield: 6 servings.

Mrs. Cornell Berry has returned to her home on 73rd street after attending the P. T. A. convention held in Roanoke for several days.

"Home, sweet home" is the theme since the advent of television! So, it is no wonder that at-home fashions are coming to the fore in the fashion picture these days. The home body has become a very glamorous aspect of the modern fashion picture!

Hearth-side sitters can have all the allure and excitement they want while they do their armchair politiking, for almost all designers—dress, sportswear and negligee—have gone all out with luscious creations to fit all moods and monies.

Favored fabric is pure silk for either exotic Oriental tunic pajamas or round the clock silk dusters that go glamorously from dinner table to divan televiewing.

Far eastern moods flavor designs from leading sportswear collections. Slim silk shantung harem pants, silk honan coolie coats, Persian inspired embroideries on silk brocade, metallic silk brocade tunic pajamas are just some of the examples of how exotic the American hostess can be in her own living room. From India, silk organdies of sari-like silk gauzes are used for coats over trim velvet pants. The Spanish influence apparent in braid trimmed short velvet pants especially appealing on a young figure.

In a different mood, one prominent sportswear dessigner turns to the Directoire period for an Empire at-home gown in amber printed silk crepe de chine with long black strings that wrap and tie under the bustline.

A popular fashion for the no-place-like-home gals are the many theme and variations in hostess coats from negligee collections. The darlings of many just-marrieds is the quilted silk duster that does all day duty as morning coat for preparing hubby's breakfast and late day, for dinner and televiewing.

Memo For The Boys: When Christmas gift shopping for your Lovelies in the family, don't forget the above fashion advice. These luxury at-home fashions make swell take-home gifts for Christmas, anniversaries and birthdays!

Fashion Flashes: New "house" slippers are a cross between mules and dancing slippers, in styles ranging from barefoot flats to sandalized oxfords and add that glitter-toe business to correct wearing for televiewing at home! Big barrel muffs of red fox dyed coal black will be very smart gadgets for show-off purposes! Tartan ascots—flannel on one side and gingham on 'tother—will be worn by Mr. and Mrs. with their country clothes! A flurry of fur over the collar of a winter coat, tweed suit or even a black cocktail dress can be a mink-tail jabot in silver blue. (You can dig up tails of an old fur piece and fashion one yourself, if you're smart). In the Lanvin - Castillo's mid - season showing this week in Paris, viewers will oh-and-ah at the great white peacock wool coat, that looks like one long train sweeping out in back, wih embroidered leaves of gold braid and sequins giving it that lush look! Latest fur fancy in slippers is by the famous Capezio who introduces champagne satin pumps collared in mink! White is back for elegant evenings of formality! French designers have touched their fashion wands to white. Balenctaga chose white faille; Desses spiraling white tulle; Manguin prefers white chiffon, almost Greek in treatment, and Gres creates the most exorbitant skirt seen off a stage—tremendous in width—of white taffeta! Professor, strike up "White Christmas!"

People, Places, Stuff . . . . . and Things

Katharine Hepburn's new show on Broadway, Shaw's "The Millionairess," has attracted over 60,000 mail orders for seats! Every day from 150 to 400 people queue up in front of her theater for seats. So, if you've written for tickets be forewarned. Katie, by the way, is dazzling her audiences anew in a fabulous wardrobe created for her by Paris designer, Pierre Balmain. Never has she looked so lovely since her languid chiffons in her stage play of "The Philadelphia Story."

Mrs. R. R. Schweitzer, vice-president of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, spellbound her audience and then some when she spoke during the 27th anniversary luncheon of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County at Pine Tree Inn last week. Edna opened up all the stops re governmental spending, voting, being well versed on the nation's affairs and so on. She really impressed her listeners. She told me that was her eleventh speech in two weeks, having made all the District meetings in the State for the Federation. She's a capable business woman as well as club woman, too.

Mrs. William A. Cox, Jr., has taken to a business career with Dale Fairless like Santa takes to the chimney. Jo is bee-busy these days helping Dale open up the new shop at Chapel Hill a week from tomorrow. Hallowe'en no less!

Whenever you see Mrs. E. Guy Robertson hustling to and fro you can bank on it that she is on an errand to do some kind gesture for church or friend. The busiest doing-goodest lady hereabouts!

Bertie Norwalk, business manager of Casino Park, is adopting a new theme song, "The Three Little Fishes," now that she's sitting in at the Fishing Pier box-office and listening to those fish stories of over - enthusiastic localites who tote the pole. Weather's still good for fishing on the pier.

Mrs. Grayson Willis is a super saleswoman for the good earth. She believes truly in getting out and digging in it when you have a problem to solve. How many times I've heard other garden devotees say that, too. "Pinkie," as she's fondly known here at the Beach, has reason to be proud of the new addition to her garden, walled about and everything.

Ruth Masury, director of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, has polished up her fanciest adjectives in describing her leading lady in the first play this season, "Brighten The Corner." Ensign Bryce B. Johnson's wife, Bernice, plays the role of "Jeri Carson," also a navy wife in the play. Ruth says Bernice is "doll-like, cute as a button," "just like a grammar school girl" and "the darlingest little actress." That'll give you a rough idea of what to expect when the curtain rises in the Community House October 28 and 29. Better be there to see if you agree with Ruth.

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
Food Editor

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

October meals are fun to plan and serve. Colorful, crisp autumn days whet the appetites and good food is appreciated to the fullest. It's a time when a little something extra-special is called for — and don't we love to be able to have that "extra special" something for our family? A sausage upside - down cornbread is just the very "something" — a real delicacy and so easy to turn out.

Just put a pound of pure pork sausage links into an 8x8x12-in. pan and place in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes. Then drain excess fat — leaving just enough to comortably cook the cornbread—about three or four tablet spoons should be left in pan. Arrange links in any attractive design you want and pour over them your favorite cornbread—or maybe a handy package of cornbread mix. Return to the oven and bake 30 minutes or until cornbread is golden brown. When done, turn out and there you'll find a tempting upside-down Sausage Cornbread—ready to serve. What a dish! It's a real top of the morning breakfast or brunch. Make it an elegant top of the morning affair. Serve refreshing ice cold orange juice, floffy scrambled eggs, and plenty of coffee.

It makes an out of the ordinary first meal of the day on Sunday — and it's a grand menu when you want to entertain at brunch, adding maybe a luscious dish of fried Virginia apples.

Certainly with all the beautiful red, juicy apples on display at all the markets—you'll find just the kind that fry to perfection. Really—Sausage Upside Down Cornbread is a dish that's bound to satisfy those keen appetites and make your October breakfast or brunch planning a pleasure.

If you're planning to entertain the boys and girls for Hallowe'en I couldn't suggest anything nicer than ice cream molds - witches, pumpkins, black cats, owls - they're so good, and pretty too. They'd surely make your entertaining much easier. And if you want an easy cookie recipe —here's one:

Brown Edge Refrigerator Cookies

1 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
3 cups sifted flour
1-4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt

Prepare dough several hours in advance. Cream butter, add sugar and vanilla, add eggs, sift together ingredients, blend thoroughly, and shape in rolls about two inches in diameter and eight inches long. Wrap in waxed paper and chill at least overnight in refrigerator. Slice very thin and bake on greased baking sheet at 375 degrees for about seven minutes or until light brown.

You can store uncooked cookies for days — just keep them tightly wrapped in waxed paper until you're ready to bake.

Bye now. See you next Thursday.

Four Virginia Beach feminine television viewers during the past week have raved about Jon Dawsons appearance when he did news for Boyd Harrier, on Trafton Robertson's show, while Boyd paced about awaiting Old Doc Stork's arrival. Jon has many Beach and Princess Anne lady fans from his emoting in "Harvey" a couple of seasons ago in the Theatre-Go-Round version. "He looks like a juvenile" is the way one enthusiast put it!

If you've ever wondered what happened to Constance Bennett, she was honor guest yesterday at the Army and Navy Country Club in Washington at a luncheon meeting of the Senior Jango members and was greeted as the wife of Col. Theron Coulter. She, along with Myrna Loy, is making her home now in the Capital City!

Don't forget to give your pint of blood this week for those boys who depend on you—those brave lads over in Korea!

Petticoat Lane

Especially for Homemakers

"Watch the pennies!" is Ida Bailey's advice to the homemaker who hankers to be a thrifty one. She says to jot down the routine foods and householdl supplies needed for the week and a list of fresh foods needed for the next three oro four days. Make a separate column for groceries, dairy products, the meats and other proteins, and the vegetables and fruits you hope to purchahse. Then be prepared to buy alternates for foods that may prove too exclusive or in short supply.

The above is all by way of interesting you in Dr. Allen's revolutionary cookbook just off the press. It's her Step - by - Step Picture Book," the picture way to perfect cooking. She also advises to "keep informed: read food articles (we say Lucille Clark's food column on this page) and advertising in magazines and newspapers. Watch food programs on television (again turn on WTAR 12:45 p. m. "Let's Cook" program) and on the radio." This book is unique in every way. A marvelous Christmas gift, too!

Had you heard that a Westinghouse engineer, Frank Benedict has predicted an air conditioner that eliminates dust and bacteria, and emits a fragrance of roses, and phosphorous panels that store sunshine for release at night for future homes. Sounds fantastic, doesn't it? But think of the underheard of gadgets 20 years ago that we "can't do without" today!

Wrap Scotch tape, sticky side up, around your hand, then rub same over an article quickly, with a patting movement, and see how quickly lint will be gone.

Ever think of mustard with string beans? It's a new flavor treat well worth trying. The beans, whether they're canned, frozen, or fresh, will taste better, you'll find, if you blend a pinch of dry mustard with the minced parsley and melted butter as a sauce just before serving.

You can fix leftover corn stewed, in a pudding, or perhaps in a creamy corn soup. For a more flavorsome second appearance, try using ground allspice as a seasoning. It makes a wonderful "pepperupper."

Allspice is good, too, with other vegetables such as carrots and tomatoes. Just add 1-4 teaspoon ground allspice to melted butter before pouring over vegetables.

Serve sizzling pork sausage links with mashed potatoes, cooked peas heated with undiluted cream of mushroom soup, and a crisp tossed salad.

Corn Meal Keeps the Heat Inside Tasty Fish Fillets

Crisp and crunchy on the outside, delicately flavored and hot on the inside. That's the eating delight you'll find with fish fillets rolled in egg and corn meal. They're so quick to make and easy to serve, and the corn meal keeps the heat inside.

Rice, brown, french-fried potatoes, ... salad or hot vegetable, ... you have your complete meal. Add hot corn bread squares brushed with butter, and listen to your family ask for more. Frozen fillets make fish an easy meal the year 'round.

Fish fillets take so little of your time, and they go equally well on the dinner table, for family meals or for a Friday dinner party. Lemon slices, tartar sauce, or a hot sauce like you serve with shrimp are all good with these fish fillets.

FRIED FISH FILLETS

1 cup corn meal
2 teaspoons salt
6 fish fillets
1 egg, beaten
Hot fat

Combine corn meal and salt well. Dip cleaned fish in the beaten egg, roll in corn meal, and fry in ½ inch hot fat (strained bacon dripping may be used, if desired), turning to brown both sides well. Be careful not to overcook fish. Yield: 6 servings.

FORT STORY NEWS

SUNDAY SERVICES

In an effort to increase attendance at both Catholic and Protestant services, Chaplain (Captain) Jesse I. Hart of Fort Story has devised a unique program. On alternating Sundays each of the battalions of the Post sponsor the services and encourage their men to attend. The first battalion to sponsor the services was the 302nd Transportation Port Battalion on October 12 followed by the 5th Transportation Truck Battalion on October 19. The 34th Transportation Amphibious Truck Battalion is scheduled to sponsor the services October 26.

Chaplain Hart states that he is pleased with the support the plan has received as is evidenced by a vast increase in attendance at the two services held under the new plan.

RED FEATHER DRIVE

Capt. John R. Miller, Post S-2 at Fort Story and chairman of the collections for the Community Chest drive, announced that the drive is achieving considerable success on the Post. To date, although the campaign is not completed, $600.00 has been collected.

Captain Miller expects this sum to increase considerably by the time the drive ends October 31. Headquarters Company 922, 4th TSU-TC Detachment III, contributed more than any other single unit assigned to the Post.

DECORATION PRESENTED

Pfc. James Johnson of the 313th Transportation Port Company at Fort Story was awarded a Purple Heart medal at a garrison review held here October 15. Johnson was wounded while serving with the 21st Infantry regiment, 24th Infantry Division, near [illegible], Korea. Johnson is a native of Philadelphia.

VA Relaxes GI Credit Terms

Veterans Administration has relaxed its credit restrictions affecting minimum down payments on housing built or purchased with VA guaranteed or direct loans, effective October 2.

New terms applying to all the government-supported housing credit were recently prescribed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator under the provisions of the Defense Production Act amendments of 1952.

On houses costing $8,000 or less, no down payment is required under VA's new regulations, but closing costs of the transaction must be paid in cash. Minimum down payments on houses priced above $8,000 but not more than $8,400 will be 4 per cent. For homes priced above $8,400 the minimum down payment is 5 per cent.

The new terms represent a modification of those announced by the HHFA on September 15. Under the new terms, no down payment other than closing costs is required on homes costing no more than $8,000. Previously the no-down-payment terms applied to houses costing no more than $7,000.

The change was approved by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator to put veterans in a more favorable position in the $7,000 to $8,000 price range.

VA said these minimum down payments are only the minimums and do not prevent the lender from requiring a larger down payment.

VA announced that in certain substantial hardship cases it may waive the down payment on houses costing over $8,000. However, the veteran must pay closing costs in cash.

VA stressed that it would grant the waiver only if the lending institution is willing to make the loan under the more liberal terms. In addition, the veteran, as in the case of all GI loans, must have sufficient income and related credit factors to be able to repay the obligation.

The minimum down payment required from the veteran may be used to pay closing costs.

COOPER AT BEACH

Gary Cooper, man and boy, has been making big money for exhibitors in pictures presenting him in various uniforms of this country's armed services, and there is every indication that he will run true to his new picture, "Springfield Rifle," to be seen at the Beach Theatre here next week.

For this Warner Brothers release, Cooper portrays a calvary officer in the Union army during the War Between the States, and has a fine supporting cast including David Brian, Paul Kelly, Lon Chaney, "Big Boy" Williams, Alan Hale, Jr., Philip Carey and Vince Barnett. Phyllis Thaxter provides the romance interest.

Some of the highlights of the new Cooper picture are the splendid horsemanship displayed in sensationally staged conflicts in mountain terrain, the dramatic use of color, and the intricate twists in the complex script.

Producer Louis F. Edelman is said to have gotten the maximum yield from Sloan Nibleys' story with movie adaptation by Charles Warren and Frank Davis. Andre Detoth directed.

In the story Cooper is a cavalry officer who pretends disobedience to orders, gets himself cashiered out of the army so he can join raiders who are stealing horses from Union forces, and so learn the identity of the traitors.

Life in Spain

Spanish will tell you that "Laws and women are made to be violated." You might hear a little ditty that goes something like this, "Out-Mohammed a Mohammedan, Out-Christian a Christian, Out-Hebrew a Hebrew, Outsmart a crook, and Be better than a good man."

There is a story about the death of one of Spain's old army generals. When he was on his death-bed and the priest was administering the last rites, he was asked to forgive his enemies so he could die in peace. The old general, who was hardly able to talk, shook his head whenever this point was pressed until finally he was able to whisper that he didn't have any left — he'd killed them all.

I talked with a Spaniard who has lived under all types of government here in Madrid, and he claims that the restoration of the monarchy would be the best thing that could happen to this country. He claims further that Franco knows this and is negotiating to effect this with several members of the royal family when he gets too old to carry on.

He likened the various governments to flies on a beggar's wound and told the story about a blind beggar who was sitting outside a churchh with a cup in his hand. A man came along, and as he dropped a coin in the cup, he notices some flies on a sore on the old man's forehead. He took his handkerchief and swished them away before going into the church. Later on his way out of the church he noticed more flies had gathered and was about to drive them away again when the beggar lifted his hand and asked him not to, inasmuch as that would only bring more flies that were hungrier. Changing governments all the time and having many powerful people striving to become dictator would be more of a drain on the country than a monarchy, this individual pointed out.

If you are the type of person that likes to eat lunch at 12:30 and dinner at 7, you will have a hard time here. The stores open around 10 o'clock in the morning and close around 1. Lunch is sometimes between 1:30 and 4, depending on whether you want to siesta before or after. The stores all open around 4:30 p. m. and shut their doors around 8:30 p. m. Dinner is any time after that, according to how hungry and fashionable you happen to be. If you want to be out on [illegible] you wouldn't think of [illegible] there at the [illegible] than 11 p. m.

SADDLED

Every baby born in the United States today starts life saddled with a debt of more than $1,700 — its share of the $260 billion owed by the federal government.*

Nobody would complain if this money had been spent wisely. But it is generally accepted that billions of it have been wasted. In this fiscal year, according to the federal budget, the amount spent will equal $162,480 a minute. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer gives us this picture of the "thinking" that goes on inside a bureaucrat's mind: "If the operating bureaucrat shows a surplus, he gives Congress the impression the original request was excessive . . . if a surplus is discovered in any particular account, extraordinary efforts are made to discover ways to spend it."

Nobody can stop this paralyzing orgy of spending except the public — you. Write your Representatives and Senators — not just once, but every time you can . . . every time you see evidence, big or little, of this disregard for the public funds. Demand economy. There's no one a bureaucrat respects as much as a Congressman, and nothing a good Congressman welcomes more than the voice of his people. That's the only way to get ourselves and our babies out from under these $1,700 saddles with the "Made In Washington" labels.

SAD COMEDIAN
A SHORT STORY

A page wearing a crimson coat stepped out on the stage and removed from an easel the placard that had announced the previous act. He substituted another. The new one read:

HARRY MARLOWE
Shadrow Comedian

The audience applauded in anticipation.

He shuffled slowly from the wings, dragged a kitchen chair behind him. He was short, heavy set, with a doleful expression on his round face. A battered derby rode rakishly on his head. There was a cigar drooping from his mouth.

At the center of the stage he tilted the chair and stood leaning on the back of it, his feet crossed. He didn't say anything. He removed the cigar and stared at it distastefully.

The audience giggled. They knew Marlowe from way back. He got the big laughs largely by doing nothing, except giving the crowd confidential and inaccurate information about the private lives of the other troupers on the bill, and shushing the crowd when it laughed or applauded.

But tonight he finally bolted up suddenly and rumbled, "Hello folks," in his familiar gravy voice.

"Maybe I shouldn't be out here tonight," he went on, his heavy features glistening with grease paint and cork.

The big fellow paused and seemed to forget the audience. He relit his cigar. "You folks paid out your good money, partly to laugh at me. The world needs a lot of laughs." He sighed deeply and suddenly. "I'm sorry," he resumed slowly. "I guess I got you here under false pretenses this time. You see, I can't be funny tonight because . . . well . . . she . . ."

He brushed impatiently at his eyes where tears had started, thereby smearing his make-up a little.

". . . she and I were like that," he went on, his voice choking. He crossed two stubby fingers to show how they were.

"She use to work with me in vaudeville. We were a team—and a good one . . . I could show you a lot of rave notices . . ."

Again he paused. For a moment he stared thoughtfully at a corner of the upper gallery, unblinking in the glare of the spotlight.

"Yeah," he said, coming back from wherever his thoughts had been. "Yeah, that was a long time ago, before she . . ." Again his low, rumbling voice broke and faltered. "What I mean, that was when she was well. . . . Then she had to quit, and so the act broke up, and I had to go it alone. Well, not alone, either, for she was always waiting up for me, no matter how sick she was. Always wanting to know how the act went over.

"Doctors? Oh, I had the best for her."

Somewhere in the darkened orchestra circle a woman began to sob.

"Well," said the melancholy funny man, staring at his cigar, "this afternoon—just a few hours ago—she died in my arms. So—" he flicked ashes off the cigar"—that's the way it is. I'm sorry. Like I said, I shouldn't have come out here tonight."

"Yes! Yes!" shouted several voices but there beyond the footlights. More women were sobbing now. The big, black-faced comedian's lugubrious countenance lighted a little.

"Well," said Marlowe, "maybe it's all right then, my being here tonight. Maybe it's where she would have wanted me to be."

He teetered the battered old kitchen chair thoughtfully back and forth.

"Maybe," he said, "some of you remember when Trixie (that was her name) was in the act with me. She was one of the best dog performers in the world . . . Thanks a million. Good night."

Harry Marlowe shuffled slowly off stage, dragging the chair behind him.

THESE LITTLE GEMS MAKE GOOD IN BIG WAY

Don't let the "what to serve with coffee" problem, or treats for children, complicate your life, for they are simple when you have your favorite self-rising flour on the kitchen shelf.

Whether cupcakes are to be a youngster's treat, or just a coffee snack, they are so quick and easy with self-rising flour. Prize winning self-rising recipes call for working the dough as lightly as possible. Don't let the dough stand; bake as soon as your preparations are completed.

When the children ask for a treat that's good to eat, try these self-rising flour cupcakes, which are economically made with self-rising flour. They are truly a treat.

Coconut Cupcakes

1-3 cup margarine or butter
3-4 cup sugar
1 egg
3-4 teaspoon flavoring (half vanilla, half almond)
1 1-2 cups sifted self-rising flour
2-3 cup sweet milk

Grease and flour the bottom of muffin pans. Start oven at 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Cream margarine or butter with sugar until fluffy. Add egg and flavoring and beat well. Stir in the flour and milk alternately, beginning and ending with the flour. Fill prepared muffin pans not more than half full and bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 12 medium cup cakes. Frost with your favorite icing tinted pink or green. Top with grated cocoanut.

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop — has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workaday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails its many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home-folks in a strange place.

The Salasky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salasky — who resides at Virginia Beach the year around. The other branches of the Salasky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

So for the best in eye care and service when you need it, call the

Distribution Of Chest Fund Help to Many

Officials of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest are experiencing a problem that comes up each year as the annual drive for funds is under way.

That problem is the "excuse" not to contribute given by many persons that they are not aware of what is done with the money collected in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne drive. Officials are quite frank to label the question as an "excuse" since the agencies which benefit are publicized each year and are listed on the pledge cards carried by the chest volunteer workers.

Another problem this year is the lack of reports from district chairmen as to the amounts of money already collected in their respective areas. It makes it difficult for officials to get a clear picture of the progress of the drive.

The goal for this year's drive is $19,660, and as is done each year the amount needed is determined by the budget requirements of the participating agencies. This year there are eight agencies which will benefit from the local community chest drive.

Participating agencies in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest for 1953 are the American Cancer Society, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, The Florence Crittenton Home, King's Daughters, United Defense Fund Youth's Activities, Inc., and the Mental Hygiene Clinic of Norfolk.

The drive was originally scheduled to end on October 31, but will undoubtedly be extended in order that final reports may be made. Late Wednesday, Chest headquarters reported approximately $4,000 had been pledged or collected, but this does not include any reports from the county division and only a small percentage of the City of Virginia Beach section.

The quotas set for the districts and the chairmen are: Virginia Beach, $8,900 — Howard S. Myers; Seaboard $1,000 — C. Roger Malabon; Pungo, $900 — Mrs. W. R. Halstead and Mrs. J. B. Dudley; Blackwater, $200 — Mrs. O. L. Smith; Kempsville, $4,500 — Mrs. Lyman Clark; Lynnhaven $3,500—Mrs. C. E. Mansfield and Mrs. Ralph Champney.

Virginia Museum to Get Huge Collection of Art from Estate

No other Southern state in the Union but Virginia, so far as is known, has received a gift of art so large that even the donors had never seen it assembled. Such a gift will come to the people of Virginia Friday, October 31, when the collection of paintings, ceramics, glass, silver, furniture and tapestries bequeathed to the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts by the late Adolph D. and Wilkins C. Williams of Richmond will be displayed for the first time.

Special ceremonies will be held at 9 p. m., at the museum, corner of Boulevard and Grove avenue in Richmond. Col. Henry W. Anderson, president of the museum's board of trustees, will present the collection of 328 art objects to Gov. John Stewart Battle, who will accept them for the citizens of Virginia.

Following the opening the entire group will be on exhibition through November 23 when it will return to the museum's vaults to await the completion of the addition to the building where a special section has been reserved for its permanent display.

Forty-two paintings from the American, Dutch, Flemish, English, French and Italian Schools are in the collection, by such artists as Van Dyck, Rembrandt, Gainsborough, Romney, Constable, Rubens, Copley, and many others.

In the group of ceramics are an 18th century English dinner set, an English Crown Derby chi na tea set, and many other fine examples of English china. Nineteenth century American glass is included, with a diamond cut set and miscellaneous items. A Mi- lefiori ink well and paperweight of unusual design, and English and Bohemian glass decanters are in the glass collection.

Five tapestries three Gobelin, one Brussels and one from Lower Saxony are shown; furniture given by Mr. and Mrs. Williams includes mirrors, a mahogany Hepplewhite style desk and cellaret, and Chippendale style chairs. Silver pieces by English, French and early American makers are a part of the gift, including five silver stands, a pair of chocolate covers, a cabaret with mirror tray tray, large pitcher, soup tureen, candelabrum, compotes and fruit baskets.

Not only did Mr. and Mrs. Williams assure that their fellow citizens would be able to enjoy the things they had collected to beautify their home, but they provided funds to care for the gifts they made and to purchase additional art objects to complete the collection.

Art objects from the collection will be available later to other museums, libraries, schools, colleges and clubs in Virginia where facilities for exhibition and protection are available. Plans have been made for a showing soon at the new Roanoke Fine Arts Center.

With the death in 1950 of Mrs. Williams and of Mr. Williams in 1952, the Virginia Museum became the guardian of almost $5,- 000,000 in art treasures and funds. "Thus both present and future generations of Virginians will have cause to be grateful to these two modest and magnificent patrons of the arts," according to Colonel Anderson.

Home Agents to be Honored at National Meeting in Chicago

Mrs. Ruth Burruss Huff, Albemarle county home demonstration agent, and Miss Mary Walker, Henrico home agent, will be among 55 to be recognized at a luncheon November 8 at National Home Demonstration Agents' Association in Chicago.

The agents are selected by state recognition committees. If their records meet standards of the national committee, they are approved for the honor of distinguished service.

Mrs. Huff has been home agent in Albemarle for 31 years, the early years devoted to 4-H and youth programs. Recently she has done outstanding work in adult and youth programs, has worked closely with county health leaders and the University of Virginia, and was instrumental in establishing the first rural cancer detection center in the nation.

Miss Walker, who served in Norfolk before going to Henrico in March, 1940, has been outstanding in community recreation, public relations, organization, and administration.

Beach Bridge Club To Hold Tourney

The Virginia Beach Bridge Club will hold its first tournament of the season at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club on Monday night, November 3, at 8 o'clock. It is open to members of the bridge club and their guests.

Tentative plans are to hold a tournament each Monday night; a program will be announced later, stated Mr. Ellis Butt, who is directing the tournament.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners. For further information telephone Mrs. Frank Atkinson, 939.

Chrysler Depends on Newspaper Ads to Sell New Models

More than 3,000 newspapers will spearhead the 1953 Chrysler new model announcement program, reports John H. Caron, advertising manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

The newspapers have a combined circulation of over 52,000,- 000 and were chosen to obtain maximum circulation penetration into the more than 3,000 counties in the United States served by Chrysler's 3,500 dealers.

"In addition to the newspaper announcement campaign, Chrysler during October, November and December will use the biggest national magazine advertising campaign in Chrysler history to introduce the 'Most Beautiful Chrysler Ever Designed'," Caron said.

"How effective our hard-hitting advertising program has been is demonstrated by outstanding public acceptance which has resulted in buyers of the country placing more than 35,000 firm orders for FirePower V-8 models with the Chrysler dealers."

BABY SITTERS SERVICE FREE ELECTION DAY

A new service will be offered to voters of Virginia Beach next Tuesday when a free baby sitting service will be available at the Virginia Beach Community House. The sitters will be members of the Senior Girl Scout Troop. This will eliminate another excuse for not voting on next Tuesday. Just take your child, or children to the Community House and the Girl Scouts will do the rest.

State President of Business Women To Speak Here

Princess Anne Business and Professional Women's Club will be host club at the fall district meeting, at Pine Tree Inn Saturday, November 1, at 1 p. m. Mrs. Clyde R. Bennett, of Newport News, district director, will preside. Mrs. Nancy Strickler of Princess Anne Club, vice-district director, is chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Emma Wise of the Eastern Shore Club will give the invocation. Soloist will be Mrs. Merle Hershey, soloist of the Presbyterian Church choir, accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Church.

After a business meeting, the program will be given. The principal speaker will be Mrs. Margaret Matheny, state president. She is director of secretarial science at Averett College in Danville, since 1934. She is former president of the Danville Club and has been corresponding secretary and state parliamentarian for the Virginia Federation.

Special guests are Mrs. Ethel Zabawa, state public affairs chairman, Norfolk Club; Mrs. Elsie Brevdlove, state treasurer, Portsmouth Club; Mrs. Blanche Cofer, state chairman of district directors, Richmond Club; Miss Nan P. Gogey, district corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Devereau, president, Norfolk Club; Miss Mabel Cox, president, Virginia Peninsula Club; Mrs. Emma Wise, Eastern Shore Club. 'Ocean Bowl' Extravaganza November 7

The annual Ocean Bowl game is scheduled for Friday, November 7, at the Cavalier Stadium when the Cavaliers meet the Churchland Truckers. Game time is 8 p. m. The pre-game parade and festivities begin at 7 p. m. Homecoming reunion classes will be the classes of '29, '30, '31, '32, '37, '42 and '47. The following have been asked to be chairmen of their class:

Class of '29 Kennod Jard.
Class of '30 Maurice McKinley.
Class of '31 D. B. Hall.
Class of '32 W. W. McChanan.
Class of '37 Leonard Hutchew.
Class of '42 Mrs. Virginia B. Kesler.
Class of '47 Mrs. Eileen O Murphy.

Members of the graduating classes are urged to contact their class chairman and participate in this reunion.

At half time the Four Seasons of the year will be carried through as a theme with the princesses and queen portraying the various seasons. April's Pretty Violet is Miss Dottie Britt, freshman Summertime Love Miss Rita Craig, sophomore; Harvest Moon Sweetheart is portrayed by Miss Dolly White, junior; Santa's Dream Girl, Miss Charlotte Scarborough, senior. Queen of Winter Wonderland is Miss Grace Vakos, senior.

In keeping with the theme a newly organized dance corps will do precision dance steps with the Cavalier Band to a medley of seasonal melodies.

Line-up and list of floats will be given next week. County and Beach organizations are urged to notify the school as to whether your club will be represented. If the weather permits there may be a parade on the afternoon of the 7th. If this is decided on, all groups will be notified as to time and place of line-up. The evening parade will line up at 6:15 and the parade will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. Everyone participating is urged to be on time. Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50c for students. The Junior class is selling corsages for $1.00; the profits from the sales will help with the Junior - Senior Prom.

Mayor Murray Sets Tomorrow As 'Youth Honor Day'

Joining with other communities all across the United States, Mayor Murray of Virginia Beach yesterday issued the following proclamation, citing tomorrow, October 31, aside as "Youth Honor Day":

To Whom These Presents May Concern:

WHEREAS: The Youth of Today shall be Citizens of Tomorrow and upon them shall depend the future of our Nation, and its great American way of life; and

WHEREAS: It is our continued purpose to encourage the participation of Youth in all community-wide civic programs; and

WHEREAS: As a salute to American youth and encouragement of their active interest in the community, the Loyal Order of Moose has deemed advisable the observance of an annual "Youth Honor Day" to be of community-wide value and interest; and

WHEREAS: This observance shall mark a combining of both adult and youth in the matters of community service and pride.

THEREFORE, I, P. F. Murray, Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach, do hereby proclaim Friday, October 31, to be "Youth Honor Day" and hereby suggest that all interested organizations, adult and youth, cooperate together for the observance of said day, providing a program that shall honor youth for their present community interest and outline the future that shall rest in their hands.

Dated at Virginia Beach this 23rd day of October, 1952.

P. F. MURRAY,
Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach.

TO DEDICATE NEW EDIFICE

Dr. George W. Modlin, president of the University of Richmond, will be one of the out-of-town speakers at the dedicatory services to be held by the Virginia Beach Baptists at their new edifice next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The church building has been in use for some weeks.

Johnson Urges Extra Caution On Hallowe'en

Sprites and mites and little tykes
Dress for Hallowe'en.
Calliop madly everywhere
Dressed so they can't be seen!

"There may not be much poetry in that little verse," Chief Reeves E. Johnson conceded today, "but there's a lot of truth in it."

The chief recognized the combination of Hallowe'en pranksters and early dark as being dangerous for youngsters and motorists alike.

He urged motorists to be especially alert for children who may be dressed in dark clothing or wearing masks that obscure their vision.

"They mean to be careful," he warned, "but under the excitement of Hallowe'en they forget. Above all times, this is a time to remember the unexpected from children." He reminded motorists that residential areas are particular danger spots because the children feel "safe" on their own ground.

"No matter where you are driving," he said, "Remember it is Hallowe'en and a traditional time for children to dress in costume and be out after dark. Give children a brake. Drive as if all children were your own."

The Police Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee are cooperating this month in a campaign to reduce night traffic hazards in Virginia Beach.

Beach Artists to Have Art on Display at Tucker Hall 3rd & 4th

An art exhibit, featuring the works of Virginia Beach artists, will be held in Tucker Hall of Galilee Episcopal Church Monday, November 3, between 4 p. m. and 10 p. m., and Tuesday, November 4, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The exhibit is being sponsored by Mrs. Selden Crandol, Mrs. Charles Rand and Mrs. Henry Boykin, and is non - denominational and non - profitable.

Among the artists whose work will be shown are Mrs. Winifred Nixon Greene, Mrs. Constance Moore and Mrs. Robert Lambe.

No admission is charged and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion, All Saints' Day, at Galilee Episcopal Church Saturday, November 1, at 10:30 a. m. On the Sunday nearest All Saints' Day there will be a corporate Communion of all women of the church and presentation of the United Thank Offering of the Woman's Auxiliary at its fall ingathering at the morning service at the church Sunday, November 2, at 11 a. m.

Baptist Church Dedication Next Sunday Morning

Baptists at Virginia Beach will rather at First Baptist Church, Sunday, November 2, at 11 a. m., to dedicate the church building.

Construction of the building at 35th and Arctic was begun last fall and the congregation moved into the new building June 15. While the church was without a home services were held in the Community House.

Among the out of town speakers will be Dr. George W. Modlin, president of the University of Richmond, who was a member of the church at one time; Dr. Ira D. S. Knight, former pastor of the church, who also of the new church are made.

All friends and friends of the church are invited to attend the dedication.

Dr. W. O. Lond, pastor of the church, will begin revival services Sunday, November 2, at 7:30 p. m., and will continue each evening at 7:30. Chaplain Ivan Hart will lead the singing.

French Training Ship at Norfolk

The French training vessel, the Jeanne d'Arc, accompanied by the second class escort vessel La Grandiere, will visit Norfolk from November 15 to 22, on her annual training cruise, bringing 194 midshipmen shortly to be graduated from the French naval academy. Included are three Belgians, six Israelians and three Syrians, who are attending the academy. The Jeanne d'Arc is manned by 30 officers and 500 enlisted men.

Jeanne d'Arc, named for the famed French heroine, is under the command of Capitaine de Vaisseau Pierre Beret. Captaine de Frigate Jean Goutier commands the escort. Captain Beret, a graduate of the naval war college, has served in many battleships and destroyers and came to his present duties from the Service of Allied Affairs at the French Ministry of Navy, a bureau created following signing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

While in Norfolk, the midshipmen will tour local naval installations and visit Colonial Williamsburg.

County Board Asks Garbage Pick-up Fees

An ordinance which will establish garbage collection fees on the removal of trash from commercial premises and authority to engage counsel for the building inspector and zoning boards in an injunction suit were the major developments at the monthly meeting of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

The injunction suit was brought against Building Inspector V. Alfred Etheridge and the Zoning Board of Appeals by T. M. F. Johnson after he was ordered to remove outside masonry on a 34th street North Virginia Beach house.

The steps were said to violate zoning laws. The case is intended to be a test case.

The supervisors also considered planning commission recommendations; highway problems, and routine business in a day-long meeting.

The county now collects trash and garbage in residential areas in two of Princess Anne County's magisterial districts, Lynnhaven and Kempsville, the costs being paid for by special taxation. The new ordinance would call for special fees for removal of trash and garbage from commercial or apartments in these districts. Cost would be payable three months in advance. The act would become effective January 1, 1953. The scale would be one dollar per unit in any new housing project until the owner can show that he has been assessed and his taxes paid.

Canneries filling bottles, cans, jars, grocery stores and clothing stores would pay $3 per month; taverns and hotels without beer licenses, $5; taverns and hotels with beer licenses, $10; trailers, trailer courts, $1 per unit, and all other commercial establishments at the rate of $3 per month.

Galvanized tin containers of not more than 30 gallon capacity would be required.

The supervisors approved the Planning Commission's recommendations for the appointment of J. Peter Holland III to the commission.

Etheridge reported that in the period September 30 to October 23, 105 building permits had been granted, representing $681,000 of construction in the county. This brings to 1,347 the total since the first of the year, representing more than $7 million total cost of construction.

Etheridge also reported that there are now 786 trailers in the county, on which the county collects a $15 annual tax. He said that $10,200 had been collected this year.

The county appointed, subject to the Virginia Electric and Power Company's approval, Carl S. Fogelgren as electric inspector. He is to be paid 60 per cent of the inspection fees.

The supervisors put off until a later meeting negotiations with the city for a contract for fire protection in areas surrounding Virginia Beach.

Little Theatre Tryout Dates Announced

The Dates for tryouts for the next play to be presented by the Little Theatre are November 3, 4 and 5 at 8 p. m., at the workshop in the rear of the Community House. The play will be "The Two Mrs. Carrolls," a shivery melodrama in which there are roles for three men and five women.

Everyone interested in acting or any phase of that stage work is invited to come and try out. Newcomers are always welcomed by the Little Theatre.

YOUR BUSINESS

Was it Miles Standish, he of long legend, who said: "If you would have a thing well done, you must do it yourself; do not leave it to others"?

Regardless of the source—the wisdom is sound. No one can do the job you are qualified to do as well as yourself—and do it the way you would have it done.

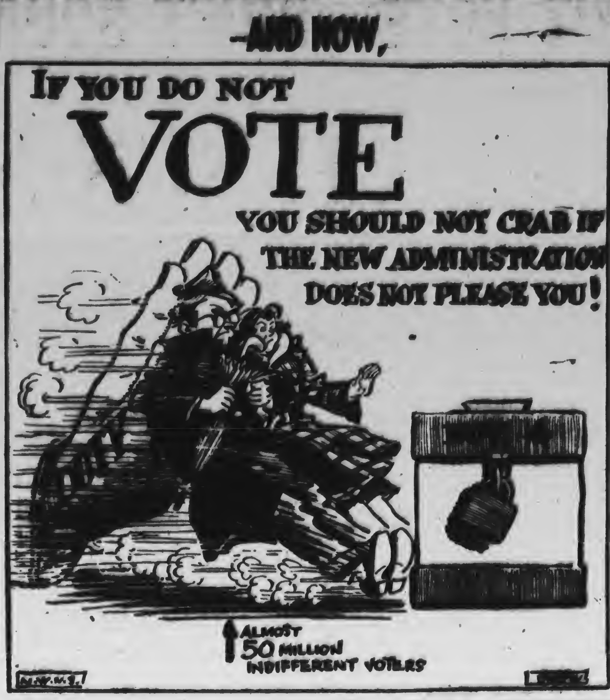

Imagine a large company whose owners and majority stockholders took no interest in the policies of the concern. Stockholders who never checked to see what the company was doing, how it was being run, or who was running it. How long would such a company remain solvent? How long would it stand up against competition?

The biggest business in the world today is the United States of America. It is YOUR business. You are a stockholder, and if 21 years of age and meeting certain other qualifications, entitled to vote for its officers.

This big business of ours—yours and mine—is unique. It is not only unique in form—a democracy in a republic—but it is the only company in which there are no minority stockholders. Your share of stock is as big as the next fellow's—no matter how rich he is, where he lives, or how he earns his living. It makes no difference whether the stockholder is of one color or another, or of what race, or country of origin—if he has qualified himself. YOUR vote counts!

Will you throw that vote away! We could preach on the precious heritage that vote represents . . . on the high ideals which it represents . . . on the blood of patriots by which the right to vote was purchased . . . on the sacrifice of those who fought and died that that vote might be preserved to you and your offspring. We believe you realize all of those things. But do you realize the importance of your vote . . . of your taking your fair share of responsibility for "running" the country? Too many are saying: "Leave that to the politicians." The truth is that YOU are the politician—or should be.

It all sums up to this: Don't blame the "politicians" if things don't go as you would like—blame yourself for not taking enough interest in your country to go to the polls and cast your vote. As the slogan-makers have phrased it very aptly and succinctly: "IF YOU DON'T VOTE — DON'T SQUAWK!"

Dear Sir:

Have you ever walked down Atlantic avenue, between 22nd street and the Jefferson hotel to church, on a Sunday morning? Well, I have, both in the summer when the Beach was full of visitors and in the quiet of an October morn.

If cleanliness has any relation to Godliness — it would be farfetched to say that you had any spiritual uplift, as you kicked the dirty coca cola cups and paper from under your feet on the sidewalks in this area.

Dear Sir:

I read with much interest the letter written you by Mr. Bliley that was in your paper last week. I must say the celebrated Mr. Bliley certainly did enlighten me when he told that slot machines were legal when he was in the business in Richmond. It was something I did not know, but of course I should have known that Mr. Bliley, who is a great crusader for what is right and decent, would not be a party to anything that even smacked of being illegal. I am surprised that anyone would even think of such a thing.

Your letter writer last week is an interesting character. It seems he belongs to that group who see everything wrong with our town and county, yet he came down here after his "legal" slot machine work in Richmond and now after a few years has retired from business. On the surface it would appear that this place hasn't been too bad for Mr. Bliley. Still, he like several others who have been equally successful, are crusaders in a community and county that has everything desired by others, except a small group of disgruntled would-be political dictators.

From what I've heard of Mr. Bliley, he can't be taken too seriously. He is always against everything that most people favor and his lack of cooperation was shown when he was in business here. Maybe he isn't worth talking about.

Sincerely,

JAMES T. WATKINS.

Cavaliers Bow to Wildcats, 25-6

Great Bridge's Wildcats were too wild for the Oceana Cavaliers last Friday night. The visitors took the measure of the Oceana gridders by a tune of 25 to 6.

The Great Bridge machine went to work early in penetrating the Oceana defense and shortly after receiving the opening kickoff marched down the field for the first score. A penalty nullified the play, but on the very next play the visitors sent their right end, Raymond Robertson, on an end around play to tally.

Shortly after Great Bridge opened the night's scoring, Oceana mixed a 38 yard pass from Donald Marshall to Chris Kametches and a 38 yard run by Kametches to knot the count.

At the beginning of the second period, Great Bridge again reached pay dirt when Archie Merrill went through the line to score. Late in the same period Merrill again scored. This time Robertson, on a quarterback sneak, made the extra point and Great Bridge led, 19 to 6.

Late in the game, Robertson, on the same end-around play that scored earlier, raced 26 yards for the game's final marker. Ray Ambrose made the key block in the scoring play.

World Community Day Service on 7th At Local Church

World Community Day Service will be held November 7, at 11 a. m., at Galilee Episcopal Church. The service is sponsored by the Princess Anne Council of United Church Women. This council represents 17 Protestant churches in Princess Anne County. The theme of the 1952 World Community Day will be "Building Lasting Peace."

You are asked to bring clean, mended, used clothing for children up through 6 years of age, also baby clothes, plus 8c for shipping costs. These clothes and layettes will be presented and blessed at this service and then sent to our nearest Church World Center at New Windsor, Md., to be shipped where most needed.

In addition to the above packets for peace, you are asked to bring an offering. Your gift will make it possible to continue the Christian Women's Action Program for Lasting Peace and will also provide medicines and vitamins which will help to build strong bodies. These supplies will go to the corners of the world where the need is greatest.

Come on November 7 and join us at Galilee.

There will be a business meeting of the council at 10 a. m., in The Haven. The service will be held in the church at 11.

DALE CARNEGIE

Different Mental Attitude Helps

William Kermit Monroe, Lumberton, N. C., lost his wife and was left with two little children, one 2 years old and the other seven days old when its mother died. The older child was at home with him while the younger was still at the hospital. The doctor said they would keep him there until arrangements could be made to have him somewhere else.

In the meantime William Monroe aced a lot of expense: doctor bills, hospital bills, three special nurses to pay, funeral expense, and also a housekeeper and a nurse for the 2 year old boy at home. He was already in debt about $2,000 and going in debt more each month since he was making only $2,400 a year as a postal employee.

He worried until he could not sleep at night; he smoked too many cigarettes, and was becoming a nervous wreck. He could not keep both of his babies at home and provide nurses for them, and they were too young to enter an orphanage. Some friends wanted to adopt them, but more than anything else he wanted to rear them together and keep them with him.

One day he decided to talk to his minister. When he stated his problems to the minister, he was told of a similar experience. He said that it was a problem that could not be worked out in a day or two, that it would take some time. And he advised Mr. Monroe to live one day at a time and let tomorrow take care of itself.

Accepting this advice brought a different mental attitude and a change in Mr. Monroe's life, and things began to work out all right. His nervous condition disappeared and his health returned to normal.

The PETTY PACE

By Brown Lee Yates

Sometimes I think that many persons' disregard of atomic data is like my small daughter's refusal to contemplate the elephant—both are inattention to something too big to comprehend.

Some persons stare blankly at headlines proclaiming the wondrous feats of power to be performed by atomic energy in their time and fail to be impressed enough even to read the stories underneath unless they concern some new destruction to be wrought by the A-bomb. The readers save their marveling for a late model motorcar or a new potato peeler or a new track record set by a race horse.

And in like manner my small daughter at the zoo observes the elephant with the same blank stare that persons unlearned in astronomy turn toward the sky when they feel like noticing the heaven at all. It's too big to mean much to them. If the elephant raises his trunk and starts trumpeting, the little girl cringes in fear, much as the adult does when an awful storm breaks with thunder and lightning.

At the zoo, my small daughter reserves her admiration for the tiny birds, snakes, turtles, monkeys. Even the larger examples of these species—the ostriches, anacondas, huge turtles and gorillas—she refuses to speculate about. She isn't swayed by the strength, agility and majesty of lions. Perhaps the monsters frighten her when they roar and show their teeth and she hopes that if she ignores them they will fade like bad dreams.

This is the way some persons heed news of atomic reaction. Of course some crased ones take enormous delight in contemplating the destruction and death imprisoned in the atom and are fascinated by thoughts of the release of doom, but most normal persons confronted with the subject of the atom plead with their eyes and a half apologetic tongue that you forsake fantasy and discuss food, clothing, politics, football.

Their expression is something like the bored pout my little girl wears when she pulls me away from viewing the elephants and leads me to the bird cages. I suppose that to her, as to one of the blind men in the poem, the elephant is very much like a wall.

Ideas from other editors

From The Iron Ore, East Lansing, Mich.:

Too often many of our citizens (including us) have criticized our more public spirited men, who have held and are now holding offices in our city government.

The men we are writing about are our aldermen. They were elected by the free will of the people and we know they strive to enact means and ways whereby our city and theirs is a better place in which to live. But how often do we praise them for some of the things they have accomplished?

We know that all of the people can not be in harmony with their way of thinking, it is not possible to please all of the people all of the time.

Our aldermen and public officials do not gain any special favor or means by holding office. All of them hold full time jobs or are engaged in some business in this city. Many are the evenings they would like to spend with their family or friends, but instead they attend meetings pertaining to the operation of our city and weighing both sides of this or that complaint.

We are quick to criticize and slow to praise, but we know that these men, even though they do not benefit in a material way, they have an inner satisfaction in knowing they are serving their community. So let's give them a pat on the back once in a while and give them our whole hearted cooperation.

From The Fort Mill, S. C. Times:

It used to be said that "Lightning never strikes in the same place twice." But it seems that this theory, like almost everything else, has undergone a change. Now it seems that lightning follows some people around.

Take George Bacot, for instance. A couple of weeks ago, a few days after he moved his family to Columbia from Fort Mill, lightning struck the dwelling on Spratt, which he had just vacated, twice during one thunderstorm and did severe damage to the home. About 10 days later lightning struck the home in Columbia which he and his family had just occupied. It knocked a chandelier from the ceiling and sent it crashing to the floor.

From Redwood Journal Press Dispatch, Ukiah, Calif.:

Americans are a forthright people in most respects and usually very impatient of unnecessary delay. Perhaps before the nation's next presidential election, they will streamline campaign procedures, eliminate the sadly outdated and inefficient "electoral college" and begin the long needed task of designing state primaries that will give the electorate a direct and unencumbered choice in selecting our presidents.

The arrival of television, speedy publishing methods and rapid communications has done much to make government more personal for Americans. Perhaps elimination of unnecessary and expensive time lags in our political procedures will help us eliminate outmoded complications and restore a vigorous interest in government where it really counts—at the voter level.

From The Douglas County Gazette, Waterloo, Neb.:

It might be a little difficult to tell what's playing over at Johnny Fischer's theatre when we ask the boys, but for the Mrs. and myself it is a lead-pipe cinch, without a spoken word other than our original question.

If they make a basketball hoop out of their arms and pucker up their lips we know it's a love picture. If, after this pantomime performance, they scowl or frown, we can tell it's a really genuine love picture, so full of love, in fact, that they don't want to go.

PRIVATE FISHPOND OWNERS MAY SELL BREEDING STOCK

Private fishpond owners may now secure permits to sell game fish from their ponds for propagation purposes, I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, announces.

The 1952 Legislature passed a law authorizing the Commission to issue the permits. Such permits authorize private fishpond owners who have a surplus of game fish to sell to other private owners fish for restocking purposes. Quinn says the greatest drawback to pond owners has been in finding sources of game fish for restocking. He also reports that the recent enactment should serve to increase private pond construction in the state.

Chamber Music Society Planning Norfolk Concerts

The first concert of the Feldman Chamber Music Society, with Clifford Herzer, pianist, as guest artist, will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November third and fourth at 8:30 at the Little Theater of Norfolk. With the regular members of the quartet, Dora Marshal first violin, Vera Ruggieri Herzel second violin, Ronald Marshall, viola, and Philip Nelson violincello, Mr. Herzer will play the Brahms quintet for piano and strings in F minor, Opus 34.

The program will include Beethoven's quartet in D flat major, Opus 18, Number 6, and the Debussy quartet, Opus 10 in G minor.

A resident of Virginia Beach, Mr. Herzer is teaching at Bristow Hardin School of Music in Norfolk. His musical abilities and reputation are well known. His New York Town Hall recitals are eagerly anticipated by his following, as are the concerts he gives elsewhere. Critics have acclaimed his talents here and abroad.

Herzer made his London debut at Wigmore Hall, and played in Italy, Austria and Holland. Upon his return to this country he made his Town Hall debut and then became a regular feature of aristocratic WQXR in New York, playing 600 recitals in five years.

Season membership tickets for this and three other concerts under the direction of I. E. Feldman will be available from the box office on the evening of the first concert.

Girl Scouts Will Honor Founder

Nearly 2,000,000 girls across the country join this week in celebrating Girl Scout Week in memory of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting, whose birthday is October 31.

Locally, the troops will join in the celebration. Wednesday, October 29, Lynnhaven troops 206 and 220 join for a neighborhood rally with a court of awards followed by folk dancing. Thursday afternoon Kempsville Troops 367, 304 and 331 will have a neighborhood rally with Mrs. Lyman Clarke, neighborhood chairman, presiding. There will be a short ceremony in which 10-year-olds will go from Brownie to Intermediate. Afterwards the girls will join in square dancing and refreshments.

Plans are under way for an international tea to be given February 21. Two girls from each troop will form a planning board to begin work on district projects. Mrs. A. H. Hood, district program committee chairman, will be adviser for the group which will meet for the first time Saturday morning, November 1, at 10 a. m.

Virginia Beach Senior Troop will baby sit at the Community Center from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Tuesday, election day. There will be no charge for this community service. Senior Scouts in Chesapeake Beach will have the same project, from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m., at Chesapeake Beach Community Center.

Thursday night Virginia Beach Senior Troop will hold a Hallowe'en party and dance following the football game, at the green room in the Community Center. Members and their dates are invited to attend.

Seahawks Get Going; Score 5 Touchdowns To Rout Courtland

The Virginia Beach Seahawks, improving with each game, scored five touchdowns to chalk up their first victory last Saturday night when they trounced Courtland by a score of 25 to 7. The game was played on the Oceana field.

It marked the first time this year that the courageous Seahawks had scored and they did it in masterful fashion. They had been shut out in five previous games.

The Seahawks wasted little time in getting the scoring under way. They took the opening kickoff and marched to their initial score. Charles Purrington, quarterback, passed to Halfback Jim Meads for the tally. Bobby Gardiner failed to run the extra point over.

Gardiner scored again in the second quarter on a quarterback sneak through the middle of the visitors' forward wall. Purrington made good the try for the extra point.

The busy Gardiner broke loose in the third quarter for a 25-yard sprint over the Bobcats' goal line. Courtland, bottled up most of the contest, finally reached pay dirt in the final stanza with Halfback Kenneth Close circling the Seahawk end for his team's only points. Close also made the extra point on an end run.

The Seahawks are pointing for a return meeting with Norfolk Academy on November 13 in a game sponsored by the Virginia Beach Rotary Club to aid the Virginia Beach High School athletic program and the Rotary Club's student loan fund.

Films of Famous Race To be Shown Here

LOW COST ELECTRICITY

Only 1 farm in 10 had electricity in 1932. Today 9 out of 10 have it! The Republican Party tries to cripple the rural electrification program. But America's farmers get low-cost electricity anyway. Who did it?—the Democrats!

PARITY PRICE SUPPORTS

The Republican Party voted against the program that insures farmers fair prices for their crops. But prices of all basic farm products are now supported at 90 per cent of parity, despite the Republicans. Farmers are protected against price drops that could wipe them out. Who did it?—the Democrats!

SOIL CONSERVATION

In the old days it was "mine the soil and the devil take the future." Today 4 out of 5 farms in America are in soil conservation districts. More than 52 million acres of restored, improved farm and pasture land are producing more for our farmers. Who did it?—the Democrats!

FARM PROSPERITY

Farm output has increased nearly 50 per cent since 1932. Net income for the average farmer is now ten times what it was in 1932. Farmers have more modern, mechanical equipment—bought and paid for—than was dreamed of 20 years ago. Work is easier. Today farmers prosper in a thriving economy—along with everybody else. Who did it?—the Democrats!

THE DEMOCRATS DID IT!

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop — has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workaday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails its many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home-folks in a strange place.

The Salasky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salasky — who resides at Virginia Beach the year around. The other branches of the Salasky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

So for the best in eye care and service when you need it, call the

SALASKY OPTICAL CO.

EIGHT REASONS for WOMEN NOT TO VOTE

"I just washed my hair and I can't go out!" Lady, you'll wash Freedom right out of your hair—sooner or later—with that point of view.

"I'm disgusted with politics." All the more reason to vote! Remember—bad officials are elected by good citizens who don't vote.

"I'm too busy with the kids" ...yet what better example of the Good Citizenship they're growing into—than to see you go off to the polls.

"I don't know a thing about issues or candidates." You can read a recipe; you can figure out a dress pattern. There's still time to make up your intelligent mind on how to vote.

"I can't vote—I'm not registered." The catch in that, lady, is that in most states there's still plenty of time to register. (Find out the registration situation in your own community, right away!)

"I think a woman's place is in the home." Maybe it is on every day except November 4. Then it's at the polls. (You women fought hard for the ballot—why not use it?)

"My husband does the voting for us." If only the man wore the votes of the family what a state this country would be in!

"I don't agree with my husband's choice—so I won't vote!" Madam, are you going to win for your husband's man by kissing the polls goodby?

There are more women than men in this country—of voting age—52,000,000 of them. That's enough to run any election right. Yet, ever since 1920, when women first had the chance to vote, more men than women have gone to the polls. Isn't that a shame?

Ladies, you can elect 'em—if you vote. You can't vote unless you're registered. Register. Then vote.

VIRGINIA:
In the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County on the 25 day of October, 1952.
JOHN J. COLLINS, and PAULINE L. COLLINS, husband and wife,

Plaintiff,

vs.

G. W. DEAL,
R. L. WILLIAMS, and
A. S. J. GAMMON,
WHOSE ADDRESSES ARE UNKNOWN,

or if any of them be dead, their heirs at law and devisees, whose names are unknown and their lien creditors, if any there be, whose names are unknown, and all other persons who are, or may be interested in the subject matter to be sold and disposed of in this suit, whose names are unknown, all of whom are proceeded against by the general description of "parties unknown,"

Defendants.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to remove the cloud from the title to a parcel of land in Kempsville District, Princess Anne County, Virginia, bounded on the North by the Virginia Beach Boulevard, on the East by the lands now or formerly Braithwaite, on the South by the Kempsville Road, and on the West by the property of Harcum, designated by an avenue known as Ash Avenue, and to decree that complainants are the owners of the property within said bounds, in fee simple absolute, by good and sufficient deed and by adverse possession, EXCEPTING the Western one-half of Lots 1 through 7, inclusive, in Block 18, Plat No. 2 of the Deal property, the Western one-half of lots 15, 16, and 17, in Block 10, Plat No. 2 of the Deal property; Lots 18, 19, 20, 21, and 22, in Block 18, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property; Lots 15, 16, 17, 18, and 19, in Block 15, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property; Lots 11 and 12, in Block 7, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property; Lots 19 through 24, inclusive, in Block 7, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property; Lot 1, in Block 2, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property, and Lot 11, in Block 3, Plat No. 1 of the Deal property.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the said G. W. Deal, R. L. Williams and A. S. J. Gammon are not residents of the State of Virginia, that their last post office addresses are unknown, that the whereabouts of said parties are unknown, and it is not known whether they are dead or alive, and if they be dead, the names of their heirs at law and devisees are unknown, and their lien creditors, if any there be, are unknown, and that there are or may be other persons interested in this subject matter to be disposed of in this suit, whose names are unknown and who should be proceeded against by the general description of "parties unknown".

It is ordered that all non-resident defendants and all "parties unknown" do appear here within (10) days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect their interests in this suit.

Cpl. Ray Meiggs Back From German Tour

Cpl. Ray S. Meiggs of Back Bay, Va., is returning to the United States after a tour of duty with the 43d Infantry Division in Germany.

A former New England National Guard unit, the division went to Europe last October and joined the NATO Army.

Most of its original members were from Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont. Men from all parts of the country have since filled its ranks.

Corporal Meiggs, a cook with the 172d Infantry Regiment, entered the Army in November 1950. He was a farmer in civilian life.

Colony Food and Service Bring Highest Praise

"A delicious meal away from home—prepared and served to your own satisfaction, in a pleasant atmosphere," wrote Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Harding, of 7 Acorn Place, Wakefield, Mass., after dining at the Colony Restaurant.

"A fine atmosphere with delicious, well prepared food. Good service." So writes Mrs. A. B. Sheets, of 1646 14th Street, Rock Island, Ill.

PATRICK HENRY

Patrick Henry was born in Hanover County and was the first State Governor of Virginia. This great patriot is best remembered for his fiery speech made at the Second Virginia Convention held at St. John's Church in Richmond. His words were, "Gentlemen may cry 'Peace! Peace!' but there is no peace. The war is actually begun! Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God. I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death."

Operation 'Seascape' at Little Creek Training Army-Navy Personnel

Operation SEASCAPE, a joint Army - Navy exercise, begins this week as U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, with arrival of the Army's 278th Regimental Combat Team and elements of the First and Second Armies.

This exercise will train more than 3,500 men in the techniques of modern amphibious warfare. The 278th RCT, stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., comprises the bulk of the personnel with 200 officers and 2,000 enlisted men. Additional forces will include 60 men from the First Marine Force of Camp Lejeune, N. C., and other Army units.

SEASCAPE is under overall supervision of Vice - Adm. F. C. Pehrson, USN, commander amphibious force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Army forces will be commanded by Col. Howard N. Smalley, USA.

Training is divided into two phases, starting with 11 days of shore training. The second, or afloat training period, will be aboard ships of the Amphibious Force during the last three days.

Beautification Givers Listed by Council

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baird, Dr. and Mrs. Millard B. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Richardson, Virginia Beach Rotary Club, Virginia Beach African Violet Society, Jesse A. Harrell, Medical-Dental Service Bureau, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Altschul, Mrs. Martha L. Hoffheimer.

Anyone desiring to contribute to the fund may do so by sending contributions to the Council of Garden Clubs, P. O. Box 33, Virginia Beach, Va.

The training will reach a climax November 14 when an "enemy-held" beach at Camp Pendleton, Va., will be assaulted by the 278th RCT. The landing will be supported by air and surface units of the Atlantic Fleet.

Dredging Operations To be Undertaken

Major dredging operations will be started this year at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, an increment of the waterfront developments at that location. The operations will make possible the construction of additional concrete piers, ramps and bulkheads for the amphibious training program.

Navy civil engineers have completed plans for 5,700,000 cubic yards of dredging and removal of four wooden piers, by contract, for which bids will be opened on October 28.

Little Creek is the only naval installation on the east coast that provides training amphibious operations. Plans currently being prepared for the development of this base will, in addition to the waterfront work, provide operational and personnel facilities.

Mrs. Cecil Reed Named Director '53 'Dimes' Drive

Mrs. Wallace Clark, chairman Princess Anne Chapter National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announces that Mrs. Cecil R. Reed will direct the 1953 March of Dimes. Mrs. J. D. W. Cannada, Mrs. W. W. Connell Jr., 1952 chairman, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Clarke have just returned from Washington where they attended the National Planning meeting for the 1953 campaign, at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mrs. Clark said, "We are fortunate in that our city and county had only four new cases this year. We have had many transfers and as you know anyone who has had polio and moves into our area receives the best of care, along with those who are residents of our city and county. Many have had to have corrective surgery, physio therapy treatments and new braces, and are constantly under the doctor's care. All bills are paid by the chapter. We sincerely hope an epidemic will never hit our city and county, but one never knows. Our chapter must be prepared to meet any emergency. Please remember the 1953 campaign will be held in January and we'll be counting on each and every one to help. Your Chapter needs your support."

USE GROUND COVER FOR STEEP BANKS

Do you have a steep bank that is hard to mow? Cover it with a bank cover and stop mowing it. A. S. Beecher, associate horticulturist at VPI, says there are many bank covers available which will give a carpet of green and will need little upkeep, once they are established. Outstanding is the euonymus. One variety has long leaves that turn a bronze in late fall. The second, evergreen bittersweet.

J. Peter Holland, III, Named to County Planning Group

J. Peter Holland III of Virginia Beach was appointed Monday to the Princess Anne County Planning Commission. His appointment was approved by the county's Board of Supervisors following a recommendation from the board.

Other members of the com- Kempsville, and T. C. Adams of Virginia Beach, who is secretary.

The county board also approved a number of recommendations made by the planning board on application made to it during the past month.

Among the applications approved were a duplex apartment at Oceana; a duplex apartment at 76th street and Atlantic avenue; two duplex apartments at 12th St. and Shore Drive, East Ocean View; a service station on Route 58 at Oceana, and a church at Meadowbrook Farms.

The board rescinded action taken a month ago when it refuse a trailer court on the military highway near the intersection of Route 58 after Adams said that the board had reviewed the case and heard evidence that it did not have previously.

An application for a drive-in restaurant on the military highway near the Indian River road which the planning commission recommended against because the area is sold for residential purposes only, was referred back to the planning commission in order that the owner might make application for rezoning of the area.

Soldier and Pet Lion Used for Movie Plot

MGM has taken a picture story which appeared in Life Magazine not long ago—concerning a young soldier and his pet lion which followed him to camp—and turned the events into one of the most delightful comedies in many months, a natural for ingenious exploitation and possessing what would seem to be wide appeal for all age and economic groups.

Its stars are Janet Leigh, who plays, quite naturally, a beautiful MGM actress; Carleton Carpenter, the janky soldier and master of the lion; Keenan Wynn, a top sergeant about to lose his mind, and, of course, Fearless Fagan, who plays himself in a variety of moods with the poise of a veteran performer.

The story opens with Carpenter joining the Army, accompanied by Fagan whom he has raised since the beast was four days old. Fagan, whom his master described at one point as being "so dumb he doesn't even know he's a lion," is hidden on the base successfully until Miss Leigh, a visiting actress, stumbles across his hideout. From there, the story moves quickly through a series of crises in which the well-meaning Army tries to find a home for the lion while the latter thoroughly upsets Army routine.

Peyton Named Virginia Cancer Society Treasurer

F. Bradley Peyton III of Charlottesville has been appointed treasurer of Virginia Division, American Cancer Society, Inc., according to an announcement issued by Mrs. Powell Chase of Lynchburg, president of the Division. He succeeds Llewellyn Miller who resigned as treasurer September 15 to accept the full-time position of executive vice-president of the Virginia Division.

In 1942, Peyton joined the Army Air Force and served with the 15th Air Force in the African and Italian campaigns. He has 51 combat missions credited to his war record. He holds the Air Medal with nine clusters; the Distinguished Flying Cross with one cluster and the Presidential Unit Citation."

General Motors appointed Peyton distributor for Pontiac and Cadillac in Albemarle County in 1940 when he returned to Charlottesville. His civic activities include volunteer work with the Community Chest, the American Red Cross, and the American Cancer Society. He is a member of Christ Episcopal Church and is president of the Charlottesville Automobile and Truck Dealers Association.

Health, Welfare Group Meets

The Health and Welfare committee with Miss Lillian M. Ashley, chairman of health, and Mrs. Rosaline Simpson, chairman of welfare, of the Princess Anne Woman's Club, held a meeting October 22, at the welfare office in Princess Anne County.

A project of better health and welfare of the community is being planned and will be presented to the club at the November meeting.

Some of the club members interested in this project are Mrs. F. S. Perkins, president; Mrs. Ronald Kellam, vice-president; Mrs. H. A. Roll, Mrs. Walter L. Taylor, Mrs. R. W. Ashworth, Mrs. R. L. Kennett, Mrs. George Manson, Mrs. Ada Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Brady, Mrs. Andrew Moore, Mrs. A. L. Taylor, Mrs. S. F. Trant Jr, Mrs. Joseph LaGiglia

Naval Air Reserve Inspection to be Attended by Battle

Twenty-one residents of Virginia Beach will stand inspection at the Naval Air Reserve Training unit at Norfolk in the sixth annual military inspection November 1, according to Capt. A. O. Preill commanding officer of NARTU. Rear Adm. Lucian A. Moebus, chief of naval air reserve training, and Brig. Gen. Frank H. Lamson-Scribner, commander of Marine air reserve training, will inspect the local naval reserve members, with other personnel attached to units of the naval air reserve in the Fifth Naval District.

Governor Battle to Speak

Hon. John S. Battle will be the chief speaker of the evening, introduced to the reservists and their guests by Captain Preill. The governor and Mrs. Battle will be entertained at a dinner at the Officers' Club at the Naval Operating Base by the commander, naval air reserve training; commander, Marine air reserve training; chief of naval air training; and deputy, chief of naval operations, (air), at 6 o'clock Saturday, prior to the inspection.

Sixth Annual Inspection

The inspection will mark the sixth annual military inspection conducted by the naval air reserve training command (with headquarters at Glenview, Ill.) since the reserve components were established in 1946. The NARTU is in competition with other reserve units throughout the nation for three trophies—awarded for the most outstanding fighter squadron, anti-submarine squadron, and service unit.

Those in this area participating in the inspection are Lester E. Copeland, George M. McKenzie, Paul D. Vestal, Alfred M. Randolph, Oliver E. Sabatke, Francis E. Holmes, Dewey S. Milligan, Clarke Birdsall, William I. Foster, William H. Kendell, W. C. Thompson Jr., W. I. Guilliford, D. C. Little, J. N. Bell Jr., Paul L. Wheeler Jr., W. J. Cartwright, Neil M Collier, William H. McCall, Julian S. McDaniels Jr., Miss [illegible] Robert P. Trinkle.

PUERTO RICAN CASUALTIES . . . Organized confusion prevails outside battalion aid station as casualties among Puerto Rican troops stream back after U. N. forces had been driven from heavy tank to force by heavy and accurate Communist artillery and mortar fire.

New Telephone Rates in Effect

Telephone bills received by the Virginia Beach subscribers this week will reflect the new rates approved by the State Corporation Commission on October 7, according to O. O. Ashworth, Jr., manager of the local telephone office. The rates went into effect for new subscribers and transfers whose services were installed on October 10 or thereafter. They became effective October 19 for services and equipment which were installed prior to October 10 and were not changed between that time and the billing date.

As indicated in previous articles on the subject the major increases involve a 25c per month adjustment in the rates [illegible] dent service and a 50c adjustment in the monthly rental on business telephones. Other adjustments include increases in exchange line mileage charges in the amount of 25c per half mile on individual lines, 15c per half mile on two party lines and 10c per half mile on four-party service.

Also included in the new rate schedules is the introduction of zone mileage charges for rural telephone service. These zones are set up in 2-mile intervals based on the subscriber's airline distance from the nearest point on the Virginia Beach or Oceana rate areas, depending upon which is closer to the location of the service. The first zone, which covers subscribers who are up to two miles from the nearest rate area, carries no mileage charge. The second zone (2-4 miles) carries a mileage charge of 50c per month, while zone three (4-6 miles) involves an additional charge of $1 per month.

The purpose of zone mileage charges is to bring the rates for rural service more nearly in line with the rates applying to other telephone customers, the basis for such mileage charges rests on the fact that telephone service becomes more valuable, as well as more expensive to provide, in direct proportion to the subscriber's distance from the community that supplies the service.

Of the 356 subscribers to rural service in the Virginia Beach exchange, 254 fall in the first zone and are not affected by the new mileage rate. 75 fall in zone 2 and 26 in zone 3. Zones 4 and 5, which are applicable to telephone service provided at points more than six miles from the nearest rate area, do not affect Virginia Beach subscribers.

Churchland Takes Blue Devils by 31 to 6 Score

Churchland's powerful Trackers gave a brilliant display of ball handling and defensive play last Friday night that spelled defeat for the Kempsville Blue Devils. The score was 34 to 6.

The Churchland wrecking crew was led by Quarterback Rube Walton, who passed and ran the Blue Devils silly all night. It was the sixth consecutive triumph for Churchland this year in their bid for the Eastern District Group Two football championship.

Walton personally passed for two touchdowns and scored once himself. Jimmy Sly was the winner's top ground gainer for the evening. Sly scored twice.

The Blue Devils scored their only marker late in the second period on a 50-yard sustained drive. Star George Sunderland led the drive which was climaxed by Stevenson's one yard stab through the line.

VPI STUDENTS WIN HIGH PLACINGS IN CONTESTS

Close to top placings were won by VPI student judges of dairy products at the Southern Collegiate Airy Product Judging Contest in Nashville, Tenn. The VPI team placed second in judging milk and fifth in judging all dairy products.

Less than half the sugar consumed in the United States goes directly into the kitchen. Nearly 60 per cent is sold to food manufacturers.

The balance of the Telephone Company's rate adjustment is absorbed by higher connection and move charges and by increases averaging 5c each on certain types of key equipment, such as pick-up and holding features. There is also a 75c adjustment on PBX trunk lines and an increase ranging from $1 to $1.25 per month on key boxes.

Chesapeake Beach Club Works To Get Voters Out Election Day

With big plans going on at Chesapeake Beach there should be no excuse for anyone not going to the polls on November 4. The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach is organizing a "Get Out to Vote campaign. Cooperating in this undertaking are the residents of the beach, and newly-organized Girl Scout Senior Troop 236.

Mrs. W. J. Slade Jr., citizenship and public affairs chairman, is in charge of all arrangements. Helping her will be Mrs. L. L. Dillon Mrs. E. A. Hudson, Mrs. H. V. Reynolds Jr. Mrs. A. P. Rohrer, Mrs. J. R. Bryant, Mrs. C. O. Faison, Mrs. T. J. Austin Mrs. R. J. Vellines, Mrs. W. B. Hopkins, Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. R. K. Irving, Mrs. T. B. Petty, Mrs. H. W. Pulford. Each member will call at least ten people and make arrangements for transportation for any who do not have a means of going to the polls.

The officers of the Girl Scout Senior Troop have made arrangements to be baby sitters at the Chesapeake Beach Community House from 2 to 6 p. m., so mothers may leave their small children while they go to the polls and vote. The Scouts have planned games, story telling, etc., for the children. There will be no charge for this service. The following Girl Scouts will participate: Misses Jane Parker Anna Bland Faison, Rose Marie Hampton, Kay Causey Susan Harrell annd Betty Faison.

Welfare Project

Eleven Woman's Club members under direction of Mrs. T. B. Petty, welfare chairman, have collected $116.36 for the Children's Home Society of Virginia. This far exceeds the total collected in previous years.

Woman's Club members, under leadership of Mrs. Petty, are now working hard on the present 1952 Community Chest Drive. Participating are Mrs. L. L. Dillon Mrs. E. A. Hudson, Mrs. E. L. Valentine, Mrs. L. E. Lethgston, Mrs. J. Ramey, Mrs. H. W. Pulford, Mrs. R. Webbon, Mrs. B. V. Reynolds Jr., Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. Frederick Reider, Mrs. P. J. Buckley, Mrs. J. W. Rolleston, Mrs. J. H. Hudson, Mrs. W. E. Downs and Mrs. O. L. Harmon.

Girl Scout Honor

Miss Anna Bland Faison from Senior Girl Scout Troop 236 at Chesapeake Beach has represented her troop at one of the 40th Anniversary celebrations of Girl Scouts in America, at Camp Rockwood, Md., according to Miss Jean Baldwin, Princess Anne District director of Girl Scouts. Miss Faison took a piece of wood known as a "totem" from the summer camp fire at "Matoaka" and placed it on the camp fire at Camp Rockwood. Following the Girl Scout activities, Miss Faison went on a sightseeing tour in Washington.

What ever became of the clothesline, Mom?"

Mother demonstrates how easy it is to transfer clothes directly from washer to dryer . . . instead of from washer to basket to clothesline!

"You save time with an electric clothes dryer," says Mom, "because clothes dry faster, can be ironed, folded and put away without delay."

Mother explains how the family can get along with fewer clothes and linens, because with an electric clothes dryer they can be washed, dried and ironed the same day!

DID YOU-KNOW with an electric clothes dryer you can:

Save space, because no clothes-lines are needed in yard, utility room or basement; colors stay bright because they're not exposed to the sun. Dry blankets fluffy by placing in dryer with several turkish towels which act as "buffers" and absorb excess moisture.

"The electric clothes dryer is my automatic 'clothesline,' Judy! No more lugging heavy baskets of wet wash outdoors, or of hanging them in the basement on bad days!"

"All I have to do is put the clothes in and turn the switch . . . they come out either damp and ready for ironing, or completely dry ready for folding and putting away. Lots of things don't need ironing at all when they come from the electric dryer, because they're not as wrinkled as usual. It's wonderful, the work and trouble my electric dryer saves!"

GARDEN GAB

While working in the garden recently we noticed tiny white flies hovering around our gardenia bushes, so got out the black-leaf-forty and sprayed at noon of a dry day. We repeated this spray within a few days to kill any newly hatched eggs, and apparently we have gotten rid of the fly. If you should try this, and don't get results, try it using two teaspoons to a gallon of water with soap jelly added. Be sure to repeat soon.

Gardenias are often attacked by scale and a black fungus that we call sooty mildew. Other broad leaved evergreens may have this trouble. Sucking insects take so much of the plant's juices it becomes depleted and this fungus gains a foothold on the surface of the leaves. This may spread until the skin of the leaves is covered and breathing through the pores is prevented. The plant will slowly smother to death.

The scale and the mildew spores may be killed at the same time by using an emulsion of crankcase oil with a teaspoonful of permanganate of potash to each gallon. The emulsion, made with a rotary beater, will kill the scale, but it is necessary to add permanganate of potash to remove the sooty mildew.

To make the emulsion, mix one quart of oil from the car with four ounces of yellow laundry soap and one pint of water. Bring to a boil until scum begins to appear, then let it boil a few minutes until the scum begins to disappear. Remove from the stove and beat with an egg-beater until creamy and thick. To each cup add two gallons of water. To each gallon of emulsion add one teaspoonful of permanganate. Spray until every part of the plant is well covered. Next day wash off the oil with clear water. Repeat this in a week if necessary.

The worst-infected leaves should be cut and burned before spraying. Also those already dropped around the plant should be taken up and burned to prevent re-infection.

We hope you have seen the work that is under way towards the beautification of North Atlantic Avenue. This is a big undertaking that your Council of Garden Clubs is counting on you to support. Won't we enjoy the drive when the planting is finished?

It's Not HOW — But IF You

In The Feminine Whirl At the Beach

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Woman's Editor

("Woman's World," 9-9:30 A.M., Monday-thru-Saturday, and "Repeat Performance," Tuesday and Thursday at 6:45 P.M. over WTAR, feature Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, homemaking, garden and civic events.)

Today's separates—blouses and skirts as combinations—are becoming more popular each season! Women love to have a colorful blouse wardrobe so they can combine different looking outfits any time they are needed.

Years ago, when women first wanted the vote, the "blouse look" was rather severe and lacked that lovely feminine appearance and the charm of the new blouses today. Their attitudes have changed toward blouses and skirts today and have become of more softness and less severity.

By investing in several different looking blouses, in various colors and fabrics, a fine belt and an attractive pair of skirts—possibly a plain wool, gabardine, corduroy or wool jersey, and a pleated or velvet skirt—you have the makings of some attractive duets.

Women today have several pet peeves about blouses. Their biggest objection seems to be that they are too sparsely cut. They "ride up." So, now blouse designers and makers are seeing to it that the tailored blouses, in particular, are being made almost two inches longer to take care of that problem.

Women also want blouses that are easy to care for. They prefer them in white, with blue and yellow running close second and third choice.

Judy Bond has designed some lovely nylon tricot trimmed with frothy ruffles blouses that are loves. Ship 'n Shore blouses are exciting designs for any hour of the day to wear with new fall suits.

Fashion Flashes: One of Mrs. Truman's favorite hats is the robin's egg blue felt tiny affair she wore on her smart gray poodle cut at a United Nations' Day annual reception at Washington's Sulgrave Club. Margaret Truman wore a low-cut short evening frock of blue and silver brocade when she read the United Nations [illegible] at the [illegible] Day ball at the Statler last Thursday. Most skirts, in the Paris selections look a little longer because of the new elongated look. Many are actually longer, too! The Paris hat that catches the hair to the back and conceals it seems to have "caught on" here in America already! The hats of the best Paris milliners are turbans, helmets and coifs! Mr. Kent, milliner to gentlewomen (as he puts it on his card) presented a hat show at Washington's Shoreham last Sunday afternoon and with one exception every hat was a decided profile, manipulated fabric job with the tilt almost covering one ear. So that's how far you can go with this tippy-tilt business!

While Christian Dior likes the stiff fabrics, Jacques Fath, who has much of the draped - look at the neckline this season, has hardly a stiff day fabric in his entire collection. So, you're still in good style whether you prefer the soft or stiffer fabrics! Those new Paris tweeds are truly something. Beautiful shallow - water pebbles with surfaces, broken here and there, with a pebble of a strange shade. To feel in your hand the Paris pebbly tweeds seems like feeling feathers in the hand, they are that lightweight. Heavy wool fringe outlining a coat hem, in a suit, or a shawl-like collar, is a smart new trim idea! So many of the smarter suits have the little tuck-in scarves at the neck, some with longer attached scarves that may be worn tucked in or swinging loose out over the coat!

In Mexico, in 1535, Cortes established the first sugar mill on the North American continent.

People, Places, Stuff & Things

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, former First Lady, celebrated her 80th birthday a week ago by dining gaily at New York's swank Colony Club with that dashing gentleman of the Old School and honored "Elder Statesman," Bernard Baruch. No marking the day sitting quietly by the fire and knitting! She doesn't knit, although she does work loom tapestry. She is still handsomely dressed. She used to be quite a fashion plate at the White House —what with stunning turquoise blue velvet suits trimmed with sable, huge plumed hats, and always dripping with orchids, her favorite bloom.

Which reminds me of the breath - takingly lovely fifth annual international orchid show held over the past weekend in Washington's American and Security Trust Company, with more than 110 exhibitors from all sections of the United States and many foreign countries participating. One show you simply couldn't attempt to describe, it was so unbelievably beautiful, and thousands of Washingtonians and visitors turning out to feast their eyes.

Mrs. Alben Barkley's younger daughter, Jane Hadley, chose the University of Wisconsin this fall because she likes cold weather. The 17 - year - old stepdaughter of the vice-president, who graduated from Holton Arms last June, has matriculated in a Liberal Arts course at Madison and is planning lots of winter sports.

Jinx Falkenburg McCrary, famous television, radio and screen star, as well as Herald - Tribune columnist, has just been installed in the Beta Sigma Phi as an international honorary member. Your Alabas can never forget how Jinx traveled 60,000 miles to bring relaxation and laughter to American boys in the armed services in Europe, and in the remotest sections of China, India and Burma. Jinx is truly the "American Girl" and deserves it so.

Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States, recently made the statement that "women haven't left their homes to invade politics; politics has invaded their homes. Give yourself five minutes and you can think of dozens of examples of how political events have affected the family budget, the children's education, the way your family lives, even whether the family is able to stay together," she pointed out at a Woman's Club meeting in the District of Columbia. "The vote is the means by which a citizen controls his government and if we refuse to perform this action we are, in effect, telling the world that it's no concern of ours whether this democracy thrives or perishes," Mrs. Clark stressed as she also pointed out that today, as always, the major concern of most women is for the welfare of their families.

So, don't forget that the right, and obligation, to vote is the foundation stone of democracy, and get out and vote next Tuesday!

Until the 18th century, sugar was considered a luxury item and a medicine. Queen Elizabeth of England was first to introduce sugar into her domestic household as an article of diet.

The MIXING BOWL

By LUCILE CLARK

Food Editor

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

In honor of the countless ghosts and goblins which will be setting forth tomorrow, let's have a Black Magic Supper.

Really, even after Hallowe'en, you'll find a Frankfurter Pie a mighty good supper. Frankfurter Pie is one to please the family appetites as well as the budget. Then there is that all-important food value—the needed vitamins, proteins and minerals. This pie contains meat, vegetables and bread, so you've practically a meal in one. With it have a tossed salad, hard rolls and warm squares of gingerbread topped with pineapple whipped cream.

Hallowe'en Pie

- 3 tablespoons bacon fat, butter or margarine
- 1 pound sliced frankfurters
- 1-2 cup chopped onion
- 1-2 cup chopped green pepper
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 No. 2 1-2 size can tomatoes
- 1 cup kidney beans
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Melt bacon fat, butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Add frankfurters, onion and green peppers and brown lightly. Blend in flour and salt, add tomatoes, stir and cook until it thickens. Add kidney beans and mustard, and blend well. Pour into baking pan and top with Gold Flecked Pastry. Make lattice pastry, or better still, make a pumpkin face in center of pie. Bake in moderately hot oven about 35 minutes (400 degrees).

Gold Flecked Pastry

- 1 1-2 cups flour
- 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 1-2 cup shortening
- 1 cup shredded American cheese
- About 3 tablespoons cold water

Sift flour and salt together, cut in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add cheese, mix lightly. Sprinkle with water and mix until dough "sticks" together. Press this ball on well floured board, roll out and top your Frankfurter Pie.

For your gingerbread squares, here's a recipe that's very good, and easy too:

- 1-2 cup brown sugar
- 1-2 cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 1 cup molasses
- 2 1-2 cups flour
- 1 1-2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1-2 teaspoon allspice
- 1-3 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup hot water

Cream sugar and shortening until light and fluffy, add egg and beat thoroughly. Add molasses and mix well; add dry ingredients (flour, soda, spices and salt), stir in well and add hot water gradually. Then beat batter until smooth and free from lumps. Turn batter into shallow, well-greased pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 35 minutes.

For the pineapple whipped cream, just blend into 1-2 pint whipped cream 1 small can of crushed pineapple that has been drained well. You'll find this a wonderful topping for your gingerbread. I'm sure you'll like it.

Bye now. See you next Thursday.

Seventy-five time more sugar is produced than any other pure organic chemical.

HINTS FOR A HAPPY HOME

Aluminum pots and pans stain easily, but stains can be removed easily. Cook an acid food, such as tomatoes, in the pan. Or boil a solution of two tablespoons of vinegar or cream of tartar to a quart of water in the pan to get rid of the stain.

Soap and water usually are enough to clean aluminum, but stubborn spots may need the help of impregnated steel wool.

To prevent aluminum from pitting, empty pots and pans immediately after you use them. The little holes are caused by strong salt water or moist food that is left standing.

When you fry chicken liver, it sometimes pops and spatters fat. Add the floured liver for the last 15 minutes of cooking. Tuck it under the curve of a large piece of chicken, then, if the fat spatters, there's no danger of getting burned or of messing up the kitchen.

Freezing does not improve meat. What you take from the freezer is no better than what you put in. A good freezer wrap is moisture proof, grease proof, odorless. It shapes to the contour of the meat, is pliable at freezing temperature, and allows little transfer of air. The wrap should be one that you can mark for easy identification.

The first written record of sugar is made in the Old Testament, Book of Ezekiel.

[illegible] Hunting [illegible] Sales [illegible] Yearly

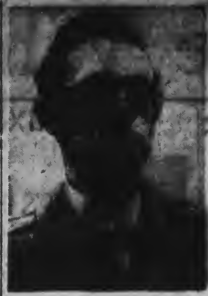

[illegible]

In the fiscal year ending June 30, a total of [illegible] hunters were issued entitling the holders to hunt, and [illegible] licenses entitling the holders to fish in the inland waters of the State. This is a total of [illegible] licenses issued, as contrasted with [illegible] the previous year. The increase has been at approximately the same rate for the past five years.

Sales of licenses by no means represent the total numbers of persons who are hunting and fishing every year. In this state, no license is required either to hunt or to fish on one's own property, and there are thousands who engage in salt-water fishing for which no license is required. The hunting and fishing urge is undoubtedly growing more pronounced every year.

Realizing its grave responsibility in keeping game and fish supplies apace with the growing demand, first consideration has been given to building up a strong organization of businesslike personnel to conduct wildlife management with maximum efficiency and intelligence.

QUEEN'S CHAMPION . . . Tradition says champion must ride in coronation armed to challenge anyone disputing monarch's title. Here is Capt. John Dymoke, champion of Elizabeth II in coming English coronation.

Roadside Trash Dumping Scored

Despite legislation which makes it illegal, many persons are continuing to dump trash and other debris along Virginia's roads, a spokesman for the State Highway Department has noted.

He pointed out that rubbish, garbage and other debris dumped along the state's highways not only cause unnecessary maintenance expense and detract from the appearance of roadsides, but also create problems of health and sanitation.

H. J. Neale, landscape engineer for the department, stated that only a few counties have set up public dumps, and he urged that others take steps to follow suit. He called attention to the fact that the Highway Department is cooperating with some of the counties in helping to maintain the dumping areas.

An act of the 1950 General Assembly makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or jail sentence, or both, to dump anything on the right-of-way of any State highway or on private property in sight of the highway without written permission of the owner. This law was reinforced by the legislature in 1952.

Mooring Facility Asked For Long Creek

An Army Department permit has been requested by J. P. Poole, Lynnhaven, to construct a mooring facility for small boats in Long Creek, Princess Anne County.

The proposed facility would consist of an open pile apron wharf 95 feet long and 3 feet wide, to be constructed parallel to and along the north shore, four finger piers 10 feet long to project channelward from the wharf at an angle of 65 degrees, and the placement of 13 mooring piles offshore a distance of 35 feet from the face of the wharf.

Columbus introduced sugar cane culture to the Americas.

Treasury Head Makes Awards

The Hon. John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, presented awards to several naval activities [illegible] morning for outstanding participation by naval civilian employees in the Defense Bond payroll savings plan. Foremost award was presented to the Norfolk naval shipyard in Portsmouth, which has maintained a record unequalled in either military or civilian industry of more than 90 per cent enrollment in the program since May, 1949. On October 1, 1952, 99.5 per cent of the shipyard employees were investing part of their weekly pay in U. S. Defense Bonds.

The Navy leads all agencies of the federal government in payroll savings, with the Fifth Naval District leading all naval districts within the continental United States in percentage of employees enrolled as payroll savers.

Special Minute Man plaques were presented to Rear Adm. T. B. Brittain, USN, acting commandant, Fifth Naval District; to Rear Adm. D. H. Clark, commanding officer of the Norfolk naval shipyard; and Rear Adm. J. E. Wood, SC, USN, commanding officer, naval supply center, where 97 per cent of the employees are participating.

Minute Man flags went to Capt. C. C. Hoffner, USN, commanding officer, naval amphibious base, for a gain of 4.3 per cent since August, and to Comdr. W. C. Taylor, USN, commanding officer, naval ammunition depot, St. Julien's Creek, for a gain of 1.8 per cent since August.

Volume of GI Home Loans Up

More than 28,000 veterans received GI 4 per cent home loans from private lenders during September, the highest volume since December, '51, Veterans Administration announced.

Despite a general tightening up of the mortgage market, an average of 25,000 veterans a month obtained GI home financing during the first six months of 1952, VA said.

A low of 22,[illegible] home loan applications was received during May, 1952. Since that time, the volume of GI home loan applications has been increasing steadily. During September, VA received 28,[illegible] home loan guaranty applications from private lenders or lending institutions.

Although the national monthly total of GI loan applications is substantial, VA said that geographically the market is out of balance. Some areas in the nation have an adequate supply of 4 per cent GI loan money while other areas have little or none at all.

This geographical unevenness is not unique in the GI loan field, VA pointed out, but has always been a general characteristic of the over-all mortgage market.

The recent renewal of the mortgage purchase program of the Federal National Mortgage Association—a Government corporation which buys GI loans from private lenders—will help to bolster the GI loan money supply in many communities, particularly where the supply of private capital is low, VA said. Early in September, FNMA made available 400 million for over-the-counter purchase of GI and FHA loans in non-defense areas.

BY-PRODUCTS CAN BE TURNED INTO MILK

Some low-value farm by-products can be an aid to the dairy farmer. R. G. Connelly, dairy [illegible] at VPI, advises farmers to "consider the possible use of some of the left-overs from our autumn harvests."

Small cull apples can be fed to dairy cows. In tests at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, cattle ate 30 pounds of apples daily, with good hay and grain [illegible]. One pound of dry matter in the apples was almost equal to one pound of dry matter in corn silage, and slightly better than one pound of dry matter in hay, as feed for dairy cows. Hence, apples are worth about 60 per cent as much as corn silage as feed.

PEANUT GROWING [illegible] BY [illegible]

Better equipment and methods used in producing, curing, and harvesting peanuts is the aim of research under way at the [illegible] branch of VPI Agricultural Experiment Station and on farms in that area.

In charge of the program which is getting into full swing is G. B. Duke, graduate of the University of Georgia, who has had 15 years experience in machinery design for a farm implement company and in teaching and research.

THE CASE FOR IKE

Indianapolis Star

The future of American liberty will be in strong and sure hands

Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette

. . . Eisenhower appears to us the one man who can lead us out of the slough of despair to a new era of sounder economy. That we have is decayed at its very [illegible].

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

. . . Gen. Eisenhower's simple creed is that "I have no end to serve but the good of the United States." What better platform could any Presidential candidate have?

Kansas City Star

. . . the Eisenhower combines qualities that are found in no other aspirant of either party.

St. Louis Globe Democrat

. . . The general's nomination and election are an imperative "must"

IKE means efficiency—

Here is a man whose special aptness for the Presidency reminds us of a fact true throughout American history. This job has always demanded wider experience and training than could be obtained solely in the legislative branch of Washington. A bitter though reminder of this truth is simply the present chaotic administration—under a President of impressive Senatorial experience!

IKE for Steadiness of Purpose—

Here is a man who could never — through plain ignorance of world affairs — be either frightened into concessions to Communist blackmail or panicked into rash acts capable of igniting war.

IKE'S is the traditional American faith—

Here is a man, in short, who, for all his world experience, shows his richest wisdom in his knowledge of the American people and the abiding principles they have ever cherished—most fervently when they have been in most danger.

IKE for Savvy—

Here is a man whose KNOWLEDGE of the world [illegible] wisdom in defending the PEACE of the world.

SENATOR HARRY BYRD:

"I will not, and cannot, in good conscience, endorse the national Democratic platform or the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. Endorsement means to recommend, and this I cannot do."

New York Times

IKE'S is the traditional American life—

Here is a man whose life has especially equipped him to lead the American people toward full faith in themselves. Born 61 years ago in the small Texas town of Denison, the third of six boys, he grew up in a little white-frame house on the wrong side of the railroad tracks in the town of Abilene, Kansas. Through grammar school and high school he had to work as well as study, and his family had no money for his college education. His entry into West Point started him on a career that was to carry him to world responsibility and world renown — yet leave him more passionately than ever dedicated to the simple, unshakable principles of freedom and individual responsibility by which his own life has been lived.

New York Herald Tribune

-General Eisenhower's qualifications for the Presidency are unique

Washington Post

The American people want a thoroughgoing sweep, not just a swap of professional politicians in the executive seats. They want a house cleaning but they want brand new leadership and the best available for fulfilling our role as world leader. How otherwise explain the remarkable support for Eisenhower throughout the country.

Chicago Sun-Times

. . . Dwight D. Eisenhower should be the next President of the United States . . . Eisenhower is the symbol of U.S. determination to defend Western civilization against the forces of Communism

Walter Lippman

. . . If the Republican Party, being a minority, is to come into power with the least struggle, with the greatest certainty, and with the surest prospect of being able to govern successfully with national support, Eisenhower with his great majority (of popular support) is incomparably the best candidate.

IKE can bring real economy—

Here is a man who can do more than promise and prate about economy — he knows how to achieve it. For at a time when $60 billion out of a total budget of $90 billion is being spent by the Department of Defense — who can ENFORCE real economy except someone who knows enough to tell the generals exactly where they MUST and CAN save money?

IKE can talk back to the military—

Here is a man who has won the support of more than a few Congressmen for just this reason — that he is especially qualified to talk back to the men of the Pentagon. And these are the men who spend two out of every three of the government's dollars.

IKE for Practical Peace Making—

Here, then, is a man who can be an effective architect of peace because he knows so well the raw materials of power politics.

IKE means experience—

Here is a man whose administrative experience will enable him to work efficiently with problems that would overwhelm one to whom foreign and military matters were utterly strange.

FREIGHT DOLLAR STILL WORTH 70c

[illegible] the dollar we knew in [illegible] is worth only [illegible] cents to [illegible] today it will still buy 70 cents worth of railroad freight service, according to figures released by the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference.

Actually, freight rates have increased 43 per cent as against a 87 per cent increase in the cost of living, which reached an all-time high on August 15.

When it comes to buying food, the figures show the 1939 dollar is now worth only 41 cents. It is worth 56 cents buying furniture or clothing.

And it will buy 41 cents worth of pork, 34 cents worth of lamb, 29 cents worth of fish, 46 cents worth of dairy products, 54 cents worth of eggs, 34 cents worth of fruit and fresh vegetables, 26 cents worth of potatoes, 21 cents worth of apples, 27 cents worth of coffee and 50 cents worth of sugar.

SOUTHEASTERN GAME AND FISH COMMISSIONERS MEET

The sixth annual convention of the Game and Fish Commissioners of the Southeastern states is being held in Savannah, Ga., October 20-22, reports I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

The Virginia Game Commission is being represented at the convention by I. T. Quinn, executive director; Chester Phelps, chief of the game division, and several of the game and fish technicians.

BLASTING PROVIDES OPEN WATERFOWL WATERS

In an effort to improve waterfowl conditions in Piedmont, Va., the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries recently completed the blasting of five "potholes" in a Cumberland County swamp.

Ned Thornton, assistant chief of the Commission's game division, reports that although this method of providing water for attracting waterfowl is not new, it has had limited usage in Virginia. He says waterfowl food in the area is relatively abundant, but open water is limited.

Pittsylvania Builds Public Fish Pond

Construction has started on a public fish pond in Pittsylvania County and all is ready for work to start on the Halifax pond as soon as the deeds are delivered. This will bring up to date the only item in the long-range program of 1948 which has not been abundantly carried out.

It was planned that a limit of five ponds would be built, one each year, in areas where the people were limited in fishing opportunities because of lack of suitable fishing water. The first of these ponds was constructed in Mecklenburg and has been a boon to the residents of that section. The work on other ponds has been held up because of scarcities of material and excessive costs.

Most of the pond sites under consideration have been in the southern counties where there have been few impoundments and the waters of the streams tend to be constantly filled with silt. Sole consideration in the placing of these ponds has been providing fishing water where it was needed most.

DON'T USE ASPIRIN TO PRESERVE FOODS

Using aspirin to preserve foods is not recommended—in fact it may be downright dangerous, according to Dr. Lyle Davis, food processor for the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Davis says the rulings of the Food and Drug Administration which prohibit the use of aspirin in processed fruits and vegetables, have a good reason behind them. The administration says aspirin is not necessary to preserve fruits and vegetables and may be toxic or have harmful effects in foods.

INCREASED POTATO PLANTING ADVISED

Increased plantings of both early and late potatoes in Virginia are advised by Dr. J. L. Maxton, agricultural economist at VPI. He says Virginia growers should increase early plantings by about 15 per cent to 28,000 acres. Increases should come principally in the cobbler, pungo, sebago and katahdin varieties. Late potatoes should be increased to about 16,000, and should consist mainly of kennebecs, sebagos, and cobblers.

Fish-Game Body Encourages Sporting Clubs

The Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries makes every effort to encourage the sportsmen's clubs of the state which normally renew their activities with the approach of the fall season. There are more than 160 of these organizations in Virginia and most of them are rendering useful service.

The game management agency recognizes the value of these organizations which are doing much in assisting with the programs designed to perpetuate and expand hunting and fishing opportunities for the years to come. While these organizations include only a minority of the licensed sportsmen in their memberships they are composed of the leaders of conservation thought in their communities.

An excellent library of motion picture films has been built up for free use by the clubs on request and speakers are furnished as a means of helping with the programs. A great deal of literature is made available to those who seek to become better informed on conservation practices. Many of the clubs are actively engaged in plantings of slips and seeds furnished free by the Commission, and these organizations are particularly helpful in disseminating information on the things the Commission is attempting to do.

Most petitions which carry weight when they come before the Commission are presented by the sportsmen's groups. In like manner, their protests from time to time furnish a means of bringing perplexing problems into open discussion and are helpful. The clubs and their spokesmen furnish ideal means of determining the thinking of the citizens back home.

When the long-range wildlife program was adopted in 1948 and widely publicized, an especial objective was that all license buyers might be familiar with details of how their money is being spent. Taking the public completely into confidence, it was intended that policies embodied in that program might be thoroughly tested and if any proved impractical, they might be abandoned. After four years of trial, no basic policy has been dropped. Activities, on the contrary, have been intensified.

With full knowledge that employed personnel of the state agency can not do everything that is to be done alone, there is a continuing plea to all citizens to help where they are able to help. The assistance of the organized sportsmen's groups is of particular value in this regard.

In soliciting the aid of the sportsmen's organizations of the state the Commission is seeking to help in every way possible in strengthening these organizations in order that they may play an even more important part in improving and perpetuating the hunting and fishing opportunities for everybody.

Sweeney's on his way to the Senate!

If Sweeney — or Jones or Dobrowski — wants to hold public office in the United States, he says so. He files his candidacy, tells his story, and leaves it up to the people. He may not get the job, but then again he may — and nobody is going to stop him from trying.

We take things like this for granted, because this is the U. S. A. In some countries, the citizen who gets political ambitions may turn up with blacked eyes and broken arms — or not turn up at all. In some countries, force prohibits free expression of choice by the individual voter.

So long as the Sweeneys have the right to run for public office, and the people have the right to decide who they want as leaders, the United States will remain free and great. Anything that attempts to limit these rights, attempts to enslave you.

"The only way that government is kept pure is by keeping those channels open by which humble people rise to power, so that there will constantly be coming new blood into the veins of the body politic."
